Another good picture is that to be shown at the Standard Theatre tomorrow night, "One Glorious Day."

Will Rogers and Lila Lee have the stellar roles. This is the first picture that Rogers has appeared in with Famous Players, under the Paramount banner, and the fact that he co-stars with Miss Lee is evidence that Paramount recognizes the ability of the Goldwyn actor. Sunday night, Harry Carey comes in "Man to Man," one of the greatest Western pictures ever filmed.

Bert Ramsey and daughter, Mrs. Penn Harris, are visiting relatives in Portland. Mrs. Ramsey, who has been visiting her daughter in the Willamette valley, will return with them.

Mrs. George M. Hienen, formerly Caroline Sharp, arrived the first of the week from San Diego, where her husband owns an apartment house. She was called by the critical illness of her father, Dr. S. F. Sharp, in the Pendleton hospital.

In all directions out of Athena, country roads are filled with snow drifts more or less. But few teams were driven to town during the fore part of the week, and off the state highway, automobiling is practically out of the question.

The Burkhardt concert company appeared at high school auditorium, Monday night, and provided high-class entertainment. Inclement weather and impassable roads were responsible for a small audience, but all present were well entertained.

Jay Hurd is in Portland, where he is receiving treatment for an injured eye. Mr. Hurd, while working in Thompson's garage, recently received a steel splinter in the eyeball. This was removed, but the injury was not relieved, hence further treatment is being made.

Earl Coutts, well known Pendleton hunter and sportsman, was drowned in the Umatilla river, Wednesday evening, near Hermiston, when in attempting to recover a duck he had shot, the ice broke under his weight. He was alone at the time, and later in the evening, hunting companions discovered his gun and one duck that he had killed on the river bank. His tracks were followed to the spot where he had broken through the ice.

The apron sale and waffle supper given by the Civic Club Wednesday afternoon proved a pronounced success, and the gross receipts amounted to about $70. Over $50 was taken in from the sale of aprons, and many more could have been sold, reported the sales ladies. In the rear of Wats and Rogers store the appetizing waffles drew a hungry crowd, and the lady chefs were kept busy supplying the demand. The ladies are very grateful to those who patronized and assisted in the success of the venture. Special thanks are due Wats and Rogers for the use of their rooms, and the Pure Food Grocery for donating the coffee.
