DAIRY PROBLEM IS NOW SERIOUS THE FRYE

Milk and Butter Supplies Decrease in United States While Population Increases.

WASTES MUST BE STOPPED

Our Ailles Are Short Large Quantities and the Burden of Replenishment Must Fall on North America.

The food administration has issued the following statement on dairy con-

Milk and butter supplies are de-creasing in the United States, while our population is increasing. The dairy herds of Europe are diminish-ing rapidly because of the conditions created by war, and there is no probability of improvement in these condi-tions. The dairy problem in this coun-try, therefore, is not only a war emergency problem, but one that will con-tinue years after the war.

The world's dairy supplies are de-creasing rapidly for two important reasons. First, the dairy cattle of Europe are diminishing, for Europe is being driven to eat its cattle for meat; second, the diversion of labor to war has decreased the fodder supplies, and the shortage of shipping has limited the amount of imported fodder, and therefore the cattle which can be sup-ported and the productivity of the individual cow have been reduced. Even our own dairy supplies are not keeping pace with our growth of population, for our per capita milk supply has fallen from 90 to 75 gallons annually, in the past 15 years. Yet, today we must ship increasing amounts of dairy products to our allies.

Diverted to Germany.

The dairy supplies of the allies in normal times come to a considerable degree from western Scandinavia, Holland and Switzerland, but under German pressure these supplies are now partly diverted in Germany. The men under arms and the wounded must be supplied with condensed milk in large quantities. The net result of these conditions, despite rigorous reduction of consumption among the adults of the civil population in Europe, is that our allies are still short of large quan-titles and again the burden of the replacement of this shortage must fall on North America. The growing exports of dairy products from the United States to the allies are shown in the ollowing table:

Three year Year ending re-war average. ... 4,457,000 lbs. ... 3,780,000 lbs. 44,394,000 lbs.

The high price of fodder and meat in the United States during the past few months, induced by the pressing European demand, has set up danger ous currents in this country, especially in those regions dependent upon but-ter and the sale of milk to municipali-Won't He Look Grand!

Our home milk and butter supplies are therefore decreasing while our popand have given up their vacations to tell just such patriotic fibs.—Ex. ulation is increasing. This deficiency of dairy butter, is shown by the sales of margarine, which shows an increas of several million pounds per month over similar periods in 1915. Dairy butter, however, has qualities which render it vitally necessary for table use. > The dairy situation resolves itself into several phases. First, it is to be hoped that the forthcoming abundant harvest will result in lower prices of food and diminish the impetus to sell the cattle for meat. Second, the industry needs encouragement so as to increase the dairy herd and thus our dairy supplies, for the sake first of our own people and second of the ailies. The people must realize the vital dependence of the well-being of their chil- nition factory."-Indianapolis Star, dren, and thus of the nation, upon the encouragement and upbuilding of the industry. Third, we must save the wastes in milk and butter if we are to provide milk supplies to all, especially including the children of the crowded listricts of our cities.

ttractive Place Afforded for Larva to Spin Cocoons, and Prevents Escape of Insects-Wire Screen In Used.

A codling moth trap has been de ised by E. H. Siegler of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, to be used as a substi tute for what is known as the "band-ing" method for destroying the codling moth. The banding method, in which a folded strip of burlap is wrapped around the tree trunk, demands a con-siderable amount of labor, and the new trap is designed to minimize this.

The trap affords an attractive place for the larvae to spin their cocoor and it prevents the escape of the mothe after they emerge from these.

trap, which consists of a burlap band covered by a strip of wire screen, is made as follows:

Strips of burlap six inches wide are folded into three thicknesses. The loose bark from the lower branche and trunk of the tree is removed and a strip of this buriap folded once around the trunk. It is held in place by large tacks, which should be driven in in such a way that the edge projects about one-fourth of an inch beyond the burlap. The burlap is then covered by black-painted wire screen with 12 meshes to the inch. This is cut into strips six inches wide and the edges of each strip are folded twice, allowing one-fourth of an inch to each fold. The strip of screen should be long enough to allow for an overlap of thre to four inches when placed around the trunk of the tree. The wire screen is placed over the buriap band and tacked to the tree in such a way that both the prevent the wire pressing against the (among other things a trading post for

Fed Alone on Account of Lack of Starch and Sugar.

(By JOHN C. BURNS.) Skim milk, on the basis of its comosition, is of the class known as protein feeds. Being too deficient in starches and sugars (carbohyrates) as well as fat, it is not very valuable as a fat producer when fed alone. When combined with corn or some similar feed in the proper proportions the protein of the skim milk supplies the deficiency of the protein in the corn, while the carbohydrates of the corn supply that deficiency in the skim milk, the two feed stuffs thus forming a balanced ration. This means a ra tion which contains the nutrients in proportions to meet the needs of the animal body for its best development.
