High School Notes

The Junior-Senior banquet was given on Friday, April 22. The decorations were carried out in the Senior class colors, pink and blue and the class flowers, forget-me-nots and pink roses. A roof of twisted crepe paper was placed over the table, and the walls were banked with fir boughs. The table was decorated with two large bouquets of pink roses and tiny roses and forget-me-nots were strewn over the table. In the center of the table a bill was built on which grew miniature pine trees. Tiny kewpies, dressed to represent mountain climbers were in different stages of the climb to reach the blue and pink flag at the top. Mr. Hadley acted as toast master and the following toast all carrying out the idea of the "Climb of the class of 1927" were responded to: "Equipment," Fred Radtke; "Departures," Miss Cornelison; "First Slope," Mr. Stolzhise; "Guide," Granville Cannon; "Harder Climbing," Miss Bateman; "Triumph," Mr. Hadley; "Return Trip," Helen Hansel, Sophomore girls, dressed in pink and blue aprons and caps, served the delicious meal prepared by the Junior mothers.

The student body will make their annual trip to Bingham Springs tomorrow.

Miss Florence Blazier of the school of Vocational Education of O. A. C. spoke to an assembly of the high school pupils Friday. After her general talk she conferred with the senior class.

The Athena 7th and 8th grades gave the Adams high school a good scare by running them for the close score of 7-6. In the 7th inning the grades were ahead of the Adams team one point. It must be remembered that the Adams team has nearly all high school players and that they have played ball with the various teams of the county. In years to come which will not be long, Athena will again be the leading school for baseball as they were for six years straight up to three years ago. Although the Athena team had some high school players none of them have had what you would call actual work. It is a team that has just been organized for the practice.

Mr. Miller entertained the unmarried teachers at a dinner recently which was followed by a theatre party later. All who attended enjoyed themselves very much.

The primary room and the teacher, Miss Sellars, enjoyed a weiner roast at Flint John's ranch. Mr. John's took them out to his place in a hay rack.

Sunday, Mr. Emmett Lee and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, Miss Rodman, Miss Terry, Miss Sellars, Mr. Stolzhise and Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Miller and family enjoyed a pleasant picnic dinner on the Columbia River. While going and coming they tried their skill with rifles upon the jack rabbits which were plentiful.

The grades were happily surprised Friday afternoon by a program given by the third and fourth grades. After the last song, "The Cooky Man," each one present was presented with a cooky man, having red sugar for mouth and cheeks, and raisins for its eyes and buttons on vest. The program was as follows: Japanese Song and drill in costume; Songs, Robins Return, Springtime, Windmill and See-Saw; Clown song, boys, (Jack Miller, clown).

Into Her Kingdom

"You will never live to take the throne," but it wasn't the throne to which she returned—it was to the boy she had sent to Siberia by an imperious wave of her hand—now she wanted him back—for she had traded a royal kingdom for a tiny bungalow in the realm of love—and all was empty without him.

Harold Lloyd

With Jobyna Ralston

For Heaven's Sake

Flashing on the heels of his college comedy classic, "The Freshman," comes another hilarious Harold Lloyd triumph, "For Heaven's Sake." The irrepressible and bespectacled comedian is a millionaire clubman in this, his initial Paramount release, who starts out to uplift the hardboiled denizens in the slum section of his city, and succeeds in stirring up no end of excitement, fun galore, thrills aplenty and a choice assortment of long, loud, lingering laughs.
