Entered in the Postoffice, at Beaverton, Oregon, as second class matter.

President Wilson has vetoed the immigration bill recently passed by a large majority vote of Congress, because of the literacy test provided therein. That there is two-thirds majority necessary to pass it over the president's veto is indicated by the vote on the bill but, from past indications several democrats might change their minds when they hear the crack of the trainer's whip. It is safe to say that a majority of the American people believe that before a citizen can vote intelligently now days he should be able to understand what he is voting.

It is safe to say that a goodly number of appealing eyes are looking toward that 3,000 gallons of old wine recently unearthed at Mountindale. Some suggest that it ought to be kept at Hillsboro for medicinal purposes. We have even heard some motorists suggest that the wine being so thick with age ought to be mixed with gasoline. However we venture to say that Old Man Law will take care of it so none other need worry.

The leak at Washington is being followed from the stock market to its source. However it's hard to keep the democrats on the trail.

Lawson may be a "Crazy Ass" but he spilled the oats just the same.

Deer that wander along the right of way of the Southern Pacific can now feel secure in the full protection of the Company's Safety First rules. For Superintendent J. D. Drennan of the Sacramento Division has told his enginemen not to run over them. They get dazed in the glare of the headlights at night and many times are injured. The engineman will momentarily dim their lights to let the frightened animals regain their presence of mind and jump to safety. Drennan has taken this action at the request of President F. M. Newbert of the California Fish and Game Commission. He adds in his instructions as a caution that engineers will not do this should they be approaching a public road crossing or wherever it might endanger the safety of train operation.

Mrs. Alice Dixon, of Eugene, was a visitor last week with Mrs. Frank Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maller of Banks, were visitors over the week at the S. H. Davis residence.

Alfred Davies spent a few days in Salem the last of the week visiting relatives and listening to the big noise at the capitol.

Bert Upshaw, who is connected with a bank in Sheridan, Or., was a visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Upshaw for a few days the past week.

Frank Upshaw, son of Rev. W. L. Upshaw, and wife of Portland accompanied by Mr. Clark and family were Sunday visitors at the Upshaw residence.

A corps of surveyors has been running preliminaries up in the Gales Creek country the past two weeks. They are now camped up near Hillside, and expect to get a survey clear into the Tillamook country within a few weeks. It is said that the line will connect at Banks or Wilkesboro, and it is not known whether it will be a feeder to the S. P. or will tie up with the United. Timber owners are said to be behind the project—anyway the engineers are getting their money.—Argus.

The entertainment given Friday night by the Parent-Teachers to raise funds for a playshed was everything that could be wished as a success. All the numbers were well prepared and all were well received. The large auditorium was packed almost to capacity by an appreciative audience both local and from out of town. It is safe to say that the biggest hit of the evening was the quartet, who were called back several times, owing in part to the surprising display of certain vocal attainments by one of the members. Later in the season, the exact date has not yet been decided upon, there is to be another entertainment for the same purpose.

HEAR WITHOUT EARS

Police and Detectives Are Using Lip Reading in Place of the Dictagraph.

Thousands of deaf people are today throwing away all hearing devices and enjoying all conversation. This method is easily and quickly acquired thru our system. Absolutely the only thing of its kind in the country. Our proposition is entirely original. We guarantee results, it will amaze you. Cost is trifling. See what new New-International Encyclopedia says on Lip Reading. Hundreds of people with normal hearing are taking up Lip Reading with for the many additional benefits gained. You can understand what the actors are saying in the moving pictures. You can understand what people are saying just as far away as you can see them. The eye understands beyond the range of hearing. Send no money, but mention this paper and state whether or not you are deaf. All particulars will be sent to you absolutely free and with no expense to you. Address, School of Lip Language, Kansas City, Missouri. (Pd Adv)
