You Can Get Rid of That Itching Rash

There is immediate relief for skins itching, burning and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin-trouble, in a warm bath with Resinol Soap and a simple application of Resinol Ointment. The soothing, healing Resinol medication sinks right into the skin, stops itching instantly, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases where other treatments have had no effect. After that, the regular use of Resinol Soap is usually enough to keep the skin clear and healthy.

You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for years in the treatment of all sorts of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

Domestic Strategy.

"Father, you know a lot about battles and skirmishes. Did you ever execute a strategic retreat?"

"My son, doesn't the fact that after 20 years of married life I am still the nominal head of this family prove that I am some strategist?"

Bravery.

The teacher had been reading to the class about the heroes of ancient times.

"Can any boy in the class tell of a deed of daring performed by one of his acquaintances?" she asked as she closed the book.

Raymond's hand shot up.

"Well, Raymond."

"I saw the first baseman of our team give the big bootblack on the corner a wallop on the jaw."

The Light That Failed.

The audience held their breath and simply thr-r-rilled as Jack Braveboy, the hero, killed the last of the Indians. He staggered about; he almost fainted with loss of blood.

Then he gazed about him, and suddenly his voice rang out with hope: "See!" he cried. "The dawn breaks bright upon yon topmost heights!"

The stage remained in darkness.

"See!" he yelled again. "The dawn breaks bright upon yon topmost heights!"

Still darkness reigned.

"The dawn! The dawn!" he screamed, raging about the stage. "It breaks. The dawn."

A head popped over the mountain top:

"Old 'ard, guv-nor!" said the head.

"Don't be in sich a bloomin' 'urry! Some one's bin an' turned the gas off!"—Tit-Bits.

His Vocation Clear.

Young Arthur, the pride of his Beacon street home, had been attending school all of six weeks, and his devoted parent thought it was high time he should find out how things were running. So he asked one afternoon:

"And what did my little son learn about this morning?"

"Oh, a mouse. Miss Wilcox told us all about mouses."

"That's the boy. Now, how do you spell mouse?"

It was then that Arthur gave promise of entering the diplomatic service. He paused meditatively for a moment, then said:

"Father, I guess I was wrong. It wasn't a mouse teacher was telling us about; it was a rat."

Born Diplomat.

"Harry, I am beginning to believe the baby looks like you."

"Are you, dear?"

"Yes, I notice it more and more every day. I'm so glad."

"Do you really want him to look like me?"

"Of course I do. I've been sorry ever since we had him christened that we didn't give him your name."

"Sweetheart, you don't know how happy you make me by saying that."

"And, Harry dear, I found the loveliest hat today. I don't believe I ever saw anything that was so becoming to me. It's $25. Do you think I ought to pay that much for a hat?"

Speaking Softly.

A Virginia farmer was driving a refractory cow down the road, and cow and driver came to a cross road. The man wanted the cow to go straight ahead, but the cow picked out the cross road. A colored man was coming along the cross road.

"Haid her off! Haid her off!" yelled the driver.

"I's trying ter!" replied the colored man.

"Speak to her! Speak to her, and she'll stop!"

"Good mawnin', cow—good mawnin'!" said the other, politely.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

No Worse.

"Say, old man, lend me ten dollars, will you?"

"Why should I? You'd only buy whisky with it."

"What if I do? You subscribed to the war loan, didn't you?"

"I don't see what that's got to do with it."

"Do you think it's any worse to lend me money to buy whisky with than to lend money to the allies to spend on guns and ammunition?"

Not Driven, Coaxed.

"I understand that you have a new motor car."

"Yes."

"Do you drive it yourself?"

"Nobody drives it. We coax it."—Washington Star.

Correct.

"What is one of the characteristics of the Indian race?" asked an instructor in city college.

"They play football to beat the band," replied a former De Witt Clinton boy.

Blame the Elephant.

Customer (annoyed)—I wish to return the paper-cutter. It is not ivory, as represented.

Clerk—Not ivory, madam? I can't understand that, unless the elephant had false teeth.—Boston Transcript.

Always a Chance.

"Why don't you get married, old top?"

"Can't find any girl willing to leave her happy home for me."

"Then why not look around for some girl with an unhappy home?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

TOO MANY CHILDREN

are under-size, under-weight

with pinched faces and poor blood; they do not complain but appetite lags, they have no ambition and do not progress.

Such children need the rich medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion above everything else; its pure cod liver oil contains nature's own blood-forming, flesh-building fats which quickly show in rosy cheeks, better appetite, firm flesh and sturdy frames.

If your children are languid, tired when rising, catch cold easily or find their studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion; it supplies the very food elements that their systems lack.

Scott's Emulsion contains no alcohol and is so good for growing children it's a pity to keep it from them.
