Grange

Saturday November 11, 1916, the Beaverton Grange No. 234 had its big day as usual once a month and a big day it was. The forenoon session was devoted to the usual grange business, and after dinner the social hour which was certainly very interesting. The following program was very ably rendered.

A paper, Thanksgiving 100 years ago, by Mrs. Thurston.

Select reading Mrs. Enmons, Vocal duet Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Davis.

Our native birds, do we fully appreciate the service they render us? J. D. Wilmet, followed by a very interesting discussion.

Select reading, Miss Plummer, Mother Goose song by Margaret Tubkor.

A divert event by Mr. Peck, Vocal duet, Mr. and Mrs. Peck.

The roll call from the ritual was a new stunt to which all everyone present read a piece, his or her choice from the ritual. It was remarkable to note that only two out of the large number present chose the same piece. The Grange is going fine. Keep it up. E. E. Swanson, Correspondent.

They are talking of making the loaf of bread smaller. They can't leave anything to build a crust around. Spokane-Spokane-Review.

A western college is going to have a "janitor's course" in its curriculum. We presume the degree will be B. F. Bachelor of Furniture. — Memphis Commercial Appeal.

The ladies of St. Cecilia's church will give a card party Wednesday evening November 22 at the rectory at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Though St. Cecilia's parish has lost a number of exemplary families during the past two years by departure from this district improvements have been continually made until the parish institutions have been brought fully up to date. The finances which are handled exclusively by the Rev. Father O'Flynn were never in better condition as will be shown by the annual report made at the end of each calendar year. The members of the church owe a debt of gratitude to their many non-Catholic friends who have always patronized their affairs so generously and assure these friends that a warm welcome is always extended to services, as well as social where no word will be ever uttered that will hurt their susceptibilities in the least. The Altar Society which has elected as its officers for the past two years, Mesdames Hinchy and J. Liebrich has presented the church with 80 yards of velvet carpet and beos matting which make the interior comfortable and inviting. This is the latest gift of many that the ladies have made in the past few years.
