Editorial (Myrtle Campbell)

Be a booster instead of a knocker! Crabbing never wins, it takes a smile and a word of praise to bring co-operation and success to an individual, and the same thing is adaptable to use in any institution. If every one in a student body will cooperate and take an interest in the meeting it gives them civic pride and also gives the public a better opinion of the school.

When every one in a school is a booster, it brings about class co-operation, and creates a greater interest in student activities. These things are achieved by each individual being willing to pay his student body dues, by being an active member in class meetings, attending games and backing up the teams whether they lose or win.

Being a booster instead of a knocker helps every school and every community.

Athletics

The Athena boys motored to Hermiston last Friday and gave a good account of themselves against the Sand Diggers, with the final score being, 6-2 in favor of the Sand Diggers. Although the boys found it hard going in the sand they did better than in previous games with them.

The Sand Diggers made their only touchdown in the third quarter on a pass. In the fourth, Myrick blocked a punt and scored a safety.

Athena could do nothing against Hermiston's stonewall defense and reverted to passing, making most of their yardage via the aerial route.

The line up was: Jack Moore and Huffman, ends; Pambrun and Hansell, tackles; Ralph Moore and Bob Campbell, guards; Singer, center; Crowley, quarter; Rogers and Kirk; halves; Myrick, full.

Entertainment

The Sophomore Class entertained the student body with the freshmen initiation Friday, the eighteenth, at eight o'clock, in the gymnasium. The freshmen were each presented with green and white bonnets and bibs as they entered the gym, and were treated like babies, "handled with care," throughout the evening. The gym was attractively decorated with "Welcome Freshmen" written in large green letters on the wall and children's pictures suggesting nursery rhymes, helped to create the atmosphere of a nursery. Around the gym were kiddie cars and baby toys which each freshman used in making his impromptu stunt a realistic interpretation of childish play. After the freshmen were accepted as members of the high school, games were played by everyone, including the faculty members. The freshmen were served ginger bread men decorated in green with ice cream and punch to carry out the baby motif. The guests were served with cake, orange ice cream and punch.
