

VETERAN'S WIDOW SEEKS INSURANCE

Husband Was Inmate of the Veteran's Hospital At Walla Walla.

Spokane—A world war veteran's widow who worked for a living while her husband tried to fight off an attack of tuberculosis today sought to recover insurance money she asserted was paid to a nurse who posed as the man's wife.

Mrs. Clara Johnson of Seattle, Wash., told county officers that she married Charles Johnson just before he left for France in 1917. Two years later after his discharge he contracted tuberculosis and they went to live in the desert in Arizona. When it was seen that Charles needed care in a hospital, the veteran was sent to Walla Walla.

"As it was evident that he would be discharged soon," Mrs. Johnson said, "I stayed in Seattle and worked. He came to see me often, but would not let me come to Walla Walla because he was afraid our daughter would take the disease."

"A year ago," she continued, "Charles was returned to Arizona. I had just saved enough money to go down there and visit him when I saw a notice in a Seattle paper telling of his funeral."

An investigation disclosed, she added, that Mrs. Agnes Russell, a nurse who had once cared for him, posed as his wife and collected his insurance money after she had returned the body to Seattle and buried it there.

Mrs. Russell, employed in a sanitarium here, Frank Funkhouser, deputy county prosecutor said, admitted in answer to questions that she was "both Mrs. Agnes Russell and Mrs. Agnes Johnson."

Portland To Chicago; A 61 Hour Service

Portland.—A. S. Edmonds, assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific railroad, announces that on June 9 that road, in conjunction with the Chicago and Northwestern, would inaugurate a 61 hour train from Portland to Chicago, eclipsing by two hours the time planned by any other road serving the Pacific northwest.

The return trip from Chicago to Portland will be made in 62 hours, 45 minutes. The announcement was made through Edmonds from Carl R. Gray, Union Pacific president.

On March 9 the Great Northern railroad announced it would replace the existing 68 hour train with a 63 hour passenger service sometime this summer. All other railroads immediately announced intention of quickening time from the east, but the Union Pacific decision is the first starting date established.

Intimations that the Great Northern railway may meet the 61 hour transcontinental train running between Portland and Chicago as announced at Portland by the Union Pacific, were contained in a statement issued by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern when informed of the Portland report.

Eastern Washington Hay Situation Acute

Eastern Washington hay growers and operators elaborated on previous testimony of the lack of profits in hay growing and the financial condition of farmers at third day of the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing at Seattle of the proposed 62 1/2 per cent increase in hay rates.

It is better to lease hay growing land in the Yakima Indian reservation, comprising 65,000 acres of irrigated land, than to own farms in that territory outright, Cliff Elliott, of Wapato, testified. He said he owned 80 acres and leased a like amount on the reservation.

The Feed Dealers' association of Washington is to submit evidence Monday denying allegations of railroads that feed dealers absorb large profits. Leading western Washington dairymen and representatives of distributors are also expected to take the stand in opposition to the proposed rate increase.

Editorial AS A SENIOR

Graduation! What memories this word brings to the minds of older people. They can look back upon that time and at their accomplishments; time and it is for those seniors who are very soon to graduate that the problem—but a joy—of looking ahead comes. These students will soon be out into the different parts of the world pursuing their various means of a living. Who can tell what they will achieve? Who knows but that among them are some that will become great and prominent men in this mighty nation of ours? It is truly a wonderful age for those who wish to forge ahead in the world; it is the age of new discoveries, new doctrines, and great achievement of science.

But underneath the joy of graduation and of the knowledge that they will soon be on their own responsibilities, there must be pangs of sorrow at the thought that they are soon to leave their school—and many students of Athena Hi have never gone to any other school in all their twelve years of learning. Their sorrow must be great at having to leave the comradeship and constant connection with their schoolmates of whom they know nothing of what the future holds in store.

So to you, class of '29, we give our hearty congratulations, and as you have done in the past, do also in the future—"Stick to the Ship."

Faculty
Miss Sadie Coe, of Walla Walla, was a guest of Miss Brodie Sunday. All of the faculty attended the Junior-Senior banquet Saturday evening.

Student Body
The new officers of the student body gave their "inauguration" speeches Friday morning at a student body meeting. The resignation of Carolyn Klidder as cheer-leader was accepted, and the following nominations were made for cheer-leader: Raymond Freeze, Roland Wilson and Curtis Duffield. It was decided at the meeting that there should be an advanced sale of annuals. A motion was made and accepted that the student body should go to Bingham Springs Saturday. It was decided that the freshmen and seniors would furnish the noon meal, and the sophomores and juniors would furnish the evening meal.

Entertainment
The annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held at the Grand Hotel in Walla Walla, Saturday evening, April 27. The table was in the shape of a horseshoe, and the senior colors, rose and cream, were carried out in decorations of tall tapers, sweet peas, nut cups, and place cards. Above the table was suspended a gaily decorated airplane, symbolic of the senior motto, "Stick to the Ship." On the center of the "U" of the table was a large bouquet of red rosebuds, the class flower.

John Kirk, Junior president, was the toastmaster and introduced the following speakers who responded to toasts that carried out the theme, "The Record Flight of the '29."
The Pilot.....Wilford Miller
Wings.....Wayne Pinkerton
Propeller.....Mr. Meyer
Fuselage.....Eldon Myrick
Air Pockets.....Miss Bateman
The Spirit of the Flight, "Stick to the Ship".....Ralph McEwen
After the banquet the two classes attended the show, "The Trail of '98."

Athletics
Helix baseball team defeated the Athena nine, at Helix, 18-2, Tuesday afternoon. The local defeat was largely accounted for by the large number of errors made by the local team. The Athena boys could not come up to the pitching of Tucker.

Class Notes
A joint meeting of the seniors and freshmen was held Friday, April 26. The presidents of the two classes appointed the following committee to take charge of the dinner for the Bingham trip Saturday: Wilford Miller, Emma Ringel, Marjorie Wilson, Arlene Myrick, Goldie Miller, and Betty Eager.

A joint meeting of the juniors and sophomores was held Friday, April 26. The presidents of these classes appointed the following committee to take charge of the supper for the Bingham trip Saturday: Thelma Schrimpf, Virgie Moore, Frances Cannon, and Myrtle Campbell.

Personal
Mary Tompkins was in Walla Walla Saturday.
Goldie Miller and Curtis Duffield were in Pendleton Sunday.

Alberta Charlton and George Gross were in Walla Walla Sunday.

1st & 5 Grades
Virginia Eager, Woodrow Wilson, and Dale McLean were absent from school this week.
