F. B. Lacy of Bull Mountain, southwest of Tigard was in Beaverton Tuesday and is getting ready to move to Portland for the winter and plans to go to Eastern Oregon in the spring. He has several young sows and pigs for sale and is offering them through The Times. His ad appears in another column.

Andrew Olson, who lives near Tobias station, has as fine a ten-acre tract for his home as one would care to see. He also looks after a five-acre tract belonging to C. F. Miles of Roseburg and between the two he is as busy as any man could wish to be.

L. C. Tobias, from whom Tobias station takes its name, was a Portland visitor Monday. Mr. Tobias has an ideal farm home and he keeps it in the best of shape, to his own advantage and to the delight of all who pass his charming estate.

H. A. Neilson of Aloha left Monday for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he enters the aviation service of the United States Army. He has leased his greenhouses to J.J. Campbell of Aloha.

People who have the good fortune to live in the neighborhood of Aloha have reason to be proud of the store kept at that place by S. W. Buck & Sons. These live merchants have recently added to their store a much-needed addition and have one of the cleanest and most inviting stocks of merchandise to be found in the state. Owing to the trouble with his eyes which has afflicted the elder son for several months, this firm has been handicapped by shortage of help and have in consequence curtailed several intended expansions in their business, but with the coming of the spring and the activity attendant upon the opening of the work on the highway, the three Bucks will be found to be as live as ever and ready for the new era of prosperity that is dawning for Washington County.

F. W. Livermore, who sells building material down at Huber, has been spending part of his time during the dull wintertime working on his farm, helping the boys put the place in shape. He now has 125 acres under cultivation and most of it is already in crop. He has one of the finest homes in that section. He is also president of the Bank of Beaverton and has many other interests that render him one of Washington County's most substantial citizens.

Mrs. B. A. Rohse, who has been visiting her mother in San Francisco, returned home Saturday. It was her first visit to the California city since the earthquake and she thoroughly enjoyed the trip. She still claims to be a daughter of Oregon and the home of the Native Sons has no charm to lure her away from Beaverton.

Red Cross Ladies Finish Thirty Pajama Suits and Are Complimented by Portland Chapter.

The ladies of the Beaverton Red Cross turned in 30 pajama suits and a dozen bandages from their session yesterday and received high compliment from the Portland Chapter for the manner in which the work was done.

Portland officials stated that the only regret they had was that the Beaverton ladies had not sent in their work sooner so it might have been used as samples in instructing other auxiliaries.

REINDEER OF THE FAR NORTH

Herd of Animals Imported Several Years Ago From Labrador Have Greatly Increased in Numbers.

Though perhaps most of us, young and old, associate reindeer chiefly with Santa's jingling bells, still there are, besides the dear, familiar phantom reindeer, the very real reindeer who are serving a very real and much-needed mission among the people of the far North, among whom Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell works and lives his life of brotherly aid and uplift, Mary M. Davis writes in Our Dumb Animals.

About six years ago Doctor Grenfell imported from Labrador a herd of reindeer, number about 400, which during their six years in Newfoundland have increased to somewhere between 700 and 1,000. The idea of bringing them from their native Lapland was suggested to Doctor Grenfell by the great abundance of reindeer moss in Newfoundland. The reasons for the experiment are many and far reaching. The reindeer are valuable, not only for their rich and delicious milk—which would be a boon indeed to the dwellers of that northern part of Newfoundland in which Doctor Grenfell works—but also are invaluable as beasts of burden. In every way they are as well adapted to the requirements of the North as are the Komatik dogs, which in many ways are an absolute menace to the development of the country.

Death to the Puppies.
The details of the snatching from this life of four brindle Boston bulls in the prime of their puppyhood were recited when a woman reviewed her married life in the court of domestic relations in New York. "Only last week," she said, "my bulldog, Ida, had a family that would have been worth $200 if it had grown. My husband took him to a veterinarian and the doctor told him if they wouldn't take milk out of a saucer to put some milk in his own mouth, but a nipple in his mouth and feed them that way, just like dog fanciers do. At first he didn't even want to do it."
"Well," said the court, "and what has that to do with the case?"
"Because when he did do it, I tell you, the dogs died."

Africa Second Largest.

Africa is the second largest of the continental divisions of the earth, containing 11,632,000 square miles. Europe contains 3,871,004; Asia, 17,470,291; North America, 7,110,000; South America, 7,344,000. At the outbreak of the present war, August, 1914, European states had established protectorates over it. By agreement, Great Britain controlled about 3,700,000 square miles; France, 4,422,000; Germany, 981,000; Belgium, 900,000; Portugal, 704,000; Spain, 502,000, with native ownership ignored everywhere. These areas of control have undergone material changes since the war began and no doubt will be further changed at its conclusion. The different areas have been held and governed as colonies, the only politics being a contest among the nations to obtain and hold as much as possible. It has been what might be called in common phrase "a grab game" on a large scale, with a contestant as the spoils.

perous residents of that section. Recently he received word from his brother that the entire ownership of the mills had been acquired by the two and that he must hurry with all speed to the East in order that they might be able to care for the government contract which they have for 18,000 woolen army blankets in addition to the regular business which in itself is no small item. Mr. Rose will therefore dispose of his property at Huber, at Hillsboro and in Portland and be ready to depart about the first of the month.

This has been his fifth trip to Oregon but he says it will not be his last, for he likes Oregon and Washington County in particular and merely goes east for the business advantage that will accrue to him. He has proven a valuable addition to this section of Washington County during the five years he has been here and it is with regret that those who have come to know him will learn of his intended departure.

Judge D.B. Reasoner was a Beaverton visitor yesterday after having been over the highway on an inspection trip. Judge Reasoner has made an excellent County Judge and has given to all sections of the county a fair and impartial treatment that speaks volumes for his impartial and judicial mind, a quality only too rarely met in public officials. Should he decide to be a candidate for re-election, he is apt to have very little opposition, for anyone who ran against him would be wasting time to talk to the voters who have followed Judge Reasoner's course in his office.
