FACE the FACTS

LET us face the facts. The war situation is critical. Unless the Allies fight as they never yet have fought, defeat threatens. Hungry men cannot fight at their best; nor hungry nations. France, England, and Italy are going hungry unless we feed them.

Wheat Savings—They must have wheat. It is the best food to fight on. It is the easiest to ship. We alone can spare it to them. By saving just a little—less than a quarter of what we ate last year—we can support those who are fighting our battles. And we can do it without stinting ourselves. We have only to substitute another food just as good.

The Corn of Plenty—Corn is that food. There's a surplus of it. Providence has been generous in the hour of our need. It has given us corn in such bounty as was never known before. Tons of corn. Train-loads of corn. Five hundred million bushels over and above our regular needs. All we have to do is to learn to appreciate it. Was ever patriotic duty made so easy? And so clear?

America's Own Food—Corn! It is the true American food. The Indians, hardest of races, lived on it. Our forefathers adopted the diet and conquered a continent. For a great section of our country it has long been the staff of life. How well the South fought on it, history tells. Now it can help America win a world war.

Learn Something—Corn! It isn't one food. It's a dozen. It's a cereal. It's a vegetable. It's a bread. It's a dessert. It's nutritious; more food value in it, dollar for dollar, than meat or eggs or most other vegetables. It's good to eat; how good you don't know until you've had corn-bread properly cooked. Best of all, it's plentiful and it's patriotic.

Corn's Infinite Variety—How much do you know about corn? About how good it is? About the many delicious ways of cooking it? And what you miss by not knowing more about it? Here are a few of its uses:

Johnny was at the concert and he was badly bored. His mother was uneasy, for Johnny was disturbing others, but when a girl began to sing "The Minstrel Boy" and reached the line "His father's sword he girded on," Johnny was alive with excitement.
"You like this, Johnny?" said his mother. "It is—" "Be quiet, mother, do," said Johnny impatiently. "I want to see what happens to him when his father gets home."

SCHOOL TO BECOME AUXILIARY LOCAL RED CROSS

Father Le Miller Receives Consent of High Church Official, Adds His Approval and School is 100 per Cent

St. Cecilia's school will organize a Junior Red Cross formally on this afternoon, although the school is already actually 100 per cent Red Cross.

As a part of the exercises of the day, the flag will be floated ceremonially from the flag staff.

Definite action along this line was taken some weeks ago when Father Le Miller received from the Archbishop of Baltimore the communication published below and at once gave his approval to the plan as follows:

In conformity with the following appeal and because of our desire to be useful in this time of crisis to our Government, as head and Director of the Catholic Parochial school, I hereby give my full consent to having every child and pupil of the school to be made a Junior member of the Red Cross, in the sense as meant by the President and voiced by the Highest Church Authority in the United States. Respectfully, L. A. LeMiller, Pastor, Beaverton Parish and Director St. Cecilia's Parish School.

The Red Cross in the Schools.

January 21, 1918. To the Teachers and Pupils of our Parochial Schools: The President of our beloved country, who is also President of the Red Cross, has issued a call for all schools of whatever kind to become auxiliaries of the Red Cross and each pupil in each school a Junior Member of the Red Cross. His desire is not only to add the efforts of all the children to the work of the Red Cross in sustaining the fighting forces of the nation, but to teach by practice to the children those lessons of unselfish love and service which must be a part of the education of every child if this republic is to endure as a Christian nation, and remain the haven of Freedom.

In this time of peril our country needs the services of the children as well as of the adults; and in the days to come she will need still more the clear heads, the honest hearts and strong and steady hands of men and women who today are school children.

Therefore I ask, and urge, that each of you make full response to the call of our President, and that each school become a Red Cross Auxiliary, thus making every pupil a Junior Member. It is a privilege, no less than a duty, for the children to help bear the burden of the momentous hours of America's trial, and in the days of her gratitude for final victory, to rejoice that they have helped to preserve her as the home of Liberty. Faithfully yours in Christ, J. Card. Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore.
