William Jennings Bryan has broken into the campaign in the Central states. He flourishes his trumpet thusly:

"The revenue bill is the boldest piece of piracy attempted in recent years. It has taken the tax off excess profits and transferred $450,000,000 in taxation from the profiteers to the plain people. The bill as passed by the house has reduced taxes on the incomes of the profiteers from 65 to 32 per cent and has given a benefit vented a steel company getting anyof $90,000,000 to less than 5,000 per- thing it ever went after.

"The high tariff bill has imposed a burden estimated at three to four billion dollars on the common people, matter with Havre? an average of from $150 to $200 on the average family.

"Republican leaders have never been closer to the plunderbund than today and never more reckless in their removal of restraint from those who prey on the public. Mr. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, went before a committee and protested against a farmer being put on the federal reserve board. Within the last three years-since there has been a majority of Republicans in congress-the senate and house have attempted to fasten upon the country a system of compulsory military training at a cost of $70,000,000 yearly.

aid of a few Republicans-not manybut enough to block the plan.

"The Republican party had no money for the soldier's bonus, but had money to give the profiteers $450,000-000 above mentioned, $90,000,000 in tax rebates to people with big incomes, $60,000,000 to the railroads in guaranteed dividends.

"The Republican house tried to loan $5,000,000 more to the railroads. They think they have enough for a ship subsidy, but not enough for the soldier who took the risk of war and shed blood in Europe while the profiteers were bleeding their country at home."
