The funeral of Mrs. A. B. Stephens, mother of Omer Stephens, who died at Pendleton last week, was held Friday afternoon from the Folsom chapel in Pendleton. Mrs. Stephens is remembered in Athena where she often visited her son, Omer, when he was engaged in business here.

The O. D. O. club met at the home of Mrs. Ethel Montague, Thursday afternoon of last week. The nine members present enjoyed a social afternoon, the hostess serving refreshments at the tea hour. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Archie McIntyre Thursday afternoon November 12.

The pupils of the LaMar district school, assisted by their teacher, Mrs. Swift, were hosts at a Halloween party last Friday afternoon. Halloween decorations and games lent a festive air to the occasion and guests included parents and friends. Cider and doughnuts were the appropriate refreshments served.

Mrs. Jennie Hovda spent last week-end at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Northrop, having arrived here Friday from Portland with her son, Rev. Clifford Hovda who proceeded to Ontario, Oregon, where he conducted services Sunday. The two visitors and Rev. Green of Milton were dinner guests at the Northrop home Friday evening.

Accompanied by a series of rumbling and clatter the highway crew moved their equipment to the La Mar district Saturday where work is now going forward on the road. Cook house trucks and machinery made an interesting caravan. That the work is progressing is evidenced by the series of blasts heard from that direction.

Captain and Mrs. Eagle who had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kershaw, and left Saturday morning for their home at Vancouver, Washington, will proceed, shortly, on a trip to California where they will spend several months making their headquarters near San Diego where they own several acres of avocadoes.

The carnival given by the Adams high school was a signal success Saturday night. Those attending from Athena were, Leland Jenkins, Lester Towne, Solista Pickett, Garth Pinkerton, Arleen Myrick, Mrs. George Myrick, Mary Berlin, Myrtle Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Roseberry.

Honoring Mrs. E. C. Prestbye and Max Hopper, Mrs. Hopper entertained at dinner and bridge Friday evening. The affair was a birthday party for the honoree and the prettily appointed table was centered with a colorful cluster of fall flowers. James Lieuallen won at bridge and others present were, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harwood, E. C. Prestbye, Mrs. Lieuallen, Solista Pickett, the honoree and hostess.

Spirits and goblets were abroad Saturday night, in celebration of the old festival All Saints eve. The strutting appearances of jack o' lanterns accompanied by shrieks and wiers calls filled the early hours, and later groups of spooks were seen flitting obscurely from place to place, and without doubt on mischief bent. But the city marshal assisted by his deputies, patrolled the streets so faithfully that the usual deceptions were not possible this year. Only a few pranks were played and those were not of a serious nature.

Halloween stunts and progressive pedro provided entertainment for the guests at a party at the home of Miss Mary Tompkins, Thursday evening of last week. First prizes were won by Miss Frances Cannon and Walter Huffman, Emma Ringel receiving the consolation. Decorations, tally cards and refreshments were in keeping with the Halloween idea and those present were, Marjorie Douglas, Betty Eager, Emma Ringel, Myrtle Campbell, Thelma Schrimpf, Frances Cannon, Wayne Pinkerton, Walter Huffman, Arthur Crowley and Wilford Miller.

One of the most festive occasions of last week was the Halloween party given by the Girls' League, students being the Athena high school students. The affair was in the nature of a "hard-times" party and guests appeared in various dilapidated costumes appropriate to the occasion and which afforded much merriment. Bob Rose was presented a prize for the best costume. Games were played during the evening and refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served. Decorations of Halloween reminders made the party room attractive.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilks were guests of the Athena Pinochle club which met Wednesday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jenkins on Jefferson street. Sixteen were present, making up four tables of the club game. High scores were made by Mrs. Jesse Smith and George Brace, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. O. Montague received the consolation prizes. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Montague and Mrs. W. E. Campbell. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. George Brace and Mrs. Phillip Remillard will serve refreshments.

Weirdly shaded lights, myriads of black cats, bats and ghostly apparitions greeted the guests at a Halloween party Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Harden, when Mrs. Harden and Miss Edna DeFreece entertained. The guests arrived garbed in children's clothes, the girls being most attractive in pinafores and kiddish accessories while the men looked and felt the part in knickers and bow ties. hood, with "kid" prizes to those showing the ability to revert to days gone by, were the cause of great merriment. Delicious ice cream and dainty cakes were served at a long table covered with an orange and black cloth, and glowing with black candles. Places were marked by large black cats with arched backs, and ribbons emanating from pumpkins bore cards on which fortunes were written in invisible ink. By holding these over the candles the words appeared in eerie fashion and the guests were informed of what the future holds for them. The guest list included, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Kayser, George Gross, Jessiedean Dudley, Alberta Charlton, Leonard Geissel, Thelma Schrimpf, Walter Huffman, James Hodgen and Wilbur Harden.

It is interesting to note that the Watkins' Pharmacy is one of the 9500 Rexall stores which are participating in the "One-Cent Sale" being held all over the country this week. This is characteristic of Mr. Watkins' policy in cooperating with the Rexall company in their plan of expansion and development. In line with this idea, Mr. Watkins attended the Rexall convention last summer which was held at the Davenport Hotel in Spokane. Helpful lectures on progressive methods and latest lines of drugs and merchandise in addition to entertainment of the highest caliber were features of the convention. Radio stations are broadcasting Rexall programs each day of the sale. KJW Walla Walla, broadcasts the program at 10:45 a. m. and KHQ Spokane at 9:30 a. m.
