ROUND-UP WILL BE NO HOLD-UP

Rooms to Rent at Maximum Price of $2.50 and Are Being Listed.

Pendleton.—A Pendleton business man had put up a Round-Up guest in his home. Each discovered that the other had spent time in Alaska and the Yukon in the gold rush days. As is the way when two Sourdoughs meet, the story-telling was on.
The general topic turned to high prices that prevailed in those days beyond the Circle. Said the visitor: "I mind paying a miner a dollar a loaf for two loaves of bread."
"Did he live in a cabin on Such-and-Such creek?" asked the business man, with growing excitement.
"Yes. Why? Do you know him?"
"Well, yes. I was the miner."
That sort of thing is bound to happen when a community's citizens open their homes to provide accommodation for a throng several times the city's population. Last year more than 1200 rooms were listed at the Round-Up accommodation headquarters.
The headquarters staff is now inspecting and listing rooms for the 22nd annual Round-Up scheduled for August 27, 28 and 29, and reservations for such rooms are already coming in. Many letters ask rooms in homes in which the writers stayed at previous shows, for warm friendships have grown up between host and guests.
"Make your reservations now," is the accommodation staff's warning, and also, "First come, first served."
A maximum price of $2.50 a room has been set and no room will be listed unless the host agrees to that stipulation.
The Round-Up has also acted to prevent possible overcharging elsewhere during the show. Proprietors of hotels, lodging houses, restaurants and stores have given $100 bonds with the agreement that they will be forfeit if overcharging is proved.
Meanwhile those in charge of the Round-Up and Happy Canyon, the night show with its pageant, frontier games and dance, are at work on their programs.
Here is the calendar of most important pre-Round-Up events:
August 5—Two carloads of Texas longhorns will arrive to furnish proper competition for ropers and bulldoggers.
August 10—Bucking trials will start at the Round-Up paddock. For these try-outs all the cowboys, real or mail-order, turn out from Pendleton and all the country round.
August 15—That night Pendleton becomes a cowtown and stays that way until after the Round-Up. The celebration starts with a night range costume parade and closes with a dance in Happy Canyon.

Firefighters Concentrate On Fires in Two States

Armies of fighters from Idaho and Montana converged on the Deer creek forest fire which had charred 25,000 acres and was roaring out of control before a brisk wind.
Nearly 600 men recruited from Idaho were attempting to trench it on the Idaho front, 25 miles northwest of Bonners Ferry, and pack trains were sent in from the Montana side. Fighters were mobilized in Kalispell and other Montana towns, the forest office at Missoula reported.
Airplane scouts, hampered by the heavy black smoke pall that covered the Yaak river drainage area, the largest in the region, but it was speeding northeasterly.
The rugged, mountainous and rocky terrain made trenching difficult, and marshals said control was out of sight. Great stands of merchantable white, yellow and lodge-pole pine and larch were being destroyed.
Fires raged over a dozen fronts in other sections of north Idaho and eastern Washington. The town of Loon lake was wiped out and the fire swept on toward summer resorts on the lake. Telephone and telegraph lines were destroyed. The Lone Lumber company mill was threatened for a time but 100 fighters checked the blaze and little valuable timber was burned. Most other fires were small and little good timber was damaged.

Smut in Washington Wheat Cause of Fires

Numerous big grain field fires in Eastern Washington have been caused from smut during the past few weeks. A large acreage in Walla Walla and Whitman counties has been lost by fire since harvest began.
Members of the harvest crew on the Frank Porter farm near Prescott, were burned about the hands and face Friday when they rescued the mules hitched to a combine which caught fire. The flames spread rapidly and the mules as well as the men were singed by fire. Greater damage would have resulted to the Porter crop had not the crew acted promptly.

Start Prune Harvest
Prunes, the second major crop of the Walla Walla valley will start being harvested about August 15. This year's crop will amount to about two-thirds of last year's production.

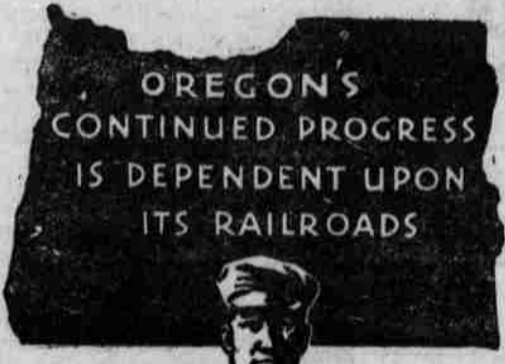

Eastern Farmers 200 Strong, Coming to Coast

Eastern farmers, the difficulties which attend the agricultural industry notwithstanding, are pooling $80,000 vacation fund and 200 of them are about to begin a tour through the northwest and Pacific northwest, according to passenger traffic officers of the Northern Pacific Railway.
This unique party, which will number in excess of 200 persons, will leave the east early next week on a special train. It is sponsored by the Northern Pacific passenger department and the Pennsylvania Farmer Magazine, Pittsburgh, Pa. Each individual in the party will expend $400 for this vacation tour. The first stop in the northwest will be Bismark, N. D., where the vacationists will detrain

Lost Girls Return to Their Mountain Camp

Miss Evelyn Warren, 19, and Miss Ramona Young, 15, Walla Walla girls who were lost for 24 hours from the camp of Rev. and Mrs. Brown Warren, parents of Evelyn, near Cold Springs in the Langdon lake section of the Blue mountains, returned Monday at about one o'clock, tired and hungry, but otherwise the girls were none the worse for the experience. Miss Young is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Young of Walla Walla.

Miss Dolly Warren, 16-year-old sister of Evelyn, and the two girls started out Sunday afternoon to pick huckleberries, and the group became separated, Dolly being the last one to see the lost pair. Sheriffs of two counties, Boy Scouts from Camp Rotary, and many friends of the girls and their families aided in the search. The girls made their way back to camp without being found by the searchers.
CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Mr. Sins' pulpit theme Sunday morning next will be "The Anchor of the Soul." A hearty welcome to all who come.

Union Pacific Employees..

a 9-million-dollar Market for OREGON

UNION PACIFIC employees in Oregon were paid $9,147,094 in salaries and wages during 1930. More than three thousand four hundred families, a total of 20,719 people, received their support from Union Pacific.

Think what that means to Oregon's home market—to the development of her growing industries—to the consumption of her agricultural products.

The preservation of this vast home market among Union Pacific employees is dependent upon the continuing prosperity of the Railroad. Every shipment made by truck weakens the Railroad structure and affects railroad employment.
