Famous Cheese Long
Made at Roquefort

Roquefort cheese comes from the town of Roquefort perched high on a mountain in the department of Aveyron. French historians tell us that as far back as "Bible times" cheese was carried from Roquefort to the Mediterranean sea. The peasant people used to carry cheese to the top of the mountain and hide it in caves, which were found to be especially fitted by nature for the storing of cheese. The cool temperature of the caves made them excellent storehouses. This cheese is made of sheep's milk. Every morning the milk is skimmed, strained and warmed almost to the boiling point. Then it is put into pans and stirred with willow wythes. A little rennet is used to curdle the milk. After the curds are formed they are mixed with a specially prepared barley bread, which starts the green mold always to be seen in Roquefort cheese and helps to give it its distinctive flavor. The cheese is allowed to remain in the press several days and is then taken to the caves and sold. There it is cured with salt. The outside of the cheese is rubbed with salt until the pores are filled. The cheeses are cured in the caves for about four months, when they are shipped to nearly all parts of the world.

Capitalize Blunders
It doesn't make much difference whether your age is seventeen, seventy or one hundred and seventy you will grow and develop as long as you are willing to profit by your mistakes, says Harry Daniel in Thrift. Look your mistakes straight in the eye, shake hands with them and then bid them good-bye forever. A bad habit is nothing but a mistake that has acquired a permanent address.

The average man of success today will say, "I owe my success to hard work." But he is holding out one of his choicest secrets. What he should say is, "I'm a success because I knew how to clean up $100 worth of wisdom on every little $2 mistake I ever made." Mistakes seldom bite the first time.

Mysteries
Not all the mysteries are cleared up. There is one connected with those persons who walk across the continent or wheel perambulators from one section to another or undertake to get the autographs of a thousand mayors—all, say, upon a bet. What one would like to know is who puts up the reward or lays down the other half of the wager. We never hear of him. He is more obscure and modest than the head of a bootlegging syndicate and, apparently, every bit as afraid that he will get his deserved punishment.—Toledo Blade.

The Churches
M. E. Church
Sunday school at 10: a. m. Morning worship at 11: a. m.

Card of Thanks
We take this method of expressing our heartfelt thanks for the kind sympathy and assistance extended by all in our bereavement.

Over the Great Divide

A thrilling combination of fact and fiction of an epic of Frontier Days. The story deals with the exploring expeditions of Lieut. John C. Fremont for the United States Government in 1842 and 1843, and combines fact and fiction covering many incidents that actually happened together with added measure of romance which must of necessity be fictitious. Henry B. Walthall and Roy Stewart share the stellar honors, Walthall giving a vivid portrayal of Doctor Webb, such as only Walthall could play it.
