Camouflaged Philosophy.

Some day the poor, patient public will become tired of being the goat.

Funeral expenses are soaring again. This ought to keep prudent people healthy.

Every faction so far that has kicked Clemenceau has come out of it with a sore foot.

To be able to say "war is over" means much more than to say "the war is over."

King Corn is one of the monarchs who will not join the ex-royalty club in Switzerland.

Burglars seem to be the only class of workers who are not affected by the strike wave.

It has been shown repeatedly in every age and every time that a riot is no argument.

Old H. C. L. can stand an immense amount of probing without any signs of great discomfort.

Sometimes one wonders why so much bone was wasted on certain persons from the chin up.

On the profit percentage basis it seems that the cheaper cuts of meat are the more expensive.

Race riots intended to establish race superiority are too much like the old-fashioned game of give away.

Chief among the season's boosters are high wages and high prices, which mutually boost each other.

It really doesn't matter whether the kniser is tried or not. He has been found guilty by world opinion.

Still, some of those Harvard instructors who get less would not think of changing places with a motorman.

Now an airplane flight has been delayed by a tire blow-out. Tires aren't so particular about when they go up.

Hardwood prices have gone up 25 per cent, owing in part no doubt to the heavy municipal demand for riot clubs.

Walters and cooks have struck in Paris. Considering the prices charged it is a wonder the diners did not strike long ago.

German dyes, moreover, will have to be better than they used to be to offer any real competition with American dyes.

The American profiteer is going to do more to make cheaper foreign wares popular than all of Europe's trade efforts.

They are still trying to blame things on the war from race riots to divorce increases. Wasn't the war responsible for enough?

Some of these fellows who have been wearing Shantung silk shirts don't know whether to remain neutral or declare themselves.

Licenses for airplanes and other aircraft should be granted on terms at least as rigid as those governing the licensing of water craft.

Another advantage of employing only English-speaking persons in industrial work is that they can understand what is told them.

An automobile may have lots of power, but none has yet been constructed that will force an interurban car off its beaten course.

Now that the bars are closed, where can father exchange the baby's shoes for one more drink? Maybe some kind druggist will give him an ice cream cone.

The report that clothes are to be 100 per cent higher convinces some of us that last year's suit not only will have to do this summer, but next season also.

A million and a half pounds of prunes are placed on the market by the government at the moment when the demand for prune juice is at its lowest ebb.

The fact that reconstruction will afford great opportunities for legitimate prosperity has not prevented get-rich-quick oil promoters from dashing into low finance.

A number of interviews have been taking place in which, while no politics was mentioned, it is clearly understood that topics more important than the weather were discussed.

"Race equality" is not a matter to be brought about by legislation, but a condition that will be realized when the races involved have the same mental and moral ideals and standards and conscientiously live up to them.

Major Mills at Chautauqua

Major Thornton A. Mills, one of the principal lecturers of the Festival week, is of distinguished parentage. A son of the famous divine, Benjamin Fay Mills, he has inherited his father's remarkable platform ability and keen judgment of men and affairs. He has held important pastorates in the prominent churches of New York and the Middle West and was called to a prominent pulpit in Denver when Uncle Sam practically drafted his services, commissioned him Major and detailed him to important war work service in the Northwest.

Newspaper Men "Struck."
 Probably the first "strike" ever called at a convention of the American Federation of Labor, and against that body, was called by the newswriters assigned to cover the sessions. During the course of the convention one of the delegates made criticisms of the way in which the convention was handled. The newspaper men immediately fled out of the hall and sent word to the convention that they had gone on strike. While certain delegates were branding the newswriters as "bolshyeviki," others insisted that they form a committee and present their demands. The demands were formulated and presented. The convention granted them by acclamation, and the reporters were given an ovation when they fled back to their desks. So it was settled.

He Saw Very Well.
 I had employed a piano tuner for several years who was blind, writes a correspondent. One day he brought another man when he came to tune the piano, asking my permission to teach him some things about piano tuning. I left them in the parlor by themselves and when they had finished, I was dressing to go out.
 Knowing they were blind and rather than keep them waiting, I went in to pay the tuner in rather scant attire. I remarked to the stranger, "It is nice for you blind people that there is work like this for you to do."
 "Oh, madam," he replied, "I'm not blind; in fact, I see very well."
 I nearly died and fled from the room.
 Vacation resorts report bumper crops of freckles.

LEPER COLONY LENDS FREELY

Honolulu — The Hawaiian Island Leper Colony, Hawaii Islands, bought War Savings Stamps to the amount of $62 per capita. There were thirty-two purchasers among the lepers. This amount is three times as much as the per capita quota for the United States, which is $20. The total sales of War Savings and Thrift Stamps for Hawaii amounted to $2,020,000—beating quota by 20,000.
