William Fox presents the John Golden Success

Thunder Mountain

From Pearl Franklin's play Hit "Howdy Folks"—a drama of Love in the Hills of Hate.

With Madge Bellamy, Paul Ponzer, Zasu Pitts, Alex Francis, Leslie Fenton and Otis Harlan

fairly throbs with drama—not the blood-and-thunder kind, either. It rocks and quakes and bubbles over with comedy, too. The last scene wells up from a fountain of laughter. Describe it in words? Impossible—you have to see it. Then you will agree that "Thunder Mountain" is entertainment—in seven decimal places.

Bebe Daniels

In

Lovers

In Quarantine

Romantic, Pepful, Humorous, Amusing, Highly Entertaining

It happened this way. He was handsome and didn't like her. She was a go-getter and liked him. So when he thought he was eloping with another girl—he found himself on shipboard—alone with HER! Then complications, and the epidemic of fun spreads like wildfire. Harrison Ford is the explorer who elopes with the wrong girl and gets himself into many amusing situations. The fun starts with these two popular players and gathers speed and laughs with the addition of well known stars in Broadway's leading comedies of the season just closed. In "Lovers in Quarantine," Bebe Daniels convincingly bridges the gap between the ungainly, ludicrous child with a secret admiration for her elder sister's beau, to the poised, gorgeously gowned woman who captivates that young man almost in spite of himself.
