A Great Picture

Harold Bell Wright's

A Son of His Father

In his sphere, Harold Bell Wright is the most popular living author in America. Next to the Bible, Harold Bell Wright is the best seller in the world. In filming his latest and greatest novel, "A Son of His Father," Paramount has adhered to the same high standard that has made Zane Grey pictures the outdoor pictures. The setting of "A Son of His Father" is the fascinating story of the changing west as it noticeably shifts even in the little lapse of time between a son and his father. Bessie Love, Warner Baxter and Raymond Hatton are featured in the leading roles of the production.

The Lucky Horseshoe

A William Fox Supreme Attraction

Direct from its successful run on Broadway. A rollicking romance of the West and Old Spain. Feats of daring, thrills, romance, pep, pulchritude and adventure are the ingredients that make "The Lucky Horseshoe" Tom Mix' greatest picture. Tom Mix and Tony provide the thrills; J. Farrell MacDon-ald (Corporal Casey) makes the laughs and Billie Dove and Ann Pennington head the host of beauties in "The Lucky Horseshoe."
