Dentistry Not to be made

Light of

Your dental work, "either your own teeth," or teeth that have to be replaced, on account of the loss of your own, should have the attention and care of a skilled dentist—a reliable one who will be ready at all times to rectify any trouble that may occur. You cannot afford to take chances on dentists not known and tried. Take your work to one who is ready, every day of the week, to attend to any emergency.

I have been in the actual practice of dentistry for a good many years. I need not experiment. I have work enough in one place so that my patients will always find me there—not "one day here and one day there." And for the benefit of all those needing work and not living in Athena, please let me know when you come and a liberal discount will be allowed on the price regularly charged.

I do all of my own prosthetic work. Crowns and bridges and artificial teeth of all kinds fitted and made to suit the mouth—and at about one-half the price charged by other dentists who send the laboratory work, "the most important," away to be done at the "factory." Again I say, do not experiment. Your work here must satisfy YOU, or no pay.
