The Friday Club
(By Doris Street)

Many years ago school pupils were encouraged to attend strictly to their studies by various devices on the part of their parents. Schooling was not so common and learning was looked up to by everyone. A man was said to be worth one dollar per day up to his ears, and from there on up as much more as he could get. Boys and girls were sometimes forbidden to even read good fiction during the school term; it being thought beneficial to put all their time on their school studies. One lady who dearly loved her children, and who wanted them to have good educations, but didn't wish to be strict and harsh, thought up the plan of the "Friday Club." If her children did extra good work at school, on Friday evening they could invite a chum to supper, and to spend the night. The child who ranked one in his class when he received his report card was entitled to give a party. The refreshments were not expensive and sometimes consisted of nothing more than just popcorn and apples. In this large family of children they all got through school with honors. This "Friday Club" is successful wherever tried, and should be revived with the Empress Eugenie hats and long skirts. The most successful pupils confine their recreations to the week ends.

Hallowe'en Party

A very lovely party was enjoyed by the third and fourth grade room Friday afternoon. The pupils each had a part on one of the following committees: refreshments, decoration program or games. Each committee carried its work through to the finish in planning its part to make the party a success.

Better Spellers in Grades

The pupils who received 1 in spelling this month in Miss Calef's room are: Glenn Dowd, Jeanne Standage, Margery Wilks, Arminda Coppock, Mary Lou Hansell.

Error in Honor Roll

Through an error Walter Singer's name was omitted from the honor roll printed in the school notes week before last. His grades were all 1's. This entitles him to be on the honor roll for the first six weeks of the first semester. A student is entitled to this honor when all of his grades are 2 or above.

Biology Class Visits Museum

The biology class accompanied by the teacher Mrs. Stewart visited Billings Hall Museum at Walla Walla, Friday, October 30. Two cars driven by Mrs. Stewart and Valerie Cannon were the means of transportation. The class left at 11:15 a. m. and reached Walla Walla Park in time to enjoy a picnic lunch. A flock of tame ducks helped to share the students' lunch. The ducks added to the biological atmosphere of the group. At 1:15 p. m. the group arrived at the museum, and were cordially received by Dr. Brode Curator, who gave an interesting and helpful talk on the contents of the museum.

Upper Grades Hold Hallowe'en Revel
Friday night, October 29, the pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades gave a party at the school house. They all came in costumes and were masked, as it was a masquerade party. When they came in they were taken through the halls where there were ghosts, goblins and other Hallowe'en spooks.

The honor roll in the grades for this last month was: Mrs. Milligan's room: 1st grade—Bobby Hopper, Raymond Kibby and Dorothy Smith. 2nd grade—Helen Johns, Elizabeth Arkell, and Jimmy Weber. Miss Calef's room: 3rd grade—Margery Wilks, Miss Williamson's room: 5th grade—Helen Alkire and Bonnie Johnson; 6th grade—Billy Johns, Beverly Barrett, and Donald Jones. Mr. Miller's room: 7th grade—Ira Alkire, 8th grade—Jay Scott and Maureen Edger.

Friday afternoon the first and second graders held a party in the gymnasium. They played several games, after which pumpkin pie and cider were served.

Band Entertains

The first appearance of the high school band this year was Wednesday afternoon, October 28. The songs, Oregon, My Oregon, Auld Lang Syne, Battle Hymn of the Republic and America were sung by the assembly accompanied by the band. They also played a march "Rifle Rangers." The band and their director, Mr. Tilley, are greatly to be commended.

Girls Out for Basketball

Girls' basketball practice started this week with Mrs. Bloom as coach. The ones who turned out are: Goldie Miller, Arleen Myrick, Mary Jane Miller, Helen Barrett, Lorra Ross, Jewel Pinkerton, Mildred Alkire, Rachel Smith, Arleen Foster, Marjorie Douglas, Nylene Taylor and Jasmine Trump. For a short time the girls will take limbering-up exercises to prepare them for basketball.

Girl's League

Members of the student body were guests at an interesting Hallowe'en party given by the Girl's League in the high school building Thursday

EVENTS LISTED FOR OSC HOMECOMING

Beavers Usual Program for Alumni Nov. 13-14 Game to Be in Eugene.

Oregon State college.—No. Oregon State college and University of Oregon are not holding a joint homecoming program at Eugene this year, but the two colleges are holding their celebrations on their respective campuses on the same week-end, November 13-14, and will attend the same state championship football game to be played at the university.

This is the latest official word that comes from the two campuses in answer to many puzzled inquirers who had the idea that the use of the same game as the main homecoming attraction by both O. S. C. and U. of O. meant elimination of one of the usual programs.

At Oregon State, where Martin Redding of Salem is heading the big student committee in charge of events, the program will begin Thursday night, November 12 with a series of student parties and a radio broadcast over KOAC between 8:15 and 9:30 o'clock for the benefit of alumni.

Friday the alumni will arrive while students work on the big rock bonfire and scores of illuminated house signs that make fraternities, sororevening, October 29. Everyone came dressed in "hard time" costumes and enjoyable games were outlined by the games committee, the chairman of which was Jasmine Trump. The refreshments chairman was Mildred Hansell and the decorations were planned by Lorra Ross. A prize for the "hardest-up" costume went to Robert Rose. In keeping with the theme of the party doughnuts and cider were served.

ties and halls gay throughout the week-end for all who pass by. The bonfire rally is at 7:30 o'clock that evening.

The Oregon State campus will not be without its football game, however, for the second of the Rook-Frosh games, the "big-little" battle of the state, will be played Friday night under the lights of Bell field, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Saturday a special train as well as hundreds of cars will move students and alumni over to Eugene for the annual O. S. C.-Oregon game on Hayward field. Immediately after the game they all will return to complete the day at Corvallis with the annual alumni banquet and alumni and student balls.

Depositors Draw Dividend
The 750 depositors of the Farmers bank of Weston have received a 20 per cent dividend check, the second payment, although the first was for 40 per cent. Following the closing of the bank last year directors bought up the assets and agreed to pay the depositors.

Gasoline Lantern Explodes
The Weston Leader reports that the explosion of a gasoline lantern in the kitchen at the home of Will Hall on Weston Mountain, caused the burning of curtains and woodwork before the flames could be subdued by prompt work by members of the family.

NORTH PACIFIC GRAIN GROWERS

Adams Points To Benefits Accruing From Rise in Price, 60 to 78 per Cent.

Spokane.—Pacific northwest wheat prices jumped from 15 to 24½ cents a bushel during last month, an average net gain in price to the farmer of nearly 70 per cent, according to A. C. Adams, treasurer and general manager of North Pacific Grain Growers, Inc., regional cooperative.

Prices on October 31 were from 20.5 to 26.5 cents a bushel higher than on August 1, the beginning of the season.

Hard winter, northern spring and western red wheats are netting the grower 78 per cent more than on August 1. Palouse hard federation jumped more than 75 per cent in net price to the farmer during the three-month period. Western white and soft white wheats are up 60 per cent in net price to the grower. Hard white baart or bluestem is 62½ per cent higher in price than three months ago.

Wheat prices at all world markets advanced markedly last week, with the month closing in a reign of extra bullish sentiment brought on by the announcement that Russia is oversold and has been forced into the world markets to buy at advanced prices to meet commitments.

Pacific northwest wheat prices ended October leading Chicago prices by approximately 7 cents a bushel. Under normal conditions, Portland and Seattle prices are below Chicago prices by 2 or 3 cents and Chicago prices are 16 cents lower than Liverpool prices.

Sale of the Pacific northwest surplus held by the Grain Stabilization corporation to the Chinese government is credited by Mr. Adams as the most important factor in putting Pacific northwest prices at their present high levels.

Two other major factors he listed as largely due to the policies and operations of Farmers National Grain corporation: First, its policy to pay the producer the highest price the market will afford consistent with safe merchandising; second, its unceasing efforts to keep the export ports of the United States open and free from congestion, and at the same time providing sufficient elevator storage space at the important terminal markets in order that new crop receipts might be promptly unloaded and properly warehoused by preserving the identity of high-grade protein and other premium wheats, thus saving for the producer the full benefits in price which such premium wheats customarily command.

Mr. Adams also pointed out that as a result of the agricultural marketing act, regardless of price levels, the farmer-member of the nation-wide cooperative system is receiving a greater percentage of the sales price of his wheat than ever before. "It is conservatively estimated that prices received by producers during the past 15 months have resulted in a saving to them of probably more than $150,000,000 as against what would have proven true were it not for the law which made national cooperative grain marketing activities possible."

H. A. Barrett and Ralph McEwen transacted business in Pendleton Friday.
