When you start cash dealing you start a current in motion that will bring competence and plenty for old age. Never allow anything to interrupt the current of Saving. It's your best friend. Pay cash, owe nothing, life will be sweeter, richer and happier.

No Shirt, chief of the Walla Walla, is in jail at Pendleton awaiting a free trip to Portland on the charge of rape.

Fred Page Tustin, a former Pendleton lawyer has been ousted out of the Neal mine in Idaho. Page-Tustin's company failed to pay for the land, hence the ejection.

On Monday Bergevin Brothers turned their Athena store over to Portland creditors, Matt Mosgrove, a commercial traveler, being pput in charge. A deed was placed on record from the Bergevin Brothers to Matt Mosgrove.

transferring the lots on which the store stands.

Tuesday morning the Athena Mill was closed on a writ of attachment in favor of The First National bank of this city, for $9,500. The difficulty was caused, no doubt, by the company not being able to collect, owing to the close condition of money matters. The company is perfectly solvent and a meeting was immediately called by the president, at which the matter was quickly settled and the mill lat once started up on full time. The Adams band, owing to the

"The Line Is Busy"

When the telephone operator tells you "the line is busy," this fact has been made known to her by an electric signal. With the thousands of calls in daily telephone traffic, if the operator, to secure this information, were compelled to listen on the line of the party called, prompt service would be out of the question.

This delay is eliminated by an electric device which in the fraction of a second automatically indicates that the line called for is in use.

When "busy" reports are repeated on successive calls for the same number, it is generally due to an immoderate use of the called line. The length of a telephone conversation is obviously beyond the control of the telephone operator. Have confidence in her when she makes the report "the line is busy."

hard times, has given up the ghost. Frank Beale gathered up a bunch of cattle near Pendleton this week. Hollis received several sacks of sugar this week, thus lifting the sugar famine. Cashier Lively was in Pendleton, Tuesday. John Froome and Charles Sharp were in Adams, Wednesday. Owing to the heavy rains the farmers are unable to plow or seed. R. J. Boddy was in Pendleton Saturday. Wm Zeiger of Helix was in the city Wednesday.

Athena is the town. Another new barber shop. And still they come. Union county warrants are selling at eighty cents, the lowest price known in recent years. Last Saturday Hughie Robie was fined $50 by justice Gillman for carrying concealed weapons. A marriage license has been issued to Edward S. Thompson and Miss Carrie M. Isley, of Athena.

ANCHORS OF MANY PATTERNS

Anything Sufficiently Weighty Used Before the Invention of Modern Article With Flukes.

The Britannica describes the anchor as "an instrument of iron or other heavy material used for holding ships or boats in any locality required, and preventing them from drifting by winds, tides, currents or other causes. This is done by the anchor (after it is let go from the ship by means of the cable) fixing itself in the ground and there holding the vessel fast. . . . The most ancient anchors consisted of large stones, baskets full of stones, sacks filled with sand, or logs of wood loaded with lead. Of this kind were the anchors of the ancient Greeks, which, according to Apollonius Rhodius and Stephen of Byzantium, were formed of stone; and Athenaeus states that they were sometimes made of wood. Such anchors held the vessel merely by their weight and by the friction along the bottom. Iron was afterward introduced for the construction of anchors, and an improvement was made by forming them with teeth or 'flukes' to fasten themselves into the bottom. . . . The invention of the teeth is ascribed by Pliny to the Tuscans, but Pausanias gives the credit to Midas, king of Phrygia."

PECULIAR ACTION OF TIDES

Scientists at a Loss to Explain Rise and Fall of Sea Around the Society Islands.

The peculiarities of the tides in the Society group of islands, in the South sea, were remarked as long ago as the days of Captain Cook. In reality, the rise and fall of the sea—which seldom exceeds 15 inches—can scarcely be called tidal, for it is not influenced by the moon; high water comes invariably at midnight and noon, and at sunset and sunrise the water is always low, says a writer in Harper's.

The local belief is that these so-called tides are due to wind; it is true that the mornings are usually calm and that the breeze springs up toward midday, to die away in the late afternoon. At 11 or 12 o'clock, then, an increasing surf breaches over the low barrier of coral and causes the sheltered waters of the lagoon to rise—a neat theory until one stops to think that the hours about midnight (when the tide is precisely as high as at noon) are among the calmest of the 24, and that the noon tide does not fall on days of glassy stillness.

Owed Their Lives to Parrot.

In the terrible earthquake in 1908 which destroyed several cities in Sicily, many people were imprisoned under the ruins of their houses, and were rescued only because they made their voices heard by rescue parties. In one case a voice was heard from a great pile of ruins crying, "Maria! Maria!" Several hours were spent by a band of eager diggers in removing overturned stone and debris, at the end of which a hungry gray parrot was discovered. In a fit of rage the men were about to dash the bird to bits when one of them noticed a movement in the pile of plaster on what had been the first floor of a mansion. Two women were buried there, both alive as it turned out, and both recovered from their awful experience, thanks to the good voice and education of poor Poll!

More than a hundred thousand perished in that one city of Messina alone, all the buildings in it being shaken to the ground in 81 seconds.
