HER NAME IS VIOLET RAY

The Oregon Public Utility Information Bureau tells us there is a new hired man on the American farm. He promises to be the best all-around hand ever. He never asks for a day off. He never wants to go to town. He is on the job, day and night, and ready to go to work on a moment's notice.

Not only does he help with the chores, but he makes hay when the sun isn't shining. He has put bees on a mass production basis. He makes hens lay as many eggs in winter as in summer. He makes cows give the same quality of milk when they are standing in the barn, chewing cud, as when they are out in the green pastures in the spring. He has even controlled the maturity date of crops.

Electricity is this new farm hand. It is showing the farmer tricks he never dreamed of, tricks that may afford a greater measure of "agricultural relief" than the congressional farm experts, working overtime.

"Violet Ray," the little sister of electricity, is this new marvel. Violet promises to become a modern Maude Muller, and so far to outdo Whittier's Maude, as a model dairy-maid. By simply touching the back of Old Bossy, or "irradiating" her, as they call it in the United States Department of Agriculture, Violet Ray makes the milk cow think the summer sun is shining on her back, and she gives milk containing a high percentage of bone-building qualities.

All Bossy has to do is to stand at her stanchion and allow the violet rays to play on her back for from fifteen to thirty minutes a day.

THE INJUSTICE OF IT

The possibility of technical manipulation by shrewd lawyers of American law points is the real basis for world-wide dissatisfaction over the Sacco-Vanzetti case. In England, when a man is found guilty of murder, his case is settled once and forever, and he receives capital punishment within a reasonable length of time. In America it is possible for a convicted client to wear out the resources of one set of lawyers and then employ other counsel to follow up with what they know of the law game. This process of retarding the carrying out of court verdicts is now transpiring at Salem where Kelley and Willos, convicted of participating in the slaying of prison guards, are being reprieved on one pretext or another. The state is now called upon to prove that Kelley was legally imprisoned at the time he participated in the prison break that resulted in the killing of the guards; as though in any sense of justice illegal confinement in prison would to any extent exonerate him for the crime of which he was convicted. Willos' reprieves began with the move by his counsel to prove him insane since his conviction. Alienists found him sane. Nevertheless, last week he received another 30-day reprieve from the governor, on what grounds is not quite clear, but evidently the governor believes that Willos should mark time with Kelley.

Based on number of pupils enrolled, Athena high school again carries the banner over all other high schools in Umatilla county for quota of students entering institutions of higher education. This year Athena tops the percentage list with a total of twenty-one students claimed by University, College and Normal school. From this splendid record it will be seen that Athena maintains one of the very best high schools in the state. The record also discloses that certain rumors of the past to the effect that Athena high was low in rank, compared with other schools of county and state, are without foundation of fact. Any school the size of Athena high that can muster twenty students on the membership rolls of institutions of higher learning is some school, and don't you forget it.

The government experimented with air mail service long enough to find out that there was money to be made in it, then dropped out of the game. The Boeing Air Transportation, incorporated, has taken over all of the air contracts held by the government, and the private concern will develop the business along commercial lines to the extent of carrying passengers and light freight. In pioneering the air lanes for the convenience of man, the government has borne its share and a little more, of expense in money and human lives.

The wholesale value of the Columbia river salmon pack for 1927 has been placed at $6,100,000, and the industry paid 3,000,000 to fishermen.

Not so bad; only $100,000 above an even break between capital and labor.

Class 1 railroads operate one freight car for every 45 inhabitants. This in face of the fact that there is one auto truck operating between Portland and Walla Walla.

Maybe Levine can do something besides talk, at that.

Queen Victoria Story

Some amusing stories concerning Queen Victoria are told by Sir Felix Semon in his autobiography. The queen had a great sense of dignity, but she also possessed a keen sense of humor. For instance, when Sir James Reid, her majesty's physician-in-ordinary, became engaged to one of her maids of honor, the Hon. Miss Baring, the queen was exceedingly angry, and sending for him, lectured him severely. He ought to have known, she told him, that nobody was permitted to propose to a maid of honor without obtaining the queen's permission. Sir James listened, then humbly answered that her majesty was quite right; he certainly would not do it again! This so strongly appealed to the queen's sense of humor that she laughed heartily, and without further ado extended her pardon.

Strictly Private

He was a newcomer to the bank and consequently found his duties rather hard to remember; but all this was forgotten when he received his first pay envelope.

In a businesslike manner he quickly checked the contents before signing the receipt. Then his eye caught the words underlined in black:

"Your salary is your personal business and a confidential matter. It should not be disclosed to anyone."

The clerk grinned as he picked up a pen and signed his name. Below he added briefly:

"I won't mention it to anyone. I am as much ashamed of it as you are."

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Huggins left Monday morning by motor for Hood River where they will be employed during the winter.
