Camouflaged Philosophy.

Who ever heard of a woman spy who wasn't "young and beautiful?"

Threatened leather prices ought to restore barefoot dancing to popularity.

Nowadays a patch is the honorable wound stripe of a faithful pair of trousers.

What has become of the old-fashioned fellow they used to call a spend-thrift?

The most attractive item on the menu is the one that the other fellow ordered.

Apparently the consumer does not find debate on the League of Nations very filling.

A soviet government is calculated to make even those attempting to run it tired of life.

A girl doesn't like the idea of working for a living unless she is married to a shiftless man.

Thinking up issues for the 1920 campaign naturally becomes a fascinating occupation at this time.

It is a poor hand, in these profiteering times, that does not contain at least one accusing finger.

If your war garden is in good condition it should help very materially to swat the high cost of living.

There is blame enough for all. No one profiteer or set of profiteers should be permitted to monopolize it.

The ultimate consumer doesn't consume as much as he did, and he is much more ultimate about it.

How would you like to be a postman while the government is delivering those 125-pound food packages?

The question is, what did the profiteers expect under the circumstances—a distinguished service medal?

Even the wisest of the economists have not yet figured out how strikes are going to reduce the cost of living.

A pedigree with each article showing what it cost the manufacturer, the jobber and the retailer might help some.

Even if you have lost your food-saving cards, you can no doubt recall the subject matter and act accordingly.

Milk profiteers do not care how the babies find 15 cents a quart for milk, knowing that the babies must find it or starve.

Cutting a pie into seven pieces and charging 15 cents a portion should tend to popularize ice cream and pudding.

Think of a ten-story automobile hotel, and old Dobbin in all his years of faithful service never saw a ten-story livery stable!

Department of labor statistics report the first decline in food prices—one-half of 1 per cent. Can't they make it 2.75?

Breaks in the market due to sale of government supplies have not yet caused any hilarious excitement among bargain hunters.

They are talking in Santiago of taxation as a remedy for war food prices. It is going to be a warm time for profiteers in Chile.

Market prices are calculated to make the possessor of a successful war garden feel like the possessor of a small gold mine.

Twenty dollars a pair for shoes will compel those who dance to figure on compensating the cobbler as well as on paying the fiddler.

China is still searching the philosophies of Confucius for some soothing precept that will adequately apply to the Shantung situation.

The people are willing to pay all that the law of supply and demand necessitates; but not all that the profiteers can exact in addition.

Some people who have chosen to become food hoarders are going to feel sorry for their so-called foresight when prices begin to tumble.

Again is the plea of a shortage of wool put forward to excuse the advancing price of textiles. Have the sheep struck for a six-hour day?

In its decision to imprison profiteers, Italy is sure to show the world how quickly the wide gap between producer and retailer can be closed.

The hard struggle foodstuffs have in coming down is in defiance of the law of gravity, whatever its relation may be to the law of supply and demand.

KEPT SHOES AS ORNAMENTS

American Footgear Considered by Unfortunate Serbian Woman as Altogether Too Beautiful to Wear.

Anything that will keep the feet from the ground is considered a shoe in Serbia.

In the remote rural districts of the country it is said that many of the people live and die without owning a pair of shoes. In the bitterest weather they travel through mud and snow without adequate foot covering. They consider themselves fortunate if they can secure old gunny sacks or heavy cloth, which they tie about their feet with twine in winter.

The first American-made shoes that were distributed by the American Red Cross created a tremendous stir among the people of the distant villages. One old woman who had never owned a pair before took the shoes that had been given to her to her home and put them on a shelf above the fireplace. She was as pleased as a child to own them, but nothing could induce her to wear them. She said that she intended to save them for fetes, or perhaps for her burial. They were "much too beautiful to be worn," she said.

Gem's Romantic History.

Truly romantic is the story of the Braganza diamond, a stone of 1,000 carats, and "as large as a goose's egg," which, for more than a century, has been the proudest possession of the Portuguese crown. This amazing stone, which Mr. Streeter, the great authority on gems, has valued at $38,000,000, was picked up by three Brazilian outlaws in the half-dried bed of the Abate river, in the province of Minas Geraes.

The outlaws took the stone to the nearest village priest, who obtained access for them to the governor, into whose possession it was given. The diamond, the largest and finest hitherto found, was dispatched to Lisbon, with the result that the three outlaws received the royal pardon and a rich reward, while the padre to whose friendly offices they owed their good fortune was given high preferment in the church.

Flower Gardens of Holland.

It was only after the fall of Constantinople in 1453 that Holland became such a gay land of flowers as it now is. Many Dutchmen went to the East during the years of the great crusades, and those of them who loved beautiful things brought seeds with them. When these were planted in the rich soil of Holland such wondrous flowers appeared as had never before been seen in that country. The people became wildly enthusiastic over the new colors and scents and foliage brought to them from the East, and in Holland there sprang up a great love for gardening.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that many matters which agitate the public mind are not worth a thought in comparison with dietary questions to which a thought is seldom given.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

The early green apples make delicious spiced apples to use throughout the year. Prepare a moderately sweet sirup with a few cloves and twice as much cinnamon. Wash, but do not peel the apples, as green apple skin cooks well and adds to the flavor. Drop in the sliced apples a few at a time and cook until tender, when all are cooked let the sirup cook down until quite thick and pour over them. Seal in small glasses or jars.

Cheese Salad.—Dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatin in four tablespoonfuls of hot water, add half a pound of grated cheese and a pint of whipped cream, season well with salt and paprika with a few dashes of cayenne. Pour into a wet mold and allow it to become firm. Turn out and cut in slices, serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing or with any desired boiled dressing.

Savory Rice and Vegetables.—Peel and slice six large tomatoes and chop two sweet peppers fine, butter a baking dish and put in a layer of tomatoes, cover with half a cupful of cooked rice and chopped peppers, repeat with another layer, season each layer with two tablespoonfuls of butter, a sprinkling of sugar and salt. Bake covered for three-quarters of an hour, then uncover for 15 minutes.

Date, Nut and Pineapple Salad.—Chop a cupful of dates and three good-sized apples, add a cupful of chopped celery, a cupful of broken nutmeats and a half pound of seeded and skinned grapes. Mix all together and heap on a slice of pineapple arranged on a lettuce leaf. Serve with mayonnaise dressing. A few marshmallows may be added or substituted for the nut meats if desired.

Rocks.—Beat together a half cupful each of lard and other shortening, add a cupful and a half of sugar, two eggs well beaten, a cupful of sour milk, two cupfuls of oatmeal and three cupfuls of flour, sifted with a teaspoonful of soda and one of cinnamon. Add a half cupful each of raisins and walnuts chopped. Mix and drop on a buttered pan and bake in a moderate oven.

 A shortage in profiteers would be a national blessing.

Turn Home When Trying to Exterminate Squirrel.

Chico, Cal.—Fully prepared to write a testimonial to the destroying qualities of a squirrel exterminator, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hurspeth here mourn the loss of their home today.

Here's how it happened: A squirrel had tunneled under their home and the exterminator was purchased. It was poured into the hole, but it was an inflammable liquid. An oil tank and smudge pots caught fire and the house burned to the ground. It is not known what happened to the squirrel.

Just at present the nickel is remarkable for its low visibility.

Unfortunately the world is a long time in shifting its gears.

Those London bakers struck, we presume, when the oven was hot.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Umatilla County.
 E. C. Rogers and F. D. Watts,
 Plaintiffs,

vs.
 Philip Weigel, the "unknown heirs of Philip Weigel, deceased," Matt Mosgrove, H. Wade Bailey and Mrs. H. Wade Bailey, his wife, John Drensen, as executor of the last Will and Testament of Wilhelmina Stahl, deceased (also known as Wilhelmina Stahl) and also "all other persons or parties unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the complaint herein,"

Defendants.

To Philip Weigel, the "unknown heirs of Philip Weigel, deceased," Matt Mosgrove, H. Wade Bailey and Mrs. H. Wade Bailey, his wife, John Drensen, as executor of the last Will and Testament of Wilhelmina Stahl, deceased (also known as Wilhelmina Stahl) and also "all other persons or parties unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the complaint herein," defendants above named:

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON: You and each of you are summoned and required to appear and answer the complaint in the above entitled suit now on file in the above entitled court and cause, on or before the last day of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit, on or before November 7th, 1919; and you and each of you are hereby notified that if you fail so to appear and answer said complaint as herein required, for want thereof, plaintiffs will apply to the above entitled court for the relief demanded in plaintiffs' complaint, namely, for a decree that plaintiffs are the owners in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:

Lot Seven (7) and the East Half of Lot Eight (8) in Block Five (5) in the original town, now city, of Athena, formerly called Centerville, in the County of Umatilla and State of Oregon; and that all adverse claims of said defendants and each of them be determined, and the defendants and each of them be forever barred and enjoined from asserting any claim to said property adverse to plaintiffs, and that plaintiffs' said title in fee simple be forever quieted of said claims, and for such further and other relief as shall in equity be meet and to justice appertain.

This summons is published in the Athena Press, a weekly newspaper published in Athena, Umatilla County, Oregon, once a week for six consecutive and successive weeks, beginning with the issue of September 28th, 1919, and ending with the issue of November 7, 1919, pursuant to an order made and entered herein by the Honorable Gilbert W. Phelps, Judge of the above entitled Court, which said order was made and dated the 25th day of September, A. D. 1919.

Dated this 24th day of September, A. D. 1919.

GAVE THANKS FOR ARMISTICE
 Fervent Gratitude to God Was First Thought of the Gallant Defenders of Verdun.

The artillery fire died out, and there was a pause that seemed like the sudden end of the world. Then from the 40 bells, high in the towers of the old cathedral at Verdun, pealed forth these silvery tones that proclaimed again, "Peace on earth." The armistice had come.

Slowly the great doors of the cathedral opened and in rushed 600 allied soldiers. Doctor Maurer of the Red Triangle, says a writer in Association Men, quietly walked to the altar rail and knelt there. Captains, lieutenants and soldiers reached for the bell ropes, and he feared the opportunity for religious service was lost. But they saw the lonely figure and came into the choir space. As he rose all was quiet.

"Boys," he said, "I believe we all want to sing and that we ought to sing the Doxology."

At its close Doctor Maurer raised his hands, and Mohammedans, Catholics, Protestants and Jews bowed their heads and fell on their knees. Amid the ruins 600 soldiers knelt—Mohammedans bumping their heads on the stones, Catholics devoutly crossing themselves, and Jews and Protestants with hands clasped, faces shining and eyes lifted.

Doctor Maurer led in that ever wonderful prayer, "Our Father Which Art in Heaven." He then suggested that the Americans sing, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," while the English sang "God Save the King." At the close of the singing the French soldiers pushed forward and sang, as only Frenchmen can sing, the "Marsellaise."

The French general came forward and took Doctor Maurer's hands. "I want to thank you," he said, "for leading these men on this occasion of grace to offer praise to God for the deliverance of France and for the safety of the world."
