fited and the Value of the Breed Increased.

In the spring of 1921 the bureau of biological survey directed attention to the fact that the blue foxes on some of the Aleutian islands are deteriorating through inbreeding, and that there tives and others to secure animals from the Pribilof Islands for restocking purposes.

blue fox industry of the Aleutians, where climatic conditions appear to be favorable, the introduction of new blood from the Pribilofs was accordingly undertaken by the bureau of fisheries, and eight live blue foxes were placed aboard the coast guard cutter Bear at St. George Island September 15, 1921. One pair went to L. A. Lavigne, lessee of Unaign island; one pair to the Unalaska Native Brotherhood, lessees of Avatanak island, and two pairs to N. E. Bolshanin, lessee of Kavalga and other islands. The purchasers supplied shipping cases and transportation was at their risk.

All the foxes were received at Unaaska in good order and were promptplaced on the islands under lease he various persons concerned. The ce charged for each animal was 188.12, this being the average realized or Pribilof blue fox skins at the sale 2 St. Louis February 21, 1921. The amount received for the eight foxes was $704.90; $5 was allowed natives of the Pribilof Islands for each fox secured, and the net proceeds, amounting to $664.96, were turned into the

No one can ever realize how hard Paderewski worked for his results. Sometimes one hears of the great heroism of the planist who practices six or seven hours a day. Time and again I have known Paderewski to keep on working until three and four in the morning, often working four teen to sixteen hours a day.

Of course, only a physical giant could have accomplished this, and in-deed such was Paderewski. His endurance and strength were enormous. When I was playing with him at Erthat was especially heavy.
