Red Cross News.

Beaverton Red Cross met Wednesday, March 13, forty being present.

A helpful talk on flour conservation was given by Miss Mills.

Six new members were taken in. Miss Mills will be here again on April 3 to demonstrate to the ladies the art of bread making using the flour substitutes.

All ladies of the vicinity are urged to come and hear her.

The Red Cross ladies have decided to tie or quilt quilts and solicit orders. The money made in this way to be used to purchase Red Cross supplies.

Scout News.

The boy scouts of Beaverton helped very much in cleaning up the town last Friday. They put in a cord of wood for the Congregational church. They have divided up the troop into three patrols. The names of the scouts are: Elert Carstens, Leroy Craig, Archie Masters, Charles Fry, Percy Fry, Albert Rossi, Cecil Barnes, George Thompson, Philip Thompson, Lowell Tallman, Freeman Rowe, Ernest Masters.

Fred Stump has been accepted as a candidate for a boy scout.

Elert Carstens, patrol leader of the Bob White patrol has the American measles.

The scouts are very busy these days getting signatures to the red postcards. These postcards are applications for W. S. S. thrift stamps. You sign the card, give the number of W. S. S. or thrift stamps you want, the scout mails it, and if you live on a mail route the carrier brings the stamps and you pay him for them. If you get your mail at the postoffice the stamps are delivered to you there.

So far as is known two scouts have secured signatures to the cards.
