"Do you find that set of books you bought interesting?"

"Not very," confessed the man who tries to improve himself.

"Do you regret your bargain?"

"A little. I'd feel better about it if the man who comes around to collect the cash were as good at telling a funny yarn as the one who sold me the book."

Does So.

"Here's a startling item."

"What is it?"

"It says the oyster has not increased in price in 25 years."

Theory and Practice. She talks of great musicians And of knowledge makes a show Till she leaves you with suspicions That your taste is very low. But when she sings for pleasure On an idle afternoon She will hum a reckless measure From the latest ragtime tune.

Of the drama she discourses With an erudition vast; She'll describe its classic sources In the dim poetic past. But when for sheer diversion Unobserved she means to go, She sets out on an excursion To the nearest movie show. —Washington Star.

He Knew.

The teacher was giving the geography class a lesson on the cattle ranches. She spoke of their beef all coming from the west, and, wishing to test the children's observation, she asked:

"And what else comes to us from these ranches?"

That was a poser. She looked at her shoes, but no one took the hint. She tried again.

"What do we get from the cattle besides beef?"

One boy eagerly raised his hand. "I know what it is. It's tripe!" he answered, triumphantly.—The Youth's Companion.

More Than a Hint.

He was a shy young man. For two long years he had been paying her attention and had not yet even squeezed her hand.

One evening as they lingered in the shadow of the trees by her gate he asked timidly:

"Florence, would you—might I—er—would you mind if I placed one reverent kiss on your fair hand tonight when I leave you?"

Florence thought he wanted speeding up. So she dropped her head coyly on his shoulders, lifted her face temptingly to his and replied:

"Well, George, I should think it decidedly out of place."

Great Discovery.

"Some of the grandest discoveries of the ages," said the great scientist, sonorously, "have been the result of accidents."

"I can readily believe that," said the fair lady. "I once made one that way myself."

The great man blinked his amazement.

"May I ask what it was?"

"Certainly," answered the fair one. "I found that by keeping a bottle of ink handy you can use a fountain pen just like any other pen—without all the trouble of filling it."—Christian Register.

Pained His Thrifty Soul.

"Ye'll excuse me, captain," said O'Harrity, addressing the commander of the battleship, "but is it thrue that ut costs sivin hundred dollars to fire wan o' thim big guns?"

"Yes, O'Harrity," said the captain.

"Why do you ask?"

"Oi t'ought Oi might save yez some money, sorr," said O'Harrity. "Sure, and Oi'll fire 'em for yez for tin."—New York Times.

Remembered, But Not Paid

Broad—By the way, old man, do you remember borrowing $10 from me six months ago?

Short—Yes.

Broad—But you said you only wanted it for a short time.

Short—And I told the truth. I didn't keep it 20 minutes.

Same Tone.

"Oh, mamma, the lady next door has a trained monkey, and when it doesn't behave you better believe she gives it a good talking to; and say, mamma"—

"Yes, my child."

"It sounds just like when you're talking to daddy."

More Important.

Mr. Frost—Agnes, your mother has a headache. Can't you help her get dinner?

Agnes—No, father. I have to learn this table of food values.—Life.

A Green Shopper.

"I wish some plug tobacco for my husband."

"Yes'm. What kind?"

"I hardly know. What flavors have you?"—Kansas City Journal.

An Ingenious Soul. Blithers entered the dining room with a pair of yellow automobile goggles on. "Hello, Blithers," said little Binks. "Going motoring?" "No," said Blithers. "I'm sort of hungry for a grapefruit, and I want to keep the juice out of my eye." You Can't Feaze Paw. "Popper!" "Well, what is it, son?" "Where do they keep the street car at night, when it ain't running?" "Oh, in a barn." "In a barn, like a horse? Why, what do they feed it on?" "Oh, currents."

YOUR BLOOD is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life. DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery is the balancing power—a vitalizing power. It acts on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition—on the purifying filters which clean the blood. Thus fresh vitalized blood feeds the nerves, heart—and brain. This well known alterative relieves catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying same, and has been successful for more than a generation as a tonic and body-builder. It builds up the rundown system. You need it—if you are always "catching cold"—or have catarrh of the nose and throat. The active medicinal principles of American-Native-roots are extracted without alcohol and you can obtain this tonic in liquid or tablet form at any drug store or send 50 cents in 1-cent stamps for trial box of tablets. In Practice. "Mr. Jones, you will either have to marry at once or leave our employ." "But why are you so anxious that I marry?" "While you are in love you do not half attend to your duties, and you must either be cured or fired." —Houston Post. Hobson—I never in all my life saw a man who could so readily guess riddles and conundrums as that Henry Peck. Dobson—No wonder! Just think of the practice he has. His wife keeps him guessing all the time.—Puck.
