The Pacific Coast district is over the top. It has reached its quota. The goal is attained, according to the announcement of the Federal Reserve Bank of the Twelfth District. But not so in Beaverton district. That goal was reached before the drive officially started. But Eastern Washington County has gone on and on. The goal was reached and doubled and trebled and now nears five times the quota allotted to this district. But the good patriots here have gone on and on. They have kept buying and renewing their fealty to the flag. Their sons are in the army, the navy, the marines. Some are in Sunny France. Others are preparing to go. But those who stay at home can do their part.

If the rest of America had done as well accordingly as has Eastern Washington County, it would have been pretty dark for Kaiser Bill today.

But we will not stop until the Third Liberty Loan is over-subscribed. We are so near to five times the quota that we ought to have the other star. Let's get it. There are several men in this district who have not bought a bond. There are others who can buy another. Let's get 34 of them in the notion before Saturday night and make good our ambition of 500 per cent. Do it today.

The hundred million dollars given to the Red Cross a year ago has been well spent. It has done a world of good at a time when it was most sorely needed. But the fund is gone and the war wages on. The work is not done.

The week of May 20 has been designated by the President as Red Cross week and the public of America is to be appealed to for another hundred millions.

The appeal will not go unheeded and Washington County will do its part as it has always done in the past.

Better fill the woodshed and coal bin now. The supply will not be great this summer with high wages, scarcity of labor and difficulty of transportation.

What could be more appropriate than to have a Liberty celebration in Beaverton?

It's about time to think about what we are going to do on the Fourth. An old-time celebration would be in keeping this year.

Democracy is the name of a new publication put out in Portland by W. M. Leach and Bernard Mulrine, two old-time newspaper men. Here's success to them.

The County Agricultural Council has out the first number of the Washington County Agricultural Council News, a bright, 12-page monthly edited by County Agent N. C. Jamison. It is destined to prove a valuable bulletin to the farmers of the county.
