

BEAVERTON TIMES

BEAVERTON, WASHINGTON COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1916.

NO. 21

AROUND THE COURT HOUSE

Wants Return has filed suit in court against E. P. Simmons to gain quiet title to certain real property upon which defendant has some claim.

Oney Bell Gosman has brought suit for divorce from R. C. Gosman. Gosman is charged in the complaint with calling his wife vile names and one day last July he attacked her, beating her severely with his hands and then would have struck her with a chair, being prevented only by quick action on her part.

The Hillsboro Mercantile Co. is suing W. H. Taylor et al for $51.80, which sum is alleged to have been due the company, for merchandise sold the defendant and the defendant's wife at different times.

D. T. Short under the name of the Short Adjustment Co. has brought suit to collect $207.48 from Fred Wenger for board furnished by Chas. S. Proebstel to the defendant on contract.

There will be a German and English speaking at the Grange Hall 8:30 P. M. Sunday. All are invited.

For Sale—Five Jersey cows. Two fresh and three to be bred in November. W. O. Clark, Beaverton, Or. 2111

There will be a meeting of the Young Teachers Association at 8 o'clock Saturday night in the High School Auditorium.

Saturday night dance, an old time dance is scheduled for Grange Hall. Good music will be provided and a good time is promised all who attend. This is the first dance this fall and those wishing an evening of enjoyment should not miss it. The date is Saturday night October 28, and the hour 8 o'clock.

Those who enjoy good singing, dancing and sociability will miss something great along these lines if they fail to see the Reese Bros. Colored Minstrels of 15 people at the Grange Hall Beaverton, Tuesday, October 31; 21-2 hours of solid fun. Not a picture show but a high class road show having played all the principal towns in western Oregon and renowned by press and public everywhere the best of the kind on the road.

Strayed.

To the Voters of Washington County:

My name is on the ballots one of the democratic candidates for legislature. Though I feel that national questions have little to do with matters handled by the state legislature I still wish to say I approve of the Woodrow Wilson administration. As to the national political platforms there is no distinguishing feature as between the democrat and republican. The old tariff question is to be eliminated and a proper adjustment reached by the establishment of a commission.

My one dominating policy in the handling of state legislation is economy with reason. I am opposed to expenditure for the benefit of the few. I hope always to be able to choose, and if my judgment is not at fault, will invariably lend my support to the greater good for the greater number.

It is my further policy to limit legislation, fewer laws and better ones. All legislation of importance in my opinion should be submitted to the voters of the initiative.

If you are sufficiently interested to acquaint yourselves with my qualifications and your investigation convinces you that I can serve you, I will be pleased to have your support.

Yours very truly,
MANCHE L. LANGLEY.

Big Time at Republican Rally.

The republican rally Saturday night in Cady Hall was one of the most enthusiastic political meetings held here for years. The enthusiasm from the start was at a high pitch and showed the intense feeling which the republicans have for the success of the campaign.

The Band Boys started the ball rolling by playing several selections on the street before the people gathered in the hall where the meeting was called to order by Geo. Stitt who gave a few introductory remarks, and after the band gave another selection introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. Wallace McCamant of Portland, who proved himself a veritable whirlwind at presenting the issues of the campaign from a republican standpoint. It was one of the ablest campaign speeches ever delivered here and was listened to with the greatest interest by all in the audience. He was followed by Mr. Hardy an old veteran of many wars who gave a fine patriotic talk and urged the voters to vote for Mr. Hughes for president and insure the protection of our citizens and flag throughout the world. Several county republican candidates were invited to speak. Mr. Ben Cornelius, candidate for the legislature was first called upon and responded in a very clear, headed and convincing way thus demonstrating that our interests will be ably looked after at Salem. Mr. Cornelius has a great many friends in this vicinity who want to see him have a trial at keeping down the tax octopus. Dr. Woods, our scholarly state senator, who is again up for re-election was then called upon and gave a good talk on the initiative and referendum measures which are to be voted upon at the coming election. He gave the single measure a well deserved rap.

His talk was appreciated. Mr. Benton Bowman candidate for election to the legislature was called forward and gave a good account of himself and demonstrated by his talk that he is sincere in an effort to lift the tax burden. Mr. Boley, candidate or assessor, was introduced and gave a lengthy talk from the standpoint of an assessor and what he expected to do when elected. E. B. Sappington, candidate for re-election as county treasurer, and Henry Kurath, candidate for county clerk, were introduced but owing to the lateness of the hour responded briefly. At the point, Dr. Hyde of Hillsboro was requested to render a song and responded by the rendition of the national air.

Mr. Boley has a Wrong Impression. With reluctance and merely as a protection of the good name of this paper we find ourselves compelled to refer to a remark made the other evening by Mr. Boley, candidate for assessor. During the course of his address to the voters he took occasion to refer to the article written and signed by Hon. Alton Allen of Portland, and published in the Beaverton Times, in recommendation of Mr. Hedges. The big thing in Mr. Boley's references was the careless way in which he juggled the facts and attempted to place the responsibility upon our editorial staff. Then to make matters worse he questioned the veracity of the article. We are willing to publish any signed article providing it conforms to our available space. As to the truth of these articles the man who writes them is responsible. In this case the writer knew the facts, but said that "Mr. Boley is not a taxpayer"—he should have said that Mr. Boley is not by the tax roll, we cannot, at least, find his name entered there after a diligent search.

NEWS LOCAL AND PERSONAL

John Dahlquist of Cedar Mills was a Beaverton visitor Wednesday on business.

The democrats are planning a big rally for some date in the near future.

The Kephers child reported as having the infantile paralysis has almost recovered from the disease, and the family will soon be relieved from quarantine.

Fred Peterson of the Cedar Mills country was in town Wednesday. He says that he has been busy all fall with his hay baler and thresher.

H. V. Meade of Oranco, democratic nominee for representative from Washington county, was in this city Wednesday. Mr. Meade is likely to give some of our republican candidates a close rub.

Paul Muesing and Frank Allen have been putting in spare time removing the offensive rail fence and brush along the road near the mill. That part of town is now beginning to present quite a civilized appearance.

The following couples were granted marriage licenses the last week: Geo. H. Shaffer and Nellie L. Bishop. Samuel H. Lateral and Florence Hicks. J. W. Wells and Marie S. Long, the bride is the daughter of Editor Long of the Hillsboro Argus. Herman Kerkam and Helen E. Munecke. John L. Paret and Wahneena Chagiman. Fred Will and Tille Krug.

A large crop of potatoes is being harvested in this section of the county, and as fast as the pods are removed from the ground they are being snatched up by the buyers at a fancy price, usually above the dollar mark. Considerable trouble is being experienced by the growers in obtaining diggers and many will be until the rains set in getting their crop out of the ground.

Recallers Meet in Hillsboro Friday.

Those who would elect County Judge Reasoner next Friday afternoon in Hillsboro and selected a candidate to place on the recall ballot. The man chosen was Robert Service who hails from the northernmost edge of the county with his postoffice at Scappoose.

At 2 p. m. the court room contained only a few early ones and a goodly representation of the county press. A half hour later when the meeting was called to order a few more had arrived but all lacked the expected enthusiasm. John Wall, attorney for the recall spoke first, offering a few words of counsel. Following this came a discussion by different persons present and then the election of a committee to decide whether or not a candidate should be chosen or the vacancy left by a recall, filled by the governor. The committee chose Mr. Service, a member of the committee as the candidate.

In order to get the name of the candidate on the fall ballot it will be necessary for him to circulate a petition for the purpose of getting 250 signatures. In this work the committee elected last Friday will assist.

After the committee had announced their choice, Mr. Service arose and offered the meeting his qualifications as a county judge and expressed his belief that he could fill the office as it should be filled.

The recall petition, which has been circulated all summer was filed last week, and contained the names of close to 2500 persons, a few more than the required number.

To compare Mr. Service with our present county Judge, Mr. Reasoner, leaves no doubt in our mind that Mr. Reasoner, has the recall candidate far outclassed and should the people of Washington county see fit to recognize Mr. Service they should not lose sight of the fact that he will have a great deal to learn before he can fill the position as well as Mr. Reasoner.
