The years have taught some sweet, some bitter lessons—none wiser than this: to spend in all things else, but of low friends to be most miserly.—Lowell.

UNUSUAL RECIPES USING COMMON MATERIALS.

The unusual in food appeals to one's taste provided it is attractive. Garnishing is one means of making ordinary food unusual. When serving a hard sauce for a hot pudding it may be placed on lemon slices, which keeps it from coming in contact with the hot dish and the bit of lemon adds zest to the pudding, especially if it is one of dates or figs.

Another Thousand Island Dressing.—Take one-half cupful of olive oil, the juice of half a lemon and half an orange, one teaspoonful of grated onion, one tablespoonful of parsley, finely chopped, eight sliced olives, eight sliced cooked chestnuts, one-fourth of a teaspoonful each of salt and paprika, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of mustard. Put all together in a pint fruit jar and shake until smooth and slightly thickened. Serve on head lettuce, cut in quarters, carefully washed and dried.

Golden Salad Dressing.—Take one-fourth of a cupful each of pineapple juice, and orange juice, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, two egg yolks, one-third of a cupful of sugar, and two egg whites. Mix the fruit juices and salt and heat in a double boiler. Beat the egg yolks until thick, add half of the sugar, then while beating constantly add the hot fruit juices, return to the boiler and cook, stirring until thick. Beat the whites of the eggs, adding the remaining sugar and combine with the mixture just before removing from the fire.

Ginger Ale Fruit Salad.—Take one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin, two tablespoonfuls of cold water and one-third of a cupful of boiling water, one cupful of ginger ale, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a pinch of salt, the juice of one lemon, one-half a cupful of white grapes, one-half cupful of diced apple, and one-half cupful each of diced celery and pineapple, one-fourth of a cupful of preserved ginger. Prepare as usual and turn into a ring mold. Fill the center with mayonnaise dressing to which one-fourth cupful or less of whipped cream has been added.

Why is it that all of the fashion magazines print pictures of costumes on the svelte and sprituelle of the female sex? Where do the corn-fed come in?

They call Madame Catherine Breshkovskaya, "Grandmother of the Russian Revolution." It must keep her broke buying birthday presents for the grandchildren.

NO ONE SUFFERED HERE.

The marvel of our voluntary food-saving, now that we are "getting results," is that no one ever actually suffered any hardship from it; that we all are better in health and spirit and better satisfied with ourselves because of our friendly self-denial.

Food control in America held the price of breadstuffs steady, prevented vicious speculation and extortion and preserved tranquillity at home.

In no other nation is there so willing a sense of voluntary self-sacrifice as in America—that was shown in the abstinence from wheat.

NEWS SERVICES OF BUREAU OF MARKETS

Depended Upon by Many Producers, Distributors and Others.

Information Scattered to All Sections of Country Over Practically 14,000 Miles of Leased Wires—How It Works.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Many producers, distributors and others have come to depend on the market news services of the bureau of markets and to make less use of commercial price-quoting agencies, which are not able to furnish data so reliable, accurate, prompt and comprehensive, according to the annual report of the secretary of agriculture.

The market news services were greatly enlarged in the fiscal year 1918 until branch offices numbered approximately ninety. They were distributing market information to all sections of the country over practically 14,000 miles of leased wires.

The news service on fruits and vegetables was made continuous throughout the year for the first time since it was instituted. Reports were issued in season covering approximately 32 commodities and indicating daily carload shipments, the shipping prices in the particular markets throughout the country, and other shipping-point facts. Temporary field stations were operated at 82 points in two producing sections, more than twice as many as in the preceding year.

The news service on live stock and meats was extended to include additional important live stock and meat marketing centers and producing districts. New features to make the service more useful to producers in the trade were added. The daily reports on meat conditions, which formerly gave information on the demand, supplies and wholesale prices of western dressed fresh meats in four of the most important western markets, now cover Los Angeles, San Francisco and Pittsburgh also. As a supplement to the daily reports a weekly review is published. The daily telegraphic report on live stock shipments west of the Allegheny mountains was extended to include all live stock loaded on railroads throughout the United States. Information regarding the "in" and "out" movement in certain feeding districts is being published.

The department took over on June 1, 1918, the furnishing of all telegraphic market reports distributed daily from the Chicago Union stock yards on live-stock receipts and prices, not only those regularly sent over the leased wire of the bureau of markets, but all reports used by commercial news agencies and press associations. The substitution of a government report for the previous unofficial services has exerted a material influence in restoring confidence in the reports of market conditions, the lack of which has been a fundamental obstacle to the development of the live-stock industry.

The news service on dairy and poultry products gives prices of butter, eggs and cheese, trade conditions, market receipts, storage movement and supplies in storage and in the hands of wholesalers and jobbers. Since the fall of 1917 it has covered Washington, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Minneapolis and San Francisco. Data were secured each month from approximately 14,000 dairy manufacturing plants in the United States, showing the quantities produced of such products as whey, process butter, oleomargarine, cheese of different kinds, condensed and evaporated milk, various classes of powdered milk, casein and milk sugar.

MILLION IN ORGANIZATIONS

Through These Associations Farmers Now in Close Touch With Forces of Trained Men.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

At present more than 1,000,000 farmers are members of organizations assisting the county agent in his work. Through these organizations the American farmer and his family are now in close personal touch with a large corps of well-trained men and women so linked with federal and state institutions for the promotion of agriculture that farming people can readily avail themselves of the results of scientific research and practical experience the world over to aid them in their work on the farm and their life in the home.

THE PRESIDENT'S PLEDGE

TO THE WOUNDED SOLDIERS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY

The White House.
I could tell you what the sacrifices you have made have meant to the world. I could tell you what history for all time to come will say of you and of the sufferings you have experienced on your great crusade. But these things other men will tell you.

I prefer to remind you that the wounds you bear are the noblest badges of honor any man has ever worn; that they exalt you to a supreme place in the minds and hearts of your countrymen and of all the world. I refer to assure you that America realizes that she has no more solemn obligation, no more patriotic duty than to express in practical terms the gratitude that every American—man, woman and child—feels for every one of you. America will not forget.

—Woodrow Wilson.

Back up that statement. By practical terms the President meant money. The Victory Liberty Loan will supply it. The President was counting on every American, rich and poor, when he made that promise. Subscribe.

BROUGHT BOY TO HIS DAD

Red Cross Workers Set Out to Find the Young Soldier and of Course They Succeeded.

Dad was from some little town near Cincinnati. He had come all the way to Indianapolis to see his boy, his only son who had been away from home for four years. The boy was in the army and was being transferred. He was to be in Indianapolis on Sunday and wired his father to meet him. Somehow, father and son missed connection in the union station. Dad decided to appeal to the women of the Red Cross canteen booth.

"I was to meet him here," dad said. "He hasn't shown up. I know he's in Indianapolis somewhere."

The canteeners got busy. Dad and his boy had to be brought together. First the canteeners summoned the military police. They got a description of son. The M. P.'s started out to find him. The canteeners also started scouts. They visited every downtown corner and haunt of the soldiers. An hour later the canteeners looked up toward the station door. In came dad and his boy—arm in arm.

"I did just as you told me," the father said. "You told me to go uptown and stand on that corner. You said he'd pass there, and pretty soon he did. The military police kept coming by to ask if I had a trail of him. And then he came. My, but he was glad to see me!"

Of course he was glad to see him. The boy's smile told how glad he was to see his dad.—Indianapolis News.

BACK TO HIS OLD FREEDOM

Stormy Petrel, After Brief Stay With Tame Birds, Returns to His Accustomed Place.

"The stormy petrel has left us," said Sergeant McGee of the park police. "He appeared to be getting along with the mudhens like a house on fire, but on Monday or Tuesday last he just faded away, and now he is back on his ocean wave or wherever else petrels go when they get tired of the company of mudhens."

"But a successor has come from the briny deep to keep up the traditions of the blue-water birds on Stow lake. He is only a seagull, and a seagull is not such a rare avis on terra as our lost friend, the stormy petrel. Nevertheless he is the first wild one of his kind that has ever tarried with us for two weeks, and seemed to keep comfortable.

"He has no use for either the ducks or the mudhens. That is to say, he does not mix with them. But he has struck up a friendship with Anthony and Cleopatra, the two pelicans of the Nile, and there is no driving him away from them. Maybe he thinks they will protect him from the mudhens, maybe it is a case of 'the desire of the moth for the star,' and he is in love with one of them. If so, it is only a matter of time when one or the other of them will get jealous and gobble him up in one gulp."—San Francisco Bulletin.

It is curious how episodes of the Boer war are recalled by the world conflict, says a writer in the Yorkshire Post. In our issue for May 16, 1900, for instance, we published an account of the bravery in the field of Private E. Wischusen, who threw a live shell over a cliff during an engagement.

Now his son, Private Eric Wischusen, duke of Cambridge's Middlesex regiment, has proved himself to be no less brave. As a parchment certificate from his commanding officer shows, in a raid near Voormezele, on June 19-20, he was "conspicuous for his determination and bravery." Despite a heavy artillery and machine-gun barrage, he reached the enemy trenches, cleared them, and finally covered the raiders' withdrawal, "showing complete disregard to his own safety."

Private Wischusen, who is only twenty, is now in hospital at Lowestoft with a shot wound in his leg. His home is in Hornsey.

Oil Near Old Indian Cemeteries.
Geologists are unable to explain the fact, proven in Osage county, that oil wells drilled adjacent to Indian cemeteries are good producers. Many such burial sites have been invaded by drillers and in more instances than one riches in crude oil have spouted forth. The largest producer in the vicinity of Pawhuska was drilled beside an Indian graveyard. It is on the summit of a high, rocky hill that overlooks the town.—From the Oklahoman.
