From the Book "The Man Without a Country," and coming direct from the American Theatre, Walla Walla, a splendid big special Photoplay at regular admission prices.

As No Man Has Loved

With Lucy Beaumont, Edward Hearn and Pauline Stark. Here is a drama of tremendous pathos and flaming vitality—a love story; a mother story; a story of vivid and thrilling action and conflict. He restored cringing black slaves from a Hell-ship to their homes in the African jungle. His heart was wrung as few men have been punished. But a terrible crime and still more terrible punishment barred Lieutenant Nolan, many times a hero, from his own home in the land of his birth. Never was there a greater heart story than "As No Man Has Loved."

Owen Moore and Constance Bennett

To the great open spaces of Arizona, where men are men and women are decidedly women and not flappers, comes Constance Bennett, a product of the jazz palaces of the East. When Greek meets Greek, there's a tug of war; and when cowboy meets cowboy, they first look daggers at each other and then follow it up with a fight to a finish. That is, if they are rivals for the hand of a fair flapper.

Church of Christ

We are expecting another big day in our Bible school Sunday, March 28th. Our Men's Bible class invites the men of Athena to meet with them at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning. Easter Sunday will be a banner day. We expect 150 in Bible school. The Easter Cantata will be worthy of your time. This is fostered by the Etude club, and being put on by the singers of the community. Keep Sunday night of Easter day open for this splendid music.
DWIGHT L. HACKETT, Pastor.
