Edward Boring, young son of Mrs. L. Boeing, is confined to his bed with la grippe.

Doc Hetu borrowed the Times screw driver the other day, but he failed to tell us what for.

The town now is as dry as the desert of Sahara, and in all the wide country there is no oasis.

Elmer Stipe is kicking, because the weather was not cold enough to freeze up the water pipes.

School opened again Monday after a week of vacation, and now the neighborhood seems very quiet.

Several prominent Beaverton people viewed the passing of the old year in Portland last Friday evening.

People never realize the convenience of plumbing till they have tried it.—Beaverton Plumbing Co. Do it now.

The communion service of the Lord's Supper will be given at the Methodist church next Sunday morning.

The August Rossi saloon building is now occupied by Charles Johnson, who will operate a soft drink establishment.

Mrs. Jack Hooper and daughter Cecil went to Yamhill Thursday to spend a few days with Rev. F. Brymer and family.

T. J. Allen reports that he is just completing the clearing of ten acres of brush land on the east side of his property.

Miss Claude Wren went to Portland Wednesday to meet her sister who has come for a few days visit with her parents at the Commercial Hotel.

Mr. Sutton, of the anti-saloon league, will give an address at the Methodist church next Sunday night on "How To Keep Oregon Dry."

E. A. Baker, attorney for Anti-Saloon league, will address the congregation at the M. E. church instead of Mr. Sutton, as was announced.

Edith Sears, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Good Samaritan hospital, is recovering very nicely. She also had her tonsils removed.

The touch of real winter seems to be appreciated by most everyone, especially the younger generation, who have been enjoying the sport of snowdrilling.

William Zimbrick left Tuesday for the home of his brother, John Zimbrick, who lives near Sodaville, Linn county. He expects to remain some time at this place.

J. F. Robinson, traffic manager of the O. W. R. & N., and family, took New Year's dinner with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKell at their home south of Beaverton.

Watch the advertisements in the Beaverton Times. You will most certainly be interested to learn the prices quoted, and the several things Beaverton merchants have to offer.

We have about come to the conclusion that if our spelling resembles a simplified spellingbook, it is because the ex-editor of this paper carried the dictionary with him when he left.

George Klein reports an unsolicited attack upon his person by, at least, half the youngsters in town, who took advantage of the soft snow to make life miserable for the passing pedestrian.

Archie Ferguson was joy-riding with one horse and a sled Monday, and the horse objected to the new order of things so strenuously that he dumped Archie in the snow and refused to be stopped till he arrived at the railroad crossing near the signal tower.

The Beaverton Gospel team went to Cedar Mills Sunday where they held a meeting. They report an excellent meeting with a large crowd in attendance. Although the day was rather cold and stormy, it seemed to have little effect on the attendance.

Miss Ellen Rummage sustained a serious wrench in one of her ankles while riding with Archie Ferguson on the rear seat of Archie's motorcycle. Coming to a sharp bend in the road, Archie stopped the motorcycle, and on mounting again, Miss Rummage thrust her foot through the rear wheel, spraining her ankle. She will be about again in a few days.

Dr. Carstens was the participant in a winter accident when his Ford was accidentally driven over the embankment, between this place and Portland, one day last week. Nothing more serious than a lengthy detour through somebody's field, onto the road again, and the demolishing of a few yards of good rail fence was required. The car seems to have stood the severe test in fine shape.

C. W. Colby and wife spent New Year's with the Stroud family.

Landlord Wren of the Commercial Hotel, and his nephew, Mr. Leon Harris, were Portland visitors Tuesday.

Perhaps some people think the Times is moaning the passing of the saloon. Not so, brother, we are heartily in favor of it.

One man who has earned his pay this week is C. E. Runyan, court reporter, who has had to struggle with the testimony of the Italian witnesses in the Merlo trial. When the defendant gave her testimony an interpreter was not used and it was necessary occasionally to repeat questions and answers many times before it was correctly set down.—Hillsboro Independent.

There appears to be a general awakening in the lumber industry. It is said the Hillsboro mill soon will start, and the Southern Pacific will soon put on an extra logging train to Cochrane. In general it appears that prosperity is on its way and will be with us soon. Some prominent eastern people who have been visiting here predict that it is not more than six weeks off.—Banks Herald.

(Too late for last issue)

A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. John McClend of Skookumville Christmas night by several old-time friends from Beaverton and other places. The evening was spent in dancing, playing and singing. Just before the guests departed for their respective homes, all joined in singing "When Oregon Goes Dry." Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berglund, Banks, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Will Barnes, Marie and Max, Oak Point, Wash.; Leslie, Hazel and Edith Barnes, Beaverton; Henry Brunawick, North Yakima; Earnest Barnes and wife, Beaverton; Carl Griffith and wife; Orton, Mabel and Gladys McLeod; Mr. Brown, violinist.

Census Shows Small Decrease

The school census of the county recently completed shows 161 less persons of school age in the county than were found by the enumerators in 1914. Superintendent Barnes says the falling off is practically all in the towns and that variation in the country districts are slight. The total of the reports filed in this office is 8387 against 8498 a year ago. Of this year's total 4277 are boys and 4090 girls. Hillsboro Independent.

Home Destroyed By Fire

Last Friday night the family home of Jack Leonetti, two miles west of Beaverton, on the Farmington road, was burned to the ground. All the household goods were a complete loss, nothing being saved. Mr. Leonetti was in the barn milking, and his wife was working in the kitchen when the little girl pulled the table-cover from the table, upsetting the lamp, as she did so. The flames immediately spread over the floor, and the little girl endeavored to stop them with a broom. This being unsuccessful, she ran to her mother, who went out to the barn to call her husband, but by the time they returned the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to fight them. The fire also consumed the nearby sheds, one of which contained a valuable cream separator. This was so badly burned that it will be a total loss. Some of the children were compelled to go out into the snow without shoes and other adequate clothing. Mr. Leonetti will begin the erection of a new residence in the near future.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
