BEAVERTON, WASHINGTON COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1916.

NO. 52

LAST WEEK PIANO CONTEST

Closes Tuesday, March 28,
at 2:30 P. M.

Only Three More Days to Work

There are now but three days in which the candidates engaged in the Popular Voting contest have to work for the several prizes offered. The voting comes to an end Tuesday, March 28 at 2:30 o'clock p. m. and immediately thereafter the count will be commenced to see who shall be declared the winner of the splendid Obermeyer piano, now on exhibition at the Times office, and the other prizes offered to those who are making an endeavor to land the premiums. It is not believed by those who have given the matter careful thought that any particular person has the grand prize cinched at the present time, but there are several in the race who have a good chance to land it if they only hustle.

There are several young ladies who appear to have the best of the contest but none of them has a cinch on being the ultimate owner of the first prize. If one of these contestants who is away down on the list should take it into her head that she was going to win the big premium, she would have to do some work to make it but that is what was expected when the contest opened. Several bunches of new subscribers or renewals would put the lowest candidate up among the leaders.

For those who wish to vote without any competitor seeing them, the Times desires to state that cash with your subscription, telling where the paper is to be sent and to whom the votes shall be given, can be placed in an envelope and deposited in the bank where the ballot box has been taken. The judges will open these envelopes as soon as they start to count and will credit all votes.

The voting will close Tuesday, March 28, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the count will be made at once. This is but a short time away and it is worth the while of the candidates to get out among the people and work like trojans from now until the ballot box is closed at 2:30 in the afternoon of the day mentioned. No ballot will be received after 2:30 under any circumstances, no matter who may have them or what excuse they may present for not getting them in at the proper time.

The contest is on the square and there is to be a fair field and no favorites.

The following merchants are interested in this contest and give 25 vote coupons with every dollar's cash purchase to those who ask for them:

The Beaverton Hardware Co., Cash Grocery Co., City Pharmacy, City Meat Market, and Thynge Confectionery.

The same day he will be at Cedar Mill Methodist church where there will be a basket dinner, followed by a sermon and the Second Quarterly Conference in the afternoon.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Little Things of Interest to Every One.

The contestants are working hard these days, for only a few more days remain till the close of the contest.

Martin Alberts, an old time resident of Beaverton, was in town Sunday calling on some of his old friends.

R. L. Dean has some pictures taken with an Eastman kodak on exhibit at his store, and any one calling will find an exhibit well worth their time.

Miss Ostie Hedge, oldest daughter of C. E. Hedge, was married last Wednesday at Tillamook to James Baker of that place.

Nick Kemmer was a Beaverton visitor Wednesday. Nick is the enterprising road supervisor in the district just west of District 10, and has lately been doing some early road work.

The faces of the aspiring politicians are becoming very familiar to the people of Beaverton and this vicinity. Perhaps it is because there is such an excellent crop.

The Tennis Club dance given in Morse hall last Friday evening was all that could be wished for in the way of a success. An excellent crowd was in attendance and everyone reported a fine time.

The band boys will, in all probability, give the entertainment which was given at the Huber Club house, at Tigard or some other equally near place, some time during the ensuing month.

J. W. Raynard has disposed of his personal property on his farm in the Scholls country and is now devoting his time to the improvement of the telephone lines. He reports that he received a good price for all goods sold at his recent sale.

Lois Wolff has been appointed as supervisor in the Beaverton district to fill the vacancy made by the departure of Fred Pappal. Lou will undoubtedly make an excellent supervisor and the people of Beaverton can now rest assured that the streets will be looked after in the best possible fashion, and with the cooperation of the citizens of this town, something should be accomplished under such able management.

For Sale—Horses good for farm work, also two light spring wagons for sale cheap or will trade for oats or hay. Log Cabin Baking Co., Vancouver Ave., and Ivy St., Portland, Oregon.

The first signs of spring were apparent the other day when the Ferguson store received a large shipment of new spring hats, any one of which would suit perfectly the most exacting of buyers. The hats come direct from Chicago, and are all the latest style, right up to the minute in neatness. They will be on display, for the present, in the windows of the store in the Hedge building and later in the new Ferguson establishment opposite the bank. The ladies of Beaverton would do well to examine these fine specimens of millinery before going to the city of Portland. Trade at home should be the slogan of every resident of Beaverton.

At the last meeting of the Grange, held Saturday March 11, an excellent program was rendered to a large attendance. This program was given entirely by the ladies and the next will be given by the men.

Beaverton Band Boys Entertain Huber Crowd.

Saturday night was gala night in Huber, for the Beaverton band was slated to give an exceptionally fine program for the benefit of the lovers of entertainment who reside around that community, and the crowd that gathered was a fine example of Huber support. They began coming early and continued to stream in long after the band had begun to play.

The program consisted of numerous selections by the band well intermingled with vocal music, which was rendered by the "Big Four" quartet and a mixed quartet consisting of Mrs. P. M. Carstens, Miss Goldie Vincent, Earl E. Fisher and William Campbell. All vocal numbers were well received, and were a great credit to the Beaverton talent. The "Big Four" quartet did very well and succeeded in bringing much credit upon themselves. This group of singers has been making a great impression on home crowds and are taking very well in other places. They are: E. E. Fisher, George Klein, William Campbell, and Floyd Tefft.

Huber has the good name of turning out a good crowd to all deserving entertainments, largely due to the enterprise of the place, which, though at present is rather small makes up for what it lacks in size by a spirit of loyalty, predominating throughout the thickly settled country surrounding it.

Following the concert everyone enjoyed a dance on the excellent hardwood floor which is one of the few of its kind in Washington county. Many Beaverton people took advantage of the auto stage and attended.

AROUND THE COURT HOUSE

Interesting Items Gleaned From the Court Records.

Marriage licenses were granted to Frank Blum, who resides near Yamhill and Miss Lillian Gillaspay of near Hillsboro. Elmer J. Hanby and Iva Goodrich were also issued the necessary permit.

In Circuit Court suits have been filed for the past week in the case of Roba Secour vs. Geo. E. Secour, in which the plaintiff asks for a divorce on the grounds of desertion, and the custody of a minor child.

Another suit for divorce is that of Ernestine Loynes vs. Royden Loynes in which the plaintiff charges cruel and inhuman treatment, also alleged non-support. It is alleged in the complaint that Loynes took the youngest child and moved to Portland where he has lived for some time, not allowing the mother to see the child. There are three children, all of which she demands control of.

Francis Cota and Lucinda Cota have filed suit against J. L. Simpson and Nina M. Simpson to gain satisfaction for a note signed by the defendants in 1909.

St. Patrick's Day Celebration a Success.

Friday last was the day for the wearing of the green and every Irishman wore his colors. In the evening a large entertainment was given in honor of the day, consisting of Irish songs, recitations, and a short sketch entitled, "The Price of Her Honor," with a farce comedy to wind up the evening, entitled, "That Rascal Pat."

The music was furnished mostly from St. Mary's Institute, and was excellently rendered. "The Price of Her Honor," rendered by home talent, was excellent and drew strong upon the attention of the audience from the time the curtain rose on the first scene till the final curtain was rung down down. The parts were all well taken, and were creditably rendered by each member of the cast. The last on the program was the sketch, "That Rascal Pat," which was a laugh from start to finish, the principle fun being furnished by the numerous escapades of Pat, this part being well taken by James McNamara.

The speaker of the evening was the Honorable E. Deery, who spoke on the Irish people and their migration to the United States. The address was excellent and very interesting. L. A. Farnsworth of the Banks Herald, gave two readings which were very interesting, at a late hour the crowd dispersed.

Entertainment.

The Royal Male Quartet assisted by local talent, will give a concert on Friday night of this week for the benefit of the Beaverton Tennis Club, in the Grange hall. The club members are selling tickets fast and it promises to be a real event.
