 Sam Haworth is employed in the mechanical department of the Davidson garage.
 Mrs. Dean Willaby has been substituting for her husband as mail carrier on the rural route.
 Dr. Hart has located in Athena to practice medicine. He has offices in the Barrett building.
 George Blomgren and his cousin, Ted Enberg, the latter just returned from service overseas, were in town from Weston Tuesday.

Mrs. Bert Piersol was down from her home on Weston Mountain, visiting Athens friends this week.
 Marshal Dobson has erected hitching racks on Current street, at the corner of Third, opposite the city hall.
 George Frail, representing Sturgis & Storie, delivered a new Holt caterpillar to E. A. Dudley, Wednesday.
 Mr. Gladheart, late of Roman, Montana, is working in the barber shop during the absence of Lloyd Richey.
 Mr. and Mrs. Orell McPherrin have taken up their residence in Weston, moving to that place several days ago.
 B. B. Richards drove over to the State Line Wednesday afternoon and purchased a quantity of baled alfalfa hay.

Several Athena devotees of the billiard game went over to Walla Walla Wednesday to see Hoppe, the internationally famous billiard expert, in an exhibition game.
 Attorney Will M. Peterson was in the city Wednesday from Pendleton, on legal business. Mr. Peterson has recently recovered from an illness of several weeks duration.
 Mrs. Casper Woodward drove to Walla Walla yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Gerking and children, Mrs. B. D. Tharp, Mrs. D. T. Stone and son, and Maxine Elliott.
 E. E. Edwards, brother-in-law of R. A. Thompson, is here from Heppner for the spring and summer and will assist Mr. Thompson in selling the Stephens Salient Six automobiles.
 Alva Pierce, for 20 years a farmer in the Juniper country, died at Cheney, Wash., Saturday, after a short illness, aged 72 years. He had been a resident of Cheney for the last 12 years.
 The first German iron cross to be seen in Athena is on exhibition at Stephens' Pure Food Grocery. It was sent to Mrs. Jane Carden by her son, Percy Wilson, who is in the Army of Occupation at Coblenz.
 Harry Keller, of the 118th F. A., sends a collection of interesting photographs of the huge guns of his battery in action. In a letter to a friend, Harry intimates that he is perfectly willing and ready to return home.
 Lieut. Glen Dudley is gradually accustoming himself to the pursuits of civil life and farm duties. He will operate a new Holt tractor, equipped with a battery of power-lift plows, as soon as weather conditions permit of plowing.
