Editorial
Election day has arrived and has caused quite a stir here in school as well as among the older folks. If the students of today take as much interest in the future elections as they do today, there will be no complaint that the citizens of the United States are backward about voting. The lives, and the public services rendered by the candidates of both parties for president and vice-president, have been studied and debated upon so that the students have a good idea of the personal merits of all the candidates and are able to vote intelligently for their choice of candidates.

Athletics
Athena high school football team defeated Waitsburg Hi team Friday, November 2, on the local grounds, 6-0. The field was wet and slippery, so the game was full of fumbles and thrills.
Athena kicked off to Waitsburg at the opening quarter. Waitsburg was forced to kick. Neither team could make much yardage, so a great deal of punting was done. Waitsburg completed several good passes, but was unable to follow up this advantage.
The second period was still a punting duel, except now and then when Waitsburg completed passes. Waitsburg drove to Athena's 30 yard line once but was then held for downs.
The second half opened with Athena receiving the ball at the kick off. Athena was held for downs and was forced to punt. Waitsburg started throwing passes again, but Athena was not to be caught napping again, and Waitsburg did not complete any more passes. Athena completed several passes for first downs but was held and forced to kick.

The play in the fourth quarter was mostly in midfield. It was beginning to get dark and a lot of punting was done. With about one minute and a half to play Athena threw Waitsburg for a loss twice and blocked a kick on Waitsburg's 40 yard line. On successive runs by Myrick and Pittman the ball was taken to Waitsburg's 5 yard line with first down and five yards for a touchdown. It took four downs to buck it over, but on the fourth down it was bucked over right guard and tackle for a touchdown just as the gun shot ended the game. The kick for point after touchdown failed when it hit one of the upright goal posts and bounced back.
