"Over The Hill"

Mrs. Frank Snider, James Bell, Sim J. Culley and Trajan Tucker of Weston are among the list of jurors drawn for the September term of court.

Mrs. Sarah Rowland spent Tuesday in Pendleton, transacting business errands and renewing acquaintance with old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Metz spent several days during the week at the upland home of their son, C. W. Metz, who is convalescing from a period of ill health.

Fred Henderson, Mrs. Mark Henderson, Mrs. C. W. Avery and daughter Elizabeth motored to Walla Walla Saturday.

Mrs. O. M. Richmond, who has long been ill at her home in Walla Walla, is reported to be in a very critical condition.

Mrs. George Nesbit returned home Wednesday from her visit in Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick left this morning for Portland, where they intend spending the winter. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blomgren will occupy the Kirkpatrick residence in Weston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Adams left yesterday by auto on a vacation trip to valley and coast points.

Dr. Milton A. Nelms of Walla Walla was in Weston yesterday on his way to Portland.

Mrs. Alice Fontaine of Great Falls, Montana, daughter of Mrs. W. E. Driakel of Weston, was struck on the ankle by a rattlesnake Sunday while in a pasture on the Fontaine ranch. She was alone at the time, and going to the house, courageously cut out the infected tissue with a razor, applying soda to the wound. It was later treated with other remedies, including the application of a freshly killed chicken. A mixture of turpentine, salt and the white of an egg proved most effective of all in drawing out the poison. Mrs. Fontaine was conveyed to a Great Falls hospital, where the surgeons did some "carving." While she has suffered much pain, her condition is reported to be encouraging.

Leonard Snider has returned from Morrow county, where he worked during harvest for his uncle Rufus. The latter's crop averaged better than twenty bushels. Leonard has a sample of the hullless barley grown in Morrow county, to convince Weston skeptics that there is such a grain.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Price are expected home Monday from Portland. A few weeks ago at Rockland, Idaho, a baseball player was struck in the head while at the plate, with a pitched ball from the hands of Rolfie Compton, formerly of Weston. It was at first feared the accident would result fatally, but late reports from the hospital to which the injured man was carried say that he has at last regained consciousness and has a good chance for recovery.

A. W. Lyles and family, who left a few weeks ago for Emmett, Idaho, have returned to Weston to again make their home.

The W. L. Rayborn family came down from their mountain ranch Saturday and opened the town house, where they will spend the school year.

Miss Esther Davis, who visited several days last week with Mrs. C. L. Pinkerton, returned Thursday to her home in Walla Walla.

Messages received by his son Nelson at Weston from R. V. Jones, say that he arrived safely and in good health on August 8th at his destination.

tion in La Paz, the capital of Bolivia. Mr. Jones is looking after the holdings of the Bolivia Land syndicate, in which he is interested. He writes that he is seeing a wonderful stock country.

Mrs. Letha King suffered a stroke of paralysis this morning while preparing breakfast at her home on south Water street, and is reported to be in a serious condition. Dr. McKinney is in attendance.

Mrs. Ernest Ross and daughters came in Monday from the reservation ranch and will occupy their residence on Normal Heights during the coming school year.

Mrs. Anice Vaughn returned Sunday to her home in Homestead, Oregon, having completed an enjoyable two weeks' visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Barnes. Mrs. Vaughn has been employed as a member of the high school faculty at Homestead.

Mrs. Lulu Armstrong, primary teacher, and her young son, Donald, are domiciled with Mrs. Lillian Fredericks for the school year.

W. H. Gould and family returned Sunday from their summer sojourn at Camp McDougal, and have started their little grandson to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton O'Harris are enjoying a motor trip to Spokane.

Mrs. Sarah McDougal, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Price and Mr. and Mrs. L. I. O'Harris have vacated their summer lodges at Camp McDougal and returned this week to resume life in their Weston homes.

Miss Edna Hollenbeck, former member of Weston High school faculty, accompanied by her father and mother and sister, Mrs. Lulu Brooks of Pendleton, spent a few hours in town Friday renewing acquaintance with Weston friends. The visitors were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Price. Miss Hollenbeck has been re-engaged as a member of the faculty of James Johns High school in Portland.

J. M. Maynard and family moved this week into the Pea Ridge district, having leased the farm owned by Mrs. Will Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Staggs, Miss Emma Thoeny and Victor Thoeny returned last week from an enjoyable outing spent at Lake Wallawa.

Friends of the Misses Benedict of Rock Island, Illinois, who have been spending the summer with their sister, Mrs. Nelson H. Jones, will be pleased to learn that they have decided to see more of this part of the West, and may decide to locate permanently. They have accepted positions with Gardner & Co. of Walla Walla—Miss Harriett in ready-to-wear and Miss Lurah in millinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy T. Barnett and children, Mrs. A. J. Barnett and Miss Alma Barnett returned the first of the week from a visit with relatives in Portland and Wasco. Mr. Barnett resumed his route as mail carrier Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Evans, accompanied by their daughters Rhonda and Mary Olive and son Wallace, and Miss Allen, of Walla Walla, were Sunday visitors at Blue Mountain farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Winn.

Miss Cora Gordon of Yakima, Wash., is stopping at the home of her brother, Ray Gordon, and has enrolled as a pupil in the local school.

Mr. and Mrs. Sim J. Culley, Miss Maxine Culley and Miss Glensdine Larson returned the first of the week from their motor trip to Yellowstone National park. They camped out in the park four and a-half days, and motoring to different points of interest, fully explored this famous wonderland. Mr. Culley says that such an experience causes one to appreciate his own insignificance as well as the marvels of Nature.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, who have been spending the summer on their timber land holdings, have moved to Cottonwood, Idaho, where Mr. Williams has a position as manager of the Liggett Mercantile Co. Dr. and Mrs. M. Stiles, formerly of Weston, motored over from Walla Walla Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Larson. The party were entertained at the G. DeGraw residence.

N. B. Foster has returned to town from Tanks, where he spent the summer looking after the Adams and Paxton summer camps.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Farquhar and daughters Mabel and Minabelle of Portland were guests Saturday and Sunday at the R. L. Reynaud residence. They left Monday in their car for Los Angeles, where Mr. Farquhar, who is a traveling man, has a business mission. Mrs. Farquhar and Mrs. Reynaud are sisters.

Miss Hortense Baker contributed a pleasing soprano solo, "Teach Me to Pray," during morning service last Sunday at the M. E. church.

Charles M. Price has joined in the march of rural progress in the Weston country by installing an electric lighting system for the illumination of his house and barn, at his fine farm near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert O'Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Ray O'Harris returned Sunday from their motor trip to Pine Valley, Oregon, where they were guests of the Fred Gerberdings. They report a most pleasant vacation and an especially interesting visit to the Cornucopia mines. The region they explored abounds in fish and game.

Mrs. P. C. Wood was the guest Saturday evening of Mayor and Mrs. G. A. Hartman of Pendleton on a motor trip to Walla Walla. Their niece, Miss Marion Myers of Portland, was also a member of the party.

Ed Tucker was in town this week from his Holdman wheat ranch, where he lately finished hauling a nice crop—31 bushels to the acre from 500 acres. Mr. Tucker is holding his wheat at Cold Spring station, as he says there would be no profit in selling at the present market. The expense of hauling, he reports, was cut in two by the new county road in the Holdman region.

Tom Connelly and William R. Laing, roofing contractors of Pendleton, were in town Wednesday on a business visit and looked over the roof of Society hall. Mr. Laing hardly needed to climb on top of the building, as he is six feet, eight and one-half inches tall. He made Sim Barnes, the pride of Weston, look like an urchin.

Albert Proebstel, who has been recuperating at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lillian Fredericks, will leave in a few days for Los Angeles. He has booked passage on the steamship Senator, which sails from Portland September 14.

Claude Snider leaves next week for Seattle, where he expects to enroll as a student of mechanical engineering at the University of Washington. He will make the trip in the neat little Buick "bug" which he put together, piece by piece, from the contents of a junk pile.

After his usual harvest sojourn in the Weston country, G. A. R. McGrew left yesterday for his home at Portland.

Mrs. S. Thorsen and children returned Saturday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Narkaus at their home in the uplands.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Price and daughter, Mrs. Ruby Webb, will motor to Coeur d'Alene Saturday for a visit with the Alvin Turners.

Mrs. Gladys K. Lemmons and son Donald arrived Saturday from Holly, Colorado, where the vacation months were spent. Mrs. Lemmons resumes her work as seventh grade instructor in the local school, and will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Proebstel.

LABOR DAY OBSERVANCE

Labor Day was observed by the Unions of LeGrande, Walla Walla and Pendleton, at the latter place Monday, by a large attendance of members of the different industrial organizations of the towns above mentioned. Led by three bands, a parade six blocks long opened the day's program, which consisted of addresses and athletic sports. Judge Stephen A. Lowell made the principal address of the day.

O. A. C. GRADUATE DIRECTS

The Mexican government has employed an Oregon Agricultural college graduate, Walter M. Sein, to direct its agricultural demonstrations among the 2000 Mennonite colonists near Chihuahua city. Sein spent five years in Corvallis and was graduated in animal husbandry two years ago. American farm organization will be the type adopted by Sein for his work in Mexico.

A NEW CANDIDATE

A new candidate has entered the race for senator against Roy W. Ritter, present incumbent, and republican nominee without opposition in the recent primaries. L. A. Reineman of Freewater, has announced his candidacy as an independent.

ROUND-UP

PENDLETON, OREGON
SEPTEMBER 21, 22, 23, 1922

In the whole World there is no contest so intensely exciting and with more thrilling and spectacular elements, than the riding of "outlaw" bronchos by cowboys and cowgirls.

These contests, also the wild horse races, wild steer roping and bull-dogging, Indian dances and pow wows are all that remain of the young, wild, vigorous, yet lovable West.
