

Specially Built for Hillside Harvesting!

1. Can be used with equal success on hillside or level fields.
2. A real 2-man machine. Bagging platform, centrally located, well balanced. Men work close together.
3. Header platform is parallel to ground at all times. No grain skipped.
4. Operates equally well up hill or down.
5. Cylinder, 24" long, runs on self-aligning, enclosed ball bearings.
6. Five square feet of grate surface beneath cylinder and main beater provides for immediate separation of 80 to 90% of grain at the cylinder.
7. Wide separator (44") permits straw to spread thinly over straw racks for thorough separation.
8. Air blast of shoe fan is distributed evenly over entire area of shoe screen, whether machine is going up or down hill.
9. Recleaning device in addition to shoe—similar in action to fanning mill. Cleans grain thoroughly.
10. Power-operated leveling device. The operator merely moves a clutch lever—the power does the rest.
11. Screens are automatically leveled.
12. All bearings supported on brackets attached solidly to the frame, not to sheet metal siding.
13. Auxiliary engine same as used in Harvester trunks and tractors. Ball-bearing crankshaft.
14. All drive chains are short. Double roller chain and cut steel sprockets on cylinder drive.

One of these Machines will be on display soon at our store

22 Years Ago

April 29, 1904

G. W. Bradley, an old-time personal friend of Homer Davenport, went down to Pendleton last evening to hear the great cartoonist lecture, and to renew old acquaintance.

Miss Laura Brown is visiting friends in Walla Walla.

Grandma Mansfield has been quite ill the past week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cox went down to Pendleton today, where they will attend a reception given at the Matlock home.

Charles D. Huson, formerly of Helix, died at San Bernardino, California, of consumption, aged 24. The remains will be interred in the Walla Walla cemetery.

The Athena band is in receipt of a fine Diston Altoophone, an instrument that will supplant the solo alto horn. Eber Luna is the handsome artist who will play the new instrument, with customary musical proficiency.

Wednesday at 4:30 p. m., in the Christian church, a quiet wedding was solemnized, the contracting parties being Mr. H. P. Curtis, a prominent young business man of Helix, and Miss Nellie Tittsworth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tittsworth, of this city.

J. W. Adams, the carpenter, is building a neat cottage for H. H. Curtis on Third street at the corner of College street.

Seven carloads of freight was received in Athena the first three days of this week, reports the O. R. & N. freight office.

The entire family of Mr. Waddingham near Weston, is down with mumps. This disease is now quite prevalent in that vicinity.

Last evening the ladies of the Rathbone lodge gave their brother and husband Knights a pleasant surprise in their castle hall, in the shape of a bounteous lunch. The ladies were heartily welcomed and a jolly evening passed. The ladies narrowly escaped the necessity of taking the Oriental degree, having surprised the Knights in the act of conferring this degree upon a candidate. Mrs. Archie McIntyre gave one of her inimitable readings, and vocal selections were given by Mrs. M. W. Smith and Miss Maude Gholson. The refreshments consisted of ice cream and cake.

May 3, 1904

Sunday was essentially a Methodist day in Athena, the occasion being the dedicatory exercises and ceremonies at the new Methodist Episcopal church. The Press believes the highest need of praise for the possibility of the creation and the successful termination in the construction of this the finest church edifice in Eastern Oregon is due Rev. Armfield and his building committee. The names of the men on this committee are: Henry Schmitt, Robert Coppock, Alvin Johnson, A. M. Gillis, A. B. McEwen, William Tompkins, Fred Rosenzweig and T. J. Kirk.

Numerous Weston people drove over and swelled the large congregations at the new M. E. church Sunday.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents in Adams, at 1 p. m., Sunday May 1, 1904, Mr. Volney C. Simpson and Miss Esther E. Baker. Rev. J. W. Jenkins, of the Athena Christian church was the officiating clergyman.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Purdy went down to Pendleton Saturday to meet their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Tom Purdy, of Portland, who will visit here and at Weston for some time.

Rev. B. E. Koontz, of Hillyard, Washington visited his mother in this city and attended the dedication ceremonies at the M. E. church Sunday.

Mrs. O. G. Chamberlain leaves this afternoon with her two children for an extended visit with relatives in the Willamette valley.

N. H. Pinkerton was up from his Crook county ranch for a couple of days, returning home yesterday. He reports his country in flourishing condition, and that all the former Athena people who have land in that vicinity are doing well.

Louis Proebstel and Sim Culley were over from Weston Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Rigby, of Pendleton, were guests over Sunday at the Tompkins home.

Animals and Birds

Have Own Domains

If you want a piece of land you buy it, but if a robin wants a garden he fights for it, and so long as he is fit he will continue to fight for it and drive off all intruders of his own kind. Other birds he tolerates, but no other robin, except his own mate, may invade his "property."

Each fox has his own range on which he hunts, and other dog-foxes respect his rights. Badgers have their own territory. There are great earths in the Devonshire woods inhabited by badger families that have been there so long that mankind's oldest families are more upstarts when compared with them!

Golden eagles are very long-lived, and a pair will cling to the same eyrie for many years. Peregrines do the same, but these fine hawks have the curious habit of nesting in one place and hunting in another. Keepers declare that they never touch game in the neighborhood of their nesting place.—London Tit-Bits.

Residents of English

Town "Cultivate" Cats

The old nursery rhyme about the cats of St. Ives is based on a solid foundation, for St. Ives, England is the cat kingdom, as is evident to any visitor. Cats are encouraged to the limit. By an old resident it is thus explained:

"This is a very old town—500 years some of the houses, leastways their cellars, and parts of the foundation are. Now, we keep our fishing gear in the cellars, and there is a terrible lot of rats and mice about in an old place like this. Well, the rats, and the mice, too, would eat the nets; they'd eat us out of house and home if it were not for the cats.

"A characteristic of the cats of St. Ives is that they do a little fishing for themselves. These sleek, well-fed and exceptionally friendly animals delight in a romp over the sand and in dodging the waves. Afterward they will watch for hours by some shallow pool for some unsuspecting fish or small crab which ventures from its retreat from a bunch of seaweed or a rock."—Chicago Journal.

Poetry Restored

Let poetry once more be restored to her ancient truth and purity; let her be inspired from heaven, and, in return, her incense ascend thither; let her exchange her low, venal, trifling subjects for such as are fair, useful, and magnificent; and let her execute these so as at once to please, instruct, surprise and astonish; and then, of necessity, the most inveterate ignorance and prejudice shall be struck dumb, and poets yet become the delight and wonder of mankind.—James Thomson.

Banker in Embryo

A veteran white wing took his boy to the president of a large bank and said: "I want you to start my boy in the banking business, first as an office boy, next as messenger and on up the ladder as bookkeeper, teller, cashier, and so on, up to president."

The executive, not very much impressed with the lad, answered: "That's a good idea, but why not start him in your own line, first as a sweeper, then driver, foreman, superintendent and on to street commissioner?"

"Well," replied the old man, "I thought of that, but, you see, the boy's not right bright."

MELLON TO BACK ANDREWS

Secretary Unmoved by Criticism of Dry Executive.

Washington, D. C.—The clamor of the dries for the resignation of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lincoln C. Andrews, dry czar, because he said prohibition would be easier to enforce if there were light beer, will go unheeded so far as Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is concerned. Mellon said he would back Andrews to the limit.

Andrews' statement before the "beer hearing" that enforcement would be easier if there were light beer in the country was the only statement he could have made, Mellon believes.

"No one but a hypocrite would have answered the question any other way," the treasury secretary said.

Administration leaders had shown some tendency to be angry with Andrews for his blunt statement, previous to Mellon's announcement.

A page from a Massachusetts court docket for the year 1636 reveals that Henry Walton was fined for saying that he would leave hear a dog bark as to hear Reverend Cobbell preach; that Robert Edwards was fined for excess in apparel in wearing sleeve lace and gold buttons; that John Scudly was fined for stealing his master's ox and selling it to him and that Sarah Collins was fined for railing at her husband.—Detroit News.

Washington's School Debts $28,214,409

Olympia, Wash.—School districts of the state of Washington were under a bond and warrant indebtedness of $28,214,409, June 30, 1925, the close of the last school year, it is shown in figures compiled by the division of municipal corporations of the state auditor's office.

Oregon State Auto Income $9,500,000.

Salem, Or.—Motor vehicle operators in Oregon this year will pay in license fees and gasoline taxes approximately $9,500,000, or nearly twice as much as the total direct property tax. This was revealed in a statement issued by the secretary of state.

Ellen Key, Swedish Lecturer, Dies.

Stockholm, Sweden.—Ellen Key, who has had a powerful influence on Swedish literature, died at the age of 75 years.

Judge English Ordered to Face Trial.

Washington, D. C.—Federal Judge George W. English of the Eastern Illinois district, was commanded by the senate to appear at its bar on May 3 at 12:30 p. m., to answer charges of usurpation of power and other misdemeanors.

N. Y. Turns Clocks Forward One Hour.
