Editorial

In America are found greater opportunities for possessing a thorough education than are found in any other country. Children up to a certain age are compelled to attend school, and the desire for a higher education is instilled in them. Education, from the primary grade through the senior year of high school, may be had by all with little cost, and for those who wish to attend college there are various means of self help and many loan systems.

One of the first evidences of an education is precision and correctness in the use of the mother tongue. The English language is the greatest instrument of communication now in use among mankind. This language is unequalled as a medium to reveal the thoughts, the feelings, and the ideals of humanity, and as a result, the use of this as a universal language is rapidly spreading over the world.

The second evidence of an education is found in the refinement and gentle manners which are the expression of fixed habits of thoughts and action. Manners cannot be put on as the occasion requires but must have a basis of true and deepest self-respect, or else they will fall off at the first mention or touch of a selfish suggestion. As one author once said: "Manners do not make the man, but manners reveal the man."

Student Body

The following student body officers were elected at a meeting held Friday morning: Virgie Moore, editor of the annual; Arthur Crowley, business manager of the annual; Marjorie Douglas, transportation manager; Carolyn Kidder, cheer leader.

Faculty

Miss Brodie was in Walla Walla both Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Meyer were in Walla Walla Friday evening. Miss Mildred Bateman was in Walla Walla and Milton Saturday.

Personals

Helen Foster was in Pendleton Sunday. George and Pearl Green were in Pendleton Saturday. Many students attended the track meet at Weston, Friday, April 19.

Subject Classes

Miss Brodie has had her Latin I class gather clippings from different sources to paste on posters which show the influence of Latin on our modern life. Much time has been spent on these posters, and now they are on the walls of the Latin room, where all the students can see the great influence Latin has had upon the different branches of our everyday life.

Athletics

Helix high school track team won the district track and field meet at Weston Friday afternoon. The final score was Helix 71, Athena 51, and Weston 9. The inability of the Athena team to win more second and third places cost them the loss of the meet.

Myrick of Athena was high point man of the meet with 21 points, with first in the high and broad jump, and the 440 yard dash, and second in the discus throw and 220 yard dash. Ralph McEwen was second with 15 points, with first in the 50, 100, and 220 yard dashes. Crowley won third place in the half-mile. Edwin McEwen made second place in the pole vault and third in the 440 yard dash.

Almost every member of the Athena team was suffering from effects of colds, and Harold Kirk, who had been counted on for several points, was unable to participate due to illness.

Athena Trims Indians

"Pike" Miller's Athena team won from the second team of the Mission Indians Sunday, by the score of 9 to 6, in an abbreviated inning game. The game was a prelude contest to the Adams-Mission league game.

The Brimstone Path

When the revivalist, Torrey, was holding meetings in London, he was annoyed by persons who disapproved of his sermons leaving the hall. Preaching a regular hell and brimstone sermon one night, he told his hearers what a great sorrow it had been to him because he believed one of his aunts had died impenitent. "And she has certainly gone to hell," the evangelist added. A young man could stand no more, and got up and walked out. "Yes, and there goes a young man who will go to hell, too," Torrey shouted. Reaching the door, the young fellow turned around. "Yes, I'm off," he called back. "Ta, ta. Any message for auntie? Or shall I tell her you'll see her later?"—Portland Oregonian.

Emmy Calve, prima donna of Carmen fame, tells this story against herself in her memoirs, "My Life": "I once had an English maid. She was a thoroughly good girl, truthful, honest, obliging, but lacked tact. One day, when on a long train journey, she noticed that a rope of pearls I usually wore were missing, and panic seizing her, exclaimed: "Oh, madam, where are your pearls?" "At home in the safe, I told her, adding that I never wore them when traveling. "Oh, what a pity!" she said. "They make you look like a real lady."

D. Johnson, and against A. A. Laird and Cecile Laird, his wife, Eugene Hales and Archie A. Laird, whereby plaintiff did recover a joint and several judgment and decree against said A. A. Laird and Cecile Laird, his wife, for the sum of $740.26, with interest thereon from the 27th day of June, 1927, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum and the further sum of $26.12 taxes, $100 reasonable attorney fees and plaintiff's costs and disbursements of said suit, taxed at $51.85, and whereby it was decreed that a certain mortgage, executed by said A. A. Laird and Cecile Laird, his wife, to the Bank of Stanfield, a corporation, which duly assigned the same to F. A.
