

BEAVERTON TIMES

SUCCESSOR TO "THE OWL," Beaverton, Oregon

VOL. III. NO. 24.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1915.

$1.00 Per Year

COMMERCIAL HOTEL

Reopened Under New Management

Has been thoroughly re-cleaned and renovated--nice clean beds

Meals any style--you pay for what you order--or regular dinner, as you prefer are served.

Regular meals 25c

Rooms 25c and up

Give us a trial and see. Courteous service

N. Merloni & Co.

Beaverton, Oregon.

WATCH This Space

We may have something interesting to say

Come to our store and get Lemons at 10 cts. a Dozen.

Cady & Pegg

Supervisor Dessinger is very busy this week, making repairs to some of Beaverton's streets. At the crossing at the mill, and on Broadway, in the vicinity of the mill, some very much needed repairs are being made. Then the road north of the mill, will be rocked and rolled for a considerable distance. This road needs rock clear through to the Canyon road, but it is not expected that the supervisor will have funds sufficient to rock its full length, but he will go as far as he can.

By all means, Beaverton should have held a town fair this fall, but it is now rather late to prepare for it before the rainy season. Not only have the grain, hay, vegetable and truck crops been unusually good, but the fruit—especially the apple crop, is fine. We will probably never have a better opportunity to make as good or a more elaborate exhibit.

While out driving Monday afternoon, the team ran away with Fred Darough and Miss Hazel Pegg on the Portland road a short distance east of town, tipped the buggy over. Miss Pegg jumped and escaped with a few minor bruises, while Darough was uninjured. The buggy was considerably damaged.

It is expected that by next week work will be commenced on Beaverton's high school building. It means an expenditure of about $19,000, a large portion of which will be paid out for labor, which, with the marketing of a very large crop, materially help business conditions in our town.

Mrs. George Gibler and two daughters of Jefferson City, Mo., spent several days last week visiting G. W. Baker and family at the farm, south of town. Mrs. Gibler is a niece of Mr. Baker. The Giblers were enroute home from a visit to the San Francisco exposition.

The truck gardeners in the Beaverton section would appreciate a little rain, now that the grain harvest has been garnered, and no damage from that source is in the way. Late vegetation would be greatly benefitted by a little moisture.

Jack Hooper, wife and daughter visited relatives and friends in Vancouver last Monday.

So many people have gone to the hopyards that it has been deemed advisable by the board of directors not to open the Beaverton public school until September 20. This gives the pupils, who want to earn a little pin money in the hopfields an opportunity to start in at the opening of school, and thus be given their proper places in the classes without any loss of place in the class formations.

It is to be regretted that Beaverton road district did not vote a tax last fall, as the supervisor is now handicapped in his repair work. He has not even funds sufficient to repair all the chuckholes in the roads of the district. Certainly Beaverton will not repeat her vote of last fall, when a meeting is called again soon.

We have heard little lately regarding the proposed sewer system for Beaverton. There is yet time to complete it before the first of the year, in case the work is commenced soon. The city council has not discussed the matter lately, and it is not known whether it has given up the work for this year or not. The council will meet again Monday evening.

The onion crop on the beaverdam in this section is about normal. Some fields that were not cultivated properly—smothered somewhat with weeds—molded to some extent, but in most fields the crop is normal, or a little above the usual average.

Miss Ella Sigler, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Otto Bertach, on Route three, the past three months, left Sunday evening for her home in Anaconda, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith of Clackamas visited Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Allen.

Miss Emma Hancock of Cloverdale, Ore., has been visiting her mother, Mrs. I. A. Thomas, the past week.

M. E. Sunday school, September 12. "Elijah's Flight and Return."—I Kings xiv: 8-18. All are invited.

Dr. T. G. Hetu made a business trip to Tualatin and Tigard last Monday afternoon.

C. B. Poole spent the weekend at Seaside.