Editorial
(Stafford Hansell)

A good reputation is hard to get but not so hard to lose. Nothing will gain an honorable reputation but a long period of honorable deeds. One misstep and it is all gone for naught. One bad action over-balances that long period of fair and honest action. Yet this is only fair, because when an individual does not live up to the trust placed in him on one occasion, it is possible that he may fail this trust at another time. That one blot is always pointed out and never forgotten. A boy might be a star on an athletic team and play outstandingly in nearly every game, but if he fails in one game, his coach could not place trust in him again. His reputation for steadiness has been broken and for several years the fans would point him out for his misplay in that one game. His reputation, built up by long effort, has been lost in one game.

A man who owns a business, which is outstanding for its fair dealings has an enviable reputation, but if he goes back on his policy and is connected with some unscrupulous dealing, his good reputation of other years is forgotten. A good reputation broken is rarely attained again, for few people have the determination to build up a reputation after they have lost one.

Money lost can be gained again, but a reputation is priceless. A person should carefully guard his reputation. He should regard the reputation of another as something not to be played with and should never say anything that will directly or indirectly lead to ruining another's reputation, unless he is positive and has evidence of his guilt.

Weekly Assembly

The high school students hope to have a short assembly period once each week except during examination weeks. Probably once each month a longer assembly period will be arranged for and a more comprehensive program will be arranged. It is hoped that each class will take over the responsibility for a special assembly program during the school year. Parents will be invited to attend these assemblies.

School Orchestra

"Is there enough interest in music to make it possible to develop a high school orchestra?" This was the question discussed at the last assembly period. The students are all interested in vocal music. But a balanced high school program requires an orchestra or band. It was suggested that the Conn band instrument people cooperate with schools that wish to organize orchestras or bands and furnish expert instruction to get them going. There is no question but that Athena High school needs an orchestra. And the hope was expressed that something might be done to develop one in the near future.

The Heating Plant

The school heating plant is working very well these cool mornings. The building is pleasantly warmed by the time school takes up. The automatic stokers are controlled by a thermostat that shuts them down when the temperature reaches 70 in the rooms, and kicks them into action again when the temperature reaches 68. Each room is equipped with an individual thermostat so the teacher can control the temperature of the room by mixing more or less cold air with the air stream that is forced into the room. Pure air is thus furnished every room by forced fan draft.

Subject Classes

The scrap books which the United States history class has been working on, under the supervision of Mrs. Areta Gurney are finished and the decision, as to the best book, went to the book on "The Flag." The composers of this book are Elizabeth Walters, Emery Rogers and Herbert Reeder.

The scrap books made by the Sophomore Class on "How to Study," under the supervision of Miss Beulah Smith have been completed. A copy has been given to the Principal, Mr. E. E. Coad for criticism. If this book is accepted the Sophomore class hopes to have copies printed and presented to all Freshmen who enter high school next fall.

Student Body

Planting a lawn on the school ground to replace the cinders and to beautify the school has been discussed before the student body. Whether the student body will do it or some class will be decided on in the future.

Alumni

Curtis Duffield, former student of Athena high school, is now attending Jefferson high at Portland. Wayne Pinkerton, a last year graduate of this school and living in Milton, was a visitor here over the week-end. Ralph and Edwin McEwen visited their parents here over the week-end.

Faculty

Miss Beulah Smith and Miss Dorothy Brodie, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Straughan from Adams, motored to Walla Walla, Saturday where they spent the day shopping.

Grades

La Velle Gagnon, of the Athena grade school, has withdrawn from school. She will leave for Walla Walla, where she will resume her studies.

The members of the Athena grade school board, presented to the first, second, third and fourth grades a new portable Victrola. The students enjoy it very much, but as yet have not a sufficient number of records.

Entertainment

Another song service was enjoyed by the students last Friday morning in the school auditorium. The songs were led by Miss Beulah Smith accompanied by Mrs. Areta Gurney at the piano.

Classes

The classes will sit in groups while in the auditorium hereafter. The freshman group shall sit in the front rows, then the sophomores, next the juniors, and last the seniors. This is done to enable group singing.

Personals

Elizabeth Walter and Mary Tompkins spent Saturday in Walla Walla. George Pittman was a Hermiston visitor Sunday.

Goldie Miller and Myrtle Davis spent Saturday shopping in Pendleton. Raymond Freeze was in Milton Sunday.

John Kirk and Robert Lee were guests of Mrs. Lillian Fredericks of Weston Sunday.

Athletics

Basketball practice is beginning in earnest this week. There are about fifteen boys turning out regularly and they are settling down to the old grind quite determinedly. The boys are working hard and so is Coach "Pike" Miller. He is devising ways and means of leading his basketball squad through a successful season.

There is some very promising material among the freshmen boys and "Pike" says that he expects to have two teams pretty evenly matched.

Let's all root for a successful basketball season. Come on A. H. S. let's go!

See Clara Bow in "Dangerous Curves" at the Standard Theatre, tomorrow and Sunday nights.

Dr. Fred Lieuallen of Pilot Rock and Miss Myrtle Hawks were united in marriage at Walla Walla Saturday. The contracting parties are highly esteemed in this county and are well known in this city, where they have numerous friends who unite with the Press in extending congratulations. The doctor is a son of J. T. Lieuallen of Adams and his bride is a daughter of R. O. Hawks of Pendleton, and spent a portion of her girlhood in Athena.

D. C. McIntyre and S. L. Spencer are on jury duty at Pendleton this week.

Mrs. Otis Whiteman and children leave today for a visit with relatives in Walla Walla county.

Clint Thomas last week moved his family from this city to Walla Walla, where he will go into business.

Misses Lula Sharp, Keta Rothrock and Cecile Boyd were over from the Weston Normal Wednesday between trains.

Miss Eva Rider, the efficient manager of the local telephone system in Athena, had business in Pendleton Saturday.

Misses Carrie Sharp and Aicy Foss, teachers in the Pendleton public schools, spent Sunday at their homes in this city.

Miss Lizzie Sheard spent the first of the week at her home near town, from Whitman college, where she is attending school.

Miss Ida Montgomery and Byron Jensen, both formerly of Athena, were married recently in Portland, where they are at present reside.

Principal Miner, of the Athena Public school, assistant principal Smith and Miss Velma Wilkinson will attend the teacher's institute at Baker City, next week.

Dr. Sharp reports a new boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lieuallen. The young rancher made his appearance at the Lieuallen home, Tuesday, November 18, 1908.

Austin Foss will next week take his annual two weeks vacation, going to Seattle and Tacoma, returning by way of Portland and visiting his brother and sister at Moro, Sherman county.

The rain which fell Tuesday night and a portion of Wednesday found the farmers with their crops practically all sown. The rain was needed in fact the water wagon can make as many trips as it wants to.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tompkins and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmitt will go to Waitsburg next week, where they will attend the wedding of Miss Clara Vollmer, a niece of Mr. Schmitt, and will also spend Thanksgiving.

Otis Whiteman returned the first of the week from an extended tour through the northern part of Washington. He has not fully decided where he will locate, but will probably return to that part of the country in the near future.

Mrs. Joe Banister was down from near Pullman this week, visiting friends. Mrs. Banister informs the Press that the house recently burned in that neighborhood, reported to have belonged to her son-in-law, was the property of another Herman Curtis, and not the H. H. Curtis well known here. This is gratifying to his friends who sympathized with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis in their supposed loss.

Christmas is already being planned for by the churches and Sunday schools, and will be observed with old-time enthusiasm at all three of the churches. Programs are being arranged and rehearsals are under way. The Christian church choir is arranging a cantata which will be given in the church some time during the holidays.
