

Experts Attend Opportunity Day At University

Students Get Tips on Jobs; Session to Be Made Annual Affair

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene.—"Business men and women of ability, initiative and originality are needed all over the world, and opportunities in this field were never greater," declared Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon, speaking recently at the banquet of leading business experts of Oregon and students of the school of business administration of the University, gathered for the first annual "opportunity day" to be held here.

This "Opportunity Conference," at which the school of business administration each year brings together experts in the field of commerce and students here, is designed primarily to acquaint the young men and women with present day conditions. Through hearing speakers and by private conferences, the future business men and women obtain definite ideas on what they should study in order to prepare themselves for efficient work.

Accountants Needed
Skilled accountants are in great need at present, and upon men who can do this work largely depends the prosperity of the future, declared Walter D. Whitecomb, librarian, and Ross Bras. It is the accountant of a firm that keeps the people operating efficiently, checks losses and by knowing what is going on all the time, enabling the executives to prepare for the future, he stated.

Business as a career for women is becoming more and more attractive, said Miss Avis Lobdell, director of the women's welfare division of the Union Pacific railway. Freedom from housework, due to modern invention, has enabled even married women to engage in commerce successfully, and there are many fields in which women are even better adapted than men, she declared.

A successful career in business awaits the young man who is willing to start at the bottom and work up, declared Allen Meier, of Meier and Frank company, Portland. Doing more than is expected, learning by experience every day, and watching for opportunities should bring success to any person who enters the business world equipped with a university education, Mr. Meier said.

Foreign Field Good
Opportunities in the field of business for students who prepare themselves for foreign trade were outlined by James F. Feebles, district manager of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and D. P. Miller, who has just returned from the post of assistant commercial attache of the American embassy in Berlin.

Diet of Fish and Meat Keeps Eskimos Healthy

The MacMillan Arctic expedition of 1926, visiting the Eskimos of northern Labrador and of Greenland, was accompanied by a physician who used his time in making studies of the Eskimos' diets to determine some important facts. These Eskimos live for the most part on diets consisting largely of meat and fish. The meats concerned are those of the whale, walrus, seal, caribou, musk ox, Arctic hare, polar bear and fox, as well as those of geese, ducks and gulls. The fish are varied. This food is usually eaten raw.

The physician, Dr. William A. Thomas, reports that, contrary to the general opinion, the Eskimos eat relatively little fat or blubber, using these portions for oil in lighting their homes, in melting ice and snow, for drinking, and, to a very little extent, for cooking food.

Doctor Thomas did not find any scurvy or rickets among these Eskimos—conditions that are known to be due to absence of certain vitamins from the diet.—Dr. Morris Fishbein, in the Scientific American.

Miss Katie McEwen was up from her school at Pendleton Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Baker of Adams, was the guest Saturday of Mrs. G. W. Bradley.

Dr. A. B. Stone and Mr. Barger, the insurance man, drove down to Adams yesterday.

Mrs. O. M. Castleman came up from Pendleton Friday evening and attended the club banquet.

Jack Bigert, who lives near the Tompkins farm, will this week move his family to Lewiston, where they will reside in the future.

On the Athena diamond Saturday the Milton "Bumblebugs" were walloped to a frazzle by the Athena "Grasshoppers" the score being 22 to 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Jones, who were recently married in Pendleton, were visiting relatives in Athena yesterday. They had been in Elgin before coming here.

Carpenters are rushing to complete the fine new residence to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Preston. Mr. and Mrs. Preston went up to Waitsburg yesterday for a few days visit with relatives.

D. B. Jarman has received a letter from Ora Rhodes, who is holding down his ranch near Madras, Ore. Ora writes that prospects are bright in that section and all former Athenaites are getting along nicely.

Yesterday witnessed another hegira to the king's domains. Those leaving Athena were Will Mosgrove, Malcolm McIntyre and family, T. P. Mosely and family, and Archie McIntyre, who has been down on a visit.

Mrs. W. H. Reeder is down from her home in Tacoma, visiting her sons and friends in Athena. Mrs. Reeder reports the family well, excepting Miss Velma Backus, who has not been in robust health for some time.

The Naylor estate was appraised Wednesday by T. J. Kirk, D. A. Pinkerton and James Zerba. The appraised valuation of the estate amounted to $4,615. In addition to this there is 400 acres of growing grain, land leases, etc., which was not appraised and which will bring the valuation up to about $6,000.

Laurance Lieualen was in town Wednesday with a couple of strings of mules. One of the teams was worked with a "jerk line" with Laurance at the other end of the line. The mules were from Missouri and had never been in town before and of course there was something doing. Laurance, however, was equal to the occasion and pulled "haw" and "gee" applying a liberal use of the blacksnake, finally persuaded the mulets to pass along Main street.
