HABITS OF DRUGGERY

The Oregon Utility Information Bureau says American housewives adhere to the drugger habit, according to Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, an organization that is directing an intense campaign to educate women to the utility and labor-saving benefits of electrical improvements of recent years. Mrs. Sherman wants to know why 65 American home-makers out of every 100 are still sweeping floors with the back-breaking, dust-raising, germ-cultivating broom, and why 73 women out of every 100 are rubbing the family wash on the old washing board and straining at the old-fashioned wringer when the mechanical machine will do the work better and release the home maker to the care and companionship of her children.

"I am convinced," says Mrs. Sherman, "that in the great majority of cases the answer is the habit of drugger and in a chronic failure to set up against the cost of labor-reducing devices the saving, the increased efficiency, the protection of general weal of the family, all of which accrue from the elimination of drugger by the installation of efficient labor-saving devices."

New auto speed limits in Washington do not allow greater privileges to drivers; they impose greater responsibilities, says the Seattle Star. Formerly the law assumed the responsibility of saying that 30 miles an hour was "safe." Today, it's up to the driver to say what speed is safe. He may be reckless at ten miles an hour. Reckless driving, under the state motor code, is driving that may "endanger or unnecessarily inconvenience other users of the highway." Forty miles an hour is legal speed only when everything else is all right.

Golf, with its millions of dollars pouring into the making of courses and aristocratic country clubs, yet remains a poor man's game—in that it was the game of the common or meaner sort of people in Holland in the earlier centuries. Robert Hunter writes about it in Scribner's Magazine. Our familiarity with the game is circumscribed by what we have read of the battles for the Hamley cup and observing kids trying to knock a billiard ball off a tin can, out in the alley.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers held at Portland this week, brings to mind that soon, within the space of a few short years, they will be called upon to perpetuate the present pioneer organizations of the state. The membership of the present pioneer organizations are rapidly diminishing and only a few are left to sit on the reception stands during annual reunions.

A Swiss cheese maker has arrived in this country and is trying to convince us that Swiss cheese is just as good as ever it was. For the sake of argument let us say that it is. However, matters of American importation of Swiss cheese will continue to remain in statu quo, for the simple though very explicit reason that American Swiss cheese is superior in many ways to Swiss-made Swiss cheese.

Another one-man feat of conquering the Atlantic worthy of mention is that of Captain Thomas Drake, who in his 35-foot "Pilgrim" landed at Plymouth, England, Monday, after crossing the big pond alone from Charleston, S. C., from where he set sail on April 27. All of which begins to prove that you do not have to be in a crowd to cross the Atlantic.

Chicago Heights, one little corner of the windy city witnessed its seventieth gangster killing in two years, when Joseph Lauer 50 year old boarding house keeper was slain by gunmen from a passing automobile. The victim wasn't even offered the courtesy of a "ride."

A new field for burglary activities recently came to light at Yakima, when it was found that thieves forced an entrance to a monument shop in that town and looted a cigar box of checks totaling $280.

One thousand admen, "the fellows who tell the world," met in convention at Portland this week, and Portland is a better town as a result of their visit.

Philanthropic thieves of Warsaw, who rob the wealthy and give their loot to the poor, are given sentences to insane asylums instead of being sent to prison. Maybe that is the reason for so few prisons in Poland.

Twice in the history of its existence has Rapid City been heard of—back in gold rush days, and now as the summer capital of the nation. If the old burg keeps on, it may yet catch up with its speedy name.

The Germans have caught it, to, since Chamberlain landed there in the Columbia. Ernest Udet, a flier of the fatherland will attempt a flight from Munich to New York; and he's apt to do that same.

Cut down navies or rip off the lid, is virtually what Uncle Sam's edict amounts to at the Geneva conference. And we're betting they will be cut.

Layers of Warm and Cold Waters in Lakes

It has been found that some of the salt lakes in Hungary present the peculiarity of a layer of warm, or even hot, salt water between two bodies of colder water. Thus, in the Medoce lake, the surface temperature in summer is about 70 degrees, but at a depth of a little more than four feet the temperature becomes 133 degrees, declining again to 66 degrees at the bottom.

The surface water is fresh, but the warm water beneath is intensely saline, and the explanation of the difference of temperature is that, since the specific heat of salt water is less than that of fresh water, the salt water is more easily heated by the sun, and, having risen to a higher temperature than that of the overlying fresh water, retains its heat, because the fresh water prevents its escape by radiation. It is suggested that some use might be found for these natural reservoirs, or accumulators, of solar heat.

Heroic Roman Figure

Cincinnatus was one of the favorite early heroes of the Roman republic. In the year 400 B. C. he was elected consul, the chief executive officer of Rome. Two years later, in time of great national danger, he was chosen dictator or supreme commander to lead the army against the nation of Gauls, or modern France, that was threatening Italy. The messenger sent to tell him of his elevation to the dictatorship found him plowing on his little farm. He put on his toga, the robe of a Roman citizen, to listen to the reading of his commission, and then he went to Rome and took command. He decisively defeated the enemy, and 16 days later he was at home again at work on his farm.

31 Years Ago

June 19, 1896
Frank Saling, of Weston, found the skeleton of a man near Saling's camp in Weston Mountain, Wednesday of this week. What remained of the skeleton was brought down to Weston, yesterday, and the bleached bones, boots with the tops gnawed off, a pair of rusty spurs and a blue handkerchief once worn around the dead man's neck, afforded much curiosity and speculation as to who and what the dead had been. From the general appearance and condition of the bones brought down in a box they are supposed to be the remains of a young man under 20 years of age, and that death came to him four or five years ago.

Dave Lavender and George Williams were in town yesterday from Weston.

William Gholson is acting as city marshal in Angus Gillis' place, during the latter's illness.

Isaac Mansfield, an old time resident of Umatilla county, is down on a visit from Gray's Harbor.

The band boys rendered several selections on the street Tuesday evening which were greatly appreciated by the public.

A party of Pendleton people visited Athena Friday night to organize a Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., John Hailey being the organizing officer. They were royally received and entertained, being given a sumptuous banquet after the lodge work had been completed. The new lodge is called Mignonette No. 86, and the officers are: Mrs. Mary Rushing, noble grand; Mrs. Anna Gross, vice grand; Miss Leola Young, recording secretary; Mrs. E. L. Barnett, treasurer and permanent secretary; Mrs. A. L. Swagart, chaplain; G. Rushing, R. S. to N. G.; Miss Anna Gholson, L. S. to N. G.; Mrs. M. M. Johns, R. S. to V. G.; Mrs. E. DePeatt, L. S. to V. G.; Miss F. Kemp, warden; Mrs. Lizzie Beale, I. G.; Mrs. George Tittsworth, O. G.

Charles Stansell, Nate Pinkerton and Sam Booher have returned from their prospecting tour. On account of high water and snow, not much progress was made.

George Hewitt worked in the Pioneer drug store a couple of days this week, during Mr. Osburn's absence from town.

We Sell Genuine International Repairs

Made For

By the

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

REPAIRS made for International implements and other farm equipment by the Harvester Company are the only repairs made from the original patterns. All others are copied from copies, and in this roundabout reproduction they may lose in correctness of shape, sharpness of detail, closeness in fitting, and quality of material. These repairs are made for Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee, Titan and other International-made machines.

Genuine Repairs

Are Better in Quality
Fit Better and Wear Longer

The Harvester Company stands back of its machines. Be fair in the matter. Do not substitute imitation repairs for the genuine and expect best service. Repairs made by other concerns and marked "Made for" or "Will fit," are not genuine IHC repairs. They often lack weight, are not always correct in shape, are imperfectly finished, do not fit properly, or are made of inferior material.
