Camouflaged Philosophy.

There's nothing like an automobile to facilitate the spending of one's money.

There is a growing conviction that some of the returned soldiers are not looking for work.

The war has proven that there is no reason why an American president should not see the world.

The fellow who doesn't worry about the weather has more time to devote to his other troubles.

Every ship which now reaches this side continues the glad news that the boys are coming home.

You can't fool all the people all the time, but the people fool themselves a great deal of the time.

The impression is getting abroad from Paris that the French do not like the Germans very well.

Americans play baseball along the Rhine while the Germans shoot each other in Berlin. The mirth of nations.

When the ex-kaiser gets tired of being referred to as the ex-kaiser he can have them call him the former kaiser.

One trouble in Germany is that there are so many persons who haven't anything to do except work at bolshevism.

In the meantime, every citizen must be an employment agency for any soldiers or sailors who happen to need work.

If all problems could be solved as easily as bills are drawn to solve them, wouldn't this be a grand era in which to live?

Those Berlin monarchists who are reported as ready "to grab the government" maybe are waiting until they can find it.

European reactionaries once sneered at America for "dollar chasing" and now sneer because America refuses to chase dollars.

The reign of terror, or restoration of law and order, as the case may be, no sooner ends in Prussia than it begins again.

Even conscientious objectors have not wholly escaped the horrors of war. Some of them have had their feelings hurt.

Professional opinions continue to differ as to whether Brest is the world's prize post-hole or one of the healthiest spots in Europe.

One reason there are so few old-fashioned girls running at large is that discerning men marry them as soon as detected.

Germany has declared garters to be a luxury, but they continue to be considered necessities in all allied countries except Scotland.

In the general distribution of war medals why should not there be one for the tired consumer who stayed home and paid the bills?

European art critics who insist that American sky-scrapers are beautiful have never been hung up between floors in a stalled elevator.

"Within five years," says a Philadelphia savant, "we will be eating artificial eggs." If that be true what will the hens do for a living?

His Janeiro reports 90,000 bags of coffee destroyed by fire—and a cup of coffee has been about the only thing we could get for a nickel, too.

It would be thoughtful of the army and navy to delay their demobilization until the public catches up with the war books already written.

The great cities of Europe are not encouraging visits from strangers. Any one who goes to Europe now is supposed to be strictly on business.

King Peter of Serbia also has enough of the old game and has wished his job on Prince Alexander. Kings never had so much trouble to stick together.

The drafted man who was not called now knows that, all statements to the contrary notwithstanding, he was not in the army or he would receive a $30 bonus.

Much has been said about the Yankee soldiers bringing French wives home, but nothing about the Yankee nurses bringing home French husbands.

VICTORY NOTES NOT TO LOWER IN PAR VALUE

New Issue Has Special Appeal to All Investors, Says Expert.

"Capitalists, as well as the small investor, may purchase the new Victory Loan notes with the fullest assurance that they will hold in the market close to the issue price," declared G. K. Weeks, Victory Loan campaign manager for the Twelfth District, today in calling attention to the strong appeal the Victory notes make to investors strictly from an investment standpoint. He continued:

"It has, of course, been a source of disappointment to subscribers for previous Liberty Loan issues that these issues have gone, even temporarily, to a discount of five or six points in the market.

"While this does not represent a real loss to those who have held their bonds for investment, it is reassuring to subscribers for Victory notes that no such discount is possible in the case of the present issue.

"Discount impossible."
"A decline of the Victory Loan notes of only one point, to 99 for example, would put them on an interest return of 5.03%. Even during the war, with the prospect of continued large issues, no Liberty Bonds have ever declined to any such basis. The Fourth Loan bonds today, as a matter of fact, are selling to yield less than the 4 3/4% paid by the Victory notes at par.

"A similar situation exists in the case of the series of 3 3/4% fully tax-exempt notes which are suitable for the larger investors. The first issue of the fully tax-exempt Liberty Bonds bearing 3 3/4% interest, in spite of all the liquidation during the war, are selling today to yield only 3.55%.

"Should the Victory Loan 3 3/4% notes decline to 99, this would be equivalent to a 4.03% return from its fully tax-exempt note, which would be equivalent to 91 for the Liberty Loan 3 3/4% which now are in active demand in the market at 99."
