Allegorical Representation of Young Girl's Impressions of First Soldiers From America.

Kathleen Norris gives an imaginary conversation with a young French girl describing the coming of the American soldiers to France as she is supposed to remember it:

"'And men—to stand beside our men -from America! I remember standing in the chateau gateway on a bright November afternoon and seeing them come up the road. Soldiers! We were used to soldlers! But these were different. Grandmere was with me, we had been here all the time,

They came along, in the stream ing afternoon sunlight, and they smiled and waved at me.

"" "They are the Americans!" Grandmere said, and she began to cry softly "God bless them-God bless them!" she whispered, over and over,

"And that night, as you know, we had their officers at the chateau and one of them told me he, also, had a daughter, not much younger than I, and that her name was Virginia-

Child that I was, I seemed to see behind those marching men the big and generous nation that was dedicat ing itself to their service, the women everywhere, with their sewing and cooking, saving and planning, their let ters and their prayers—all one in their work for an ideal beside which the comfort and the ease of this generation was as nothing!"-Woman's Home

REGARD COLD AS SERIOUS

Medical Authority Warns Against Con temptuous Attitude Too Often Taken by Those Afflicted.

The ultrawise citizen of male per suasion devotes part of the sweltry summer days to the unsympathetic task of selecting his winter overcoata wise and sometimes money-saving piece of foresight. Other perspiring ones are buying coal. In summer pre pare for winter. It is probably in this spirit that the very midsummer number of Boston Medical and Surgical cal Journal touches upon the Decem-bery subject of colds, and it is precisely in this spirit that we tran a few injunctions from the medical writing of Dr. D. C. Dennett in the Journal.

Treat colds early and carefully Colds are simply the first stages of pneumonia, tuberculosis and many other ailments. When you have i cold you are in the beginning of a serious disease, which may develop if you neglect it. In military camps the order is that colds be reported upon the appearance of first symptoms

Do not poke a cold with medicated cotton on a stick. Do not take aspirin except for pain. Do not spray a cold Do not take quinine and whisky, but treat a cold seriously because it is a serious disense. Consult a doctor.

What Old Glory Means.

When you hang out the colors spare minute to think of it-of the places It has been, of the things it means. It has given new hope to the proud and to the poor everywhere in this world. It is the symbol and the achievement of the two noblest human attributes-strength and compassion. It springs from the enduring good that is in the heart of humanity. It stands for the liberation of all men.

And it can never fall, it can never be humbled, because that motive lies feep in every human consciousness. as permanent, as sure, as inevitable as tears or laughter or hope or faith in Sod.—Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger.
