MORE MONEY VOTED FOR WAR VETERANS

Bill To Increase Compensation Passes House By a Vote of 324 to 49.

Washington.—Sweeping increases in the government's compensation policy for World War veterans were voted by the house after more than a week of debate, climaxed by a tumultuous eight hour session in which many predictions were freely made that President Hoover would veto the measure.

In the face of protests by Chairman Wood of the appropriations committee that such legislation should not be enacted in view of the president's request that expenditures be curtailed, a bill to provide compensation for every disability incurred up to Jan. 1, last was approved 324 to 49, and sent to the senate.

Ordinally sponsored by Chairman Johnson of the World War veterans committee, the measure was so greatly altered by amendment that its author, after failing in an effort to have it sent back to his committee, obtained unanimous consent to change its name to the "Rankin Bill."

Representative Rankin of Mississippi, democrat, was responsible for many of the changes in the measure. Among others was an amendment proposed by Rep. Connery, democrat, Massachusetts, advancing the time limit of the presumptive clause from Jan. 1, 1925, as carried in the original bill to Jan. 1, 1930.

Catch Escaped Prisoner

Thomas J. Hazelwood, trusty, who escaped from the Walla Walla prison farm, was apprehended by the Pasco police less than ten hours after his absence was first noticed. Guards from the prison left immediately and returned Hazelwood to his cell.

Weston Lad Who Saved Little Girl From Drowning, Denied Recognition

Weston Leader: Melvin Barnett, eight years old, who early in March rescued Marilyn Adkins, five, after she had fallen into the raging waters of Pine creek in the upper end of town, will receive no recognition from the Carnegie Hero Fund commission of Pittsburgh, Penn. Although it has been well authenticated that Melvin effected the rescue at imminent risk to his own life, and that last year he saved his younger brother at the same spot in the same manner, his courageous act, it appears, does not come within the scope of the Carnegie Fund.

L. O. Case interested himself in the matter and supplied the Carnegie commission with facts and evidence. Below is the text of the reply he received from F. M. Wilmot, under date of April 15:

"Your letter of recent date, giving information on the case of Melvin Barnett, was duly received.

"The Carnegie Hero Fund applies to acts in which conclusive evidence may be obtained showing that the person performing the act voluntarily risked his own life in saving, or attempting to save, the life of a fellow-being.

"While Master Melvin's act is commendable, from the facts at hand it does not appear that it was attended by any extraordinary risk to his own life; and for this reason his case, I regret to say does not come within the scope of the fund."

Tomato Planting

There has been very little done in the tomato industry in the Walla Walla valley during the past week, but most of the farmers are planning to start setting out the hothouse plants by the middle of this week or the first of next if the weather remains warm.

TRACTOR SETS NEW ENDURANCE RECORD

Data on Continuous Operation Being Gathered by State College.

With every kind of marathon from flag-pole sitting to airship fights vying for attention recently, Oregon State college has come forth with a farm tractor endurance run which since its start on April 12 has broken two world records and was still going strong at last reports. The machine, a Caterpillar 10, has been operated day and night without stopping the engine.

Working under actual farm conditions, the tractor is equipped with every sort of automatic device obtainable to register draft with various implements, total revolutions of engine and miles traveled, fuel and water consumption, track wear and other factors. The test is being checked by both the agricultural and engineering schools.

Alternating with plows, disks, harrows and floats, the tractor has cultivated a considerable area of the college farm and an entire 130 acre prune orchard as well as some other property.

National Child Health Day Observed Yesterday

National Child Health Day was observed by the nation yesterday. In many places appropriate programs were offered and health organizations united in effort to impress on their communities greater endeavor in the promotion of better conditions and health environment for child welfare.

In observance of the day, President Hoover penned the following "Child's Bill of Rights":

The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America.

That has not been born under proper conditions.

That does not live in hygienic surroundings.

That ever suffers from undernourishment.

That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection.

That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health.

That has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body.

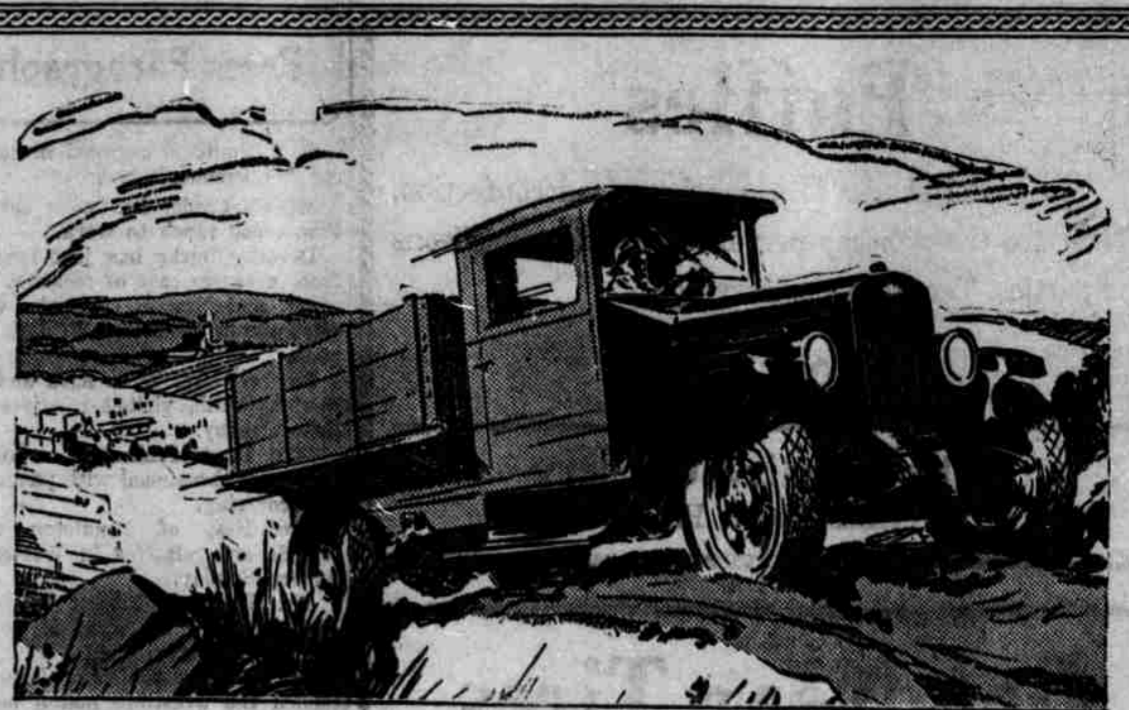

That has not the encouragement to express in the fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being.

Phi Delta Win 12-2

Athena ..... 2 4 6

Batteries: Phi Deltas, Hoon, Jones, and Shields; Athena, R. Wilson, Huffman, J. Wilson and Crowley.

Something New in a Truck

WAY from the harvester-thresher, loaded to the brim with ripe, yellow grain. Rubber tires rolling through the soft dirt and stubble. Across ditches. Up steep rises with a 60-bushel load! It makes no difference how deep down the bottom is, so long as the wheels can reach it, this truck will bring every load through! And on the hard highway it will give you more speed than you can use—safely controlled by 4-wheel brakes.

It is the modern answer to the rural haulage problem, a Speed Truck with two complete power ranges, with six speeds forward and two reverse. It is International Harvester's famous "SIX-SPEED SPECIAL."

What the grain farmer does with this truck you can do with a capacity load of live stock, milk and cream, produce, fruit, feeds, building materials, or anything else. It is the market's best combination of high road speed and pulling power. It is a handsome quality product, strongly built, up to the minute in every detail. Let the Six-Speed Special tell you its own story. We will give you a thorough demonstration when you say the word.

HARRY L. CORBETT

Republican Candidate

for Governor

"I aspire to the office of governor because I should like to be of service to the state in which I was born, in which my ancestors helped to develop and in which my children will live after me."

"I will enforce the laws with sincerity and justice and will appoint no man to enforce a law who does not observe the law."

"I will use ceaseless vigilance to prevent waste in state expenditures. I will be ready to spend a tax dollar for progress if convinced that the state will receive full value for it."

"I believe in the steady completion of our highway system. I shall continue to oppose interfering with the duties of the State Highway Commission for the purpose of log-rolling. The state will pass the peak of its road bond retirement in 1932, and I hope that greater aid may then be given our program of market roads."

"If elected, I will not be obligated to make any appointment in return for political support."

"I will make every appointment on the basis of merit."

"I will work for the greater development and welfare of Oregon."

"These things I shall take upon myself as a serious duty and a solemn pledge to the people of the State."
