Athena, Oregon, October 17, 1930

The last week's issue of the Commercial Review, Portland, had the following encouraging notes on the wheat situation: "The week revealed the news that sales to China were considerably more than most of the trade realized, to date there having been posted seven full cargoes to China and one to Japan. It is rumored that there are a couple more Japanese cargoes sold but held under cover. The Pacific Northwest is somewhat blessed with the buying by China and Japan. These two buyers do not seem to share in the demoralization, wheat being down to a price that it can feed its masses in quantities. As a result, much wheat will move out of this section. Shipments during October will be the heaviest of the present season. There are sufficient cargoes sold to Europe and the Orient, along with quite heavy parcel sales, to insure this heavy movement."

Geese raising does not receive the attention by the farming community that the business warrants, says an expert of the Canadian department of agriculture. The farm is the natural habitat of the goose, providing those two great essentials to successful geese raising—free range and abundance of green foods. Raising a flock of geese is one means by which the farmer can reap a good reward with a very small investment and comparatively little labor. Geese command a good price on the Christmas market and the demand is always greater than the supply, the expert declares.

Senator Bailey, democratic candidate for governor has the distinction of being one of the biggest men in stature and weight that has ever aspired to the office in this state. Another distinction that may be properly claimed for Senator Bailey is that he is the only candidate of the three running for the office of governor who has received his nomination direct from the people in the primary election. Metschan, republican candidate was named by the republican state central committee and Meier, independent, received his nomination at a meeting of Meier voters.

As the campaign enters its closing weeks before election day, November 4, the prospects of E. C. Prestbye, democratic candidate for State Senator from Umatilla and Union counties undoubtedly grow brighter. His republican opponent, Fred Kiddle, appears to be losing ground, and reports from Union county are to the effect that Prestbye is well liked by the voters who have met him. Mr. Prestbye, who received the nomination without any solicitation whatever on his part, has made a very creditable campaign for himself and the party he represents.

Dr. Henry Baldwin Ward, University of Illinois biologist and ex-national president of the Izaak Walton League who is visiting Oregon as a consulting expert for United States Bureau of Fisheries studying salmon streams, declares that if stream pollution is continued for a few years longer, there will not only be no fish life left in our streams, but the streams themselves constitute a menace to public health. "We must destroy pollution or pollution will destroy us," is his summary.

E. E. Brodie and family will return to Oregon City for the winter from Finland, to which country Mr. Brodie is minister from the United States. At home Mr. Brodie is publisher of the Oregon City Enterprise. Maybe he is coming back to write an editorial or two, but we surmise a fire-place in a certain fine home on the banks of the Clackamas looks better to Ed than the frozen fjords of Finland.

A Walla Walla paper is about to start another hokey campaign for subscriptions. It is one of those popularity throwbacks, sprinkled with automobile prizes to steam up interest among contestants. The real, self-supporting newspaper shies clear of popularity contests and holds its subscribers by gathering news for them.

Good roads are so necessary to modern life that people will change their place of abode to get to them. The new census figures for four southern states show that the only one of them to do any extensive road building in the past decade increased her population 24 per cent. The others gained only about three per cent.

A five-day work week movement has received the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor, but action on the proposed five-hour work day was deferred. Figures submitted at the meeting of the federation showed that at the present time more than 500,000 members were working on the five-day week plan.

After hunting deer faithfully without luck, Lester Martin of Newport shot and killed a buck while standing in his doorway. It would appear that Newport has something to offer other than salmon and summer beach dazlers.

Ex-President Coolidge is pleased to find after a decade of woman suffrage, the gentle sex have not abused the privilege vouchsafed them. In other words they have not crowded mere man on the political boardwalk.

Hank Bruder, star halfback of Dick Hanley's Northwestern football team broke out with smallpox at a herocoe party. Result: Everybody at the party, some three hundred strong, were up for vaccination.

Those Washington State grid stars received their reward. The coach gave them permission to date their best girl friend after winning the Southern California football game.

And now it is proposed to put teeth in the federal reserve bank reforms that will prevent recurrence of the orgy last fall that resulted in the crash of the stock market.

"Legs" Diamond, New York gangster was put on the spot, but not out, when two gunmen pierced his body—not his legs—with five bullets.

Federal army officers deny rebel victories in Brazil, but anyway you look at it, that's war in them that jungles down there.

Thirty forest fires are raging in the state of New Jersey, while out here everything is "jake."

Born, at their farm north of Pendleton on October 15, 1907, to Mr. and Mrs. Will Campbell, a son.

James Bell and wife have moved to town from the ranch on Wild Horse creek, and will occupy the Bell residence on 4th and Jefferson streets.

Old sidewalks are being torn up and new ones laid on Fourth street and vicinity where they are most needed. The walk in front of the Coppock lot has been rebuilt. Other and worse walks will be repaired soon, then if property owners could be induced to trim the lower branches of trees overhanging sidewalks, passersby might travel both with safety and comfort. Let the good work go on.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swaggart are in Walla Walla, where Mr. Swaggart has had his celebrated Poland China hogs on exhibition at the fair this week.

Joseph N. Scott and John Walter left Wednesday noon for a short visit to Spokane.

Principal and Mrs. H. I. Watts spent Saturday night and Sunday with Pendleton friends.

Miss Mattie Coppock has purchased the residence property of O. G. Chamberlain in the south part of town, consideration, $1450. The property will be for rent.

Doug Flynn went over to Walla Walla Sunday night in company with F. S. LeGrow to assist in the relay race which he so successfully rode last year for W. R. Taylor.

Miss Minnie Crawford, of Illinois, was a guest for several days of her cousin, H. O. Mansfield and wife, in this city. Miss Crawford left Monday for Seattle, where she will visit friends.

city Tuesday from Weston on a short visit with her children here.

Miss Jessie McEwen, who is attending the Pendleton Academy, spent Sunday at her home in Athena.

Mrs. Chance Rogers of Weston, with her sister, Mrs. Watts, was shopping with Athena merchants Wednesday.

Marshal Wm. Gholson took a vacation yesterday, and with his daughter, Miss Maud, attended the Walla Walla fair.

Tom Mosley writes from his ranch 3 miles from Clatskanie, Alberta, that this season he had 4000 bushels of wheat, which sold at 85 cents. He is doing well and is pleased with his prospects in the northern country.

Among those attending the fair at Walla Walla this week were noticed Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gross and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kershaw, Arthur Douglas and a host of others.

Sunday afternoon at the O. R. & N. depot those who were standing about waiting for the delayed train witnessed a little incident which might have proven something much worse. A little 6-year-old boy was noticed standing on the track, softly crying. At first no one took notice, but soon he attracted the attention of Marshal Gholson, who found that the little fellow had slipped his shoe into the railroad irons in such a manner that it was almost impossible to extricate it. The train was then overdue, and it was only just in time that the foot was slipped from the shoe and the boy liberated, after five minutes frantic effort, for the train came lumbering in, amid the sighs of relief from the crowd.

A case of scarlet fever has developed in the family of Mr. Whitlock, who resides in one of the Chas Brown cottages in the north part of town, and the home was promptly placed under quarantine Tuesday. The case is that of a little girl and is in very mild form.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Preston returned Monday afternoon to Walla Walla, after several days' stay in Athena. They were accompanied in their car by Miss Jeanette Manasse, who spent Tuesday visiting friends in Walla Walla, and Uncle John Callender, who visited the fair.

There is very little for Admiral Byrd to hunt for now. Unless he drops a collar button.

A. M. Johnson, Editor.

There was a time when pole wood was the supply of fuel for Centerville. But today Tum-a-lum offers several different stocks of coal for the bin, and first grade wood for the shed. See Matt about it.

All roads do not lead to Athena, but there are a couple of good ones down Tum-a-lum way. Take either one of them when in need of building material or fuel.

Relatively, according to Einstein, is defined as—"When you sit with a nice girl for two hours you think it is only a minute, but when you sit on a hot stove for a minute, you think it's two hours. That's relativity."

Two minutes is more than ample time to call us about any repairs, alterations, or painting you wish done to your home. And after we have finished the work, it will seem like eternity before it will be necessary to call again.

Our Handy-Man Service is still working and includes all kinds of building or painting work you wish to have done. We are always glad to get you in touch with competent workmen.

Floods may come and floods may go, but Matt is down there at the ol' Tum-A-Lum office forever, ready to take your order for building material or fuel.
