"The Wolf Song"
Standard Theatre tomorrow night.
Fred Hodgen was in town from Adams, Wednesday.

During the hot spell, the ice man is having troubles of his own.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinkerton of Weston, were Athena visitors Tuesday.

Rev. Carl McConnel and family visited relatives in Weston and Athena, this week.

Mrs. Gerald Kilgore will go to a Walla Walla hospital next week, for the purpose of having her tonsils removed.

A slight shower early yesterday morning and a west breeze tempered the heat wave considerably during the day.

A number of Athena farmers and their families will go to the sea shore and other resorts, with the completion of harvest.

H. J. Cunningham was up from Pendleton and installed a Frigidaire in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. George Banister.

Thursday of last week was the ninth birthday anniversary of Beverley Barrett, and to celebrate the occasion twenty-one girl friends were invited to the Barrett lawn, where games were played and refreshments were served. Grandma Jennie Barrett baked a fine birthday cake for the occasion, and a general good time was enjoyed by the girls present.

With continued diminishing in the supply of water from the springs, the volume of water in Athena's municipal system is now practically confined to that supplied from the pumping station at the well. So serious had the shortage developed that it was impossible to refill the swimming pool at City Park the fore part of the week, without making inroads on the domestic reserve.

Mrs. Goldie Bacon of Vancouver, Washington, is in Athena, visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Kershaw. Mrs. Bacon, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Barbara Willaby, will leave Sunday for Fayette Lake where they will remain indefinitely at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Castleman, of Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Kershaw and Miss Frederica Kershaw will join them later at the lake.
