Church Court
A mortgage for $3700 with interest being due from F. F. Newell the Shaw-Kear Company has started foreclosure proceedings and a suit to recover considerable other money due for taxes paid by the company at different times.

W. R. Conn and Mrs. George Conn are being sued by E. E. Green to recover $22.25 with interest from the 29th day of October, 1915 which is due on a promissory note.

Another mortgage foreclosure is that started by Isaac Brown and Paul Dechard against H. E. and Mary Jones. The sum involved amounts to $2000 with interest for seven months.

Theresa Fischer aged 73 and unable to speak any other language than German and can neither read or write has filed suit against her son, Frank Fischer, charging that he caused his sister to have their mother place her signature upon a certain document of which she did not know the purport until afterwards. The paper which she signed was a quit claim deed to a 40-acre tract for which he paid the old lady ten dollars. The plaintiff is now suing for recovery of title alleging that the paper was never witnessed before a notary or by any other person.

After six years of married life Edith Z. O'Neill has brought action to terminate her relationship with J. T. O'Neill, whom she alleges has refused her all intercourse with her relatives and family and has continually ridiculed her and made derogatory remarks concerning her before her friends. For the past six months she declares she has been compelled to live without the defendant.
O. T. Olinger et al is suing

County News
Beaverton Grange No. 284 met in regular monthly meeting Saturday, September 9, 1916. In addition to the regular business, three parties were instructed in the third- and fourth degrees. Very much to be regretted Mr. C. E. Hedge handed in his resignation as corresponding and the undersigned was elected to fill the vacancy. Noon recess was as usual very much enjoyed by all present. Afternoon lecture hour was in spite of the fact that on account of the very busy times a good many were prevented being present so the attendance was small but very enthusiastic. The program was certainly very, very interesting. We learned more about tomatoes, and the origin of musical instruments in one hour than would have been possible during a whole week searching libraries, which is conclusive evidence of the fact that parties take interest and pride in performing duties assigned to them.

The variety of programs we are having reflects great credit upon our worthy lecturer.

Correspondent.

Mrs. C. E. Busch of Aberdeen, Wash., accompanied by her children, is visiting her mother, Mrs. L. Ostrand. Mrs. Ostrand is also enjoying a visit from her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Will Ostrand of Gaston.

Local News
On Saturday morning, September 9, Earl Miller died at the home of his parents, Frank and Anna Miller, following a prolonged illness.

The deceased was born at Beaverton, Oregon, January 21, 1890, where the family had lived for twenty years prior to their removal to the Ebbets-Wooster ranch in Garfield, last fall.

Besides the parents, two sisters and two nephews mourn his loss; being Mrs. John Bagnado and Mrs. Perry Allison of Portland; Edward of North Plains, Oregon, and John of Garfield.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. Spiess of Episcopi, with interment following in Zion cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Davis visited points in the Willamette valley returning Monday. Among the points visited were Molalla, Willhoit Springs and Woodburn.

While at Woodburn we drove out to the famous peach orchard of State Senator La Follette of Marion county. This orchard consists of about 30 acres located on what is called the mission bottoms near the Willamette river about ten miles north of Salem.

There was a wonderful crop of peaches produced this season all of which has found a ready market. The trees show expert care and produce the finest flavored fruit that has ever been our privilege to eat. The senator seemed to take delight in urging us to try another. Crops of grain have been good throughout the valley.

Corn is coming into its own. Many large fields of as high as 50 acres may be seen and all of it promises to yield well.

A School's Progress
The 10th session of H. Mary's Institute, a night boarding school for young ladies, began September 11 with a good attendance. The usual four year work in the High School department will be given with very special facilities for entering upon the study of languages, Spanish, French, German and Latin are offered in addition to a full course of English. All graduates here are accepted by the State Board of Education. Only thoroughly competent instructors present the courses and with small classes more individual work may be done to the direct advantage of the student. Pupils who desire to teach should enter the Teacher's Training Course which is accredited by the state, a teacher's state certificate being granted for one year without examination.

The Grammar and Primary Departments opened at the same time and parents who desire their children to receive the double training of a refined home with that of instruction are urged to give these departments a trial.

The Commercial department is up to date and fully equipped to carry out a complete two year course. Only graduates of the eighth grade or its equivalent are admitted. All the usual branches are presented. Graduates are assisted to positions.

The charge is the same as for all regular departments, with the (Continued on last page.)

Maine has swung back into the republican column. Districts there which have elected democrats to office for 20 years went republican at Monday's election.

Lots of grain remains unthreshed and even unharvested. This is owing partly to the slow shipping of the grain but mostly to the unusually wet harvest season.

Mrs. L. Ostrand, formerly of Gaston, has taken charge of the Commercial Hotel. Mrs. Ostrand comes highly recommended and is deserving of her share of the hotel patronage.

Tom Allen received a trap and one-half pound potato last fall which had been grown in Montana. He planted it this spring and has harvested from it twenty-four pounds.

Mr. Bookbinder, an old pioneer residing over in the Steam-unville section, has had some "great sport" shooting gray squirrels this season with a shot gun, the gray squirrels have been doing great damage to his wheat.

Clark county, Washington, is laying 7,000 feet of pavement at a cost of 60 cents per cubic yard. The pavement consists of a 4 inch layer of concrete 9 feet wide and 8 feet high side of this will be built of crushed rock bound with asphalt.

E. A. Hendricks, after spending a sleepless night with the toothache, visited Dr. Hans.

The visit proved to be much a pleasure to both parties that Mr. Hendricks called again. The last we saw he was making the third charge at the dental chair with the intention of clearing the way for some new grinders.
