

DID YOU KNOW IT FROM THE GOOD JUDGE'S LOOKS?

HERE, JUDGE, YOU SET MY FRIEND RIGHT. ISN'T THAT AS LARGE A CHEW AS YOU EVER TAKE?

I DIDN'T KNOW THE JUDGE EVER CHEWED

THAT'S JUST IT--I NEVER WITHOUT IT; BUT YOU NEVER NOTICE IT--PURE TOBACCO AND A SMALL CHEW!

IT seems as though most men had just been waiting and waiting for W-B CUT Chewing. Naturally it should be that way. Tobacco satisfaction and not a big chew is what tobacco lovers want. You couldn't get it the old way—cheap tobacco and excess sweetening. But rich tobacco, shredded, lightly salted, that's what makes tobacco satisfaction—that's why W-B CUT is winning all this popularity.

To the Editor:

It seems like imposing on good nature to ask for more space in your paper to continue this controversy, but in order to further explain my views regarding our town I will say that I am a member of the Chamber of Commerce and was one who supported the petition of that body to the city council as mentioned by Mr. Hedge and if there is anything in my previous communication which signifies that I am satisfied with the present condition of our city, I will have to admit that my knowledge of the English language is quite inefficient. In this town we have the average "small town" problems to contend with. We are too large for a "cross roads" settlement and not large enough for a city and we are obliged to make the best of just what we are.

If "Long Suffering Taxpayer" is really in earnest in his desire to help the town, I will suggest a manner in which he may convert all his energy into efforts along the lines which he advocates. The mayor-elect and at least three of the councilmen have expressed to me their willingness to resign in favor of "Long Suffering Taxpayer" if he will come forward with the proper qualifications.

In this way it will not be necessary for him to wait a year to start his "clean up campaign." Real Taxpayer.

Editor Times:

Since reading in your recent issues, the interesting letters signed "Long Suffering Taxpayer" and "Real Taxpayer," it has occurred to me that much good might accrue to the community if the efforts of these two taxpayers could be expended harmoniously toward the improvement of our town.

With this object in view and to the end that hostilities may cease, I venture to offer to act as intermediary between these two belligerents.

If actuated by sincere motives, my name may be secured from the editor, by either of you and after having secured my name you are to feel free to consult me, regarding the settlement of your differences, with full assurance that unless satisfactory terms can be arranged, the names of the parties to the controversy will not be divulged.

Give this a thought, "Taxpayer" and let us get together for the good of our community.

I also extend to each of you an invitation to become a member of the Beaverton Chamber of Commerce.

Respectfully yours,

Neutral.

Ernest Barnes and family will run the Daniels place over on the Barnes road, the coming year. John Smearman had charge of this property during the past year. The new rock quarry is on the southeast corner of this place where John Trachsel gets material for the Skookumville highway.

Adolph Schaffner, living on the Bacon ranch east of town, lost two fine calves last week, the thieves entering the barn at night. It is supposed they knocked the calves in the head and took them to Portland.

Francis Leis had an attack of blood poison last week in his injured foot but is getting along all right at this writing. He got hurt at the Christensen rock quarry last fall. He now receives $35 per month from the state accident commission.

Leap year caught quite a number of bachelors around Beaverton and the bells will soon ring again, it is rumored. Still there are a number of old timers frying potatoes and washing dishes yet.

The Chinamen on the Reghetta place intend to move immediately, the recent fire in which their fine team perished will bring them bad luck if they dwell there longer—this is what the boss says.

Frank Allen and family will move over to Newberg soon, where he will run the big place belonging to his father-in-law Mr. Allenbaugh.

August Desinger and Charles Warren were present Saturday night at Kinton High School and enjoyed the big entertainment.

The O. E. station at Tigard was also entered and looted Tuesday night. More than likely by the same gang of crooks as the jobs were very similar.
