The Honor Guard held their regular meeting Monday evening in the Red Cross rooms.

Arrangements will be made to organize a first aid class at the next meeting which will be under the direction of Dr. Mason.

All members are requested to study the first chapter in their Red Cross first aid book and be present for roll call at 8:00 p. m. sharp Monday the 24th at the Red Cross rooms.

A week end hiking party was also planned for the near future.

The last Honor Guard dance having been a success financially as well as socially the girls decided to give another Saturday evening June 22.

All But Two Counties Wheatless.

I am advised by Mr. Arthur M. Churchill, State Conservation Chairman, that all but two counties in Oregon have gone on a voluntary wheatless basis. Portland millers and jobbers have recently adopted a resolution undertaking to sell no more wheat flour within the state until July 1, the action after that time to be determined by the general wheat and flour situation.

Window cards are being prepared for all retail dealers who are cooperating in the voluntary "no flour sales" program, as a recognition by the Food Administration of the loyalty of these dealers.

As a result of this general action toward conservation of wheat I was informed at the millers and jobbers meeting in Portland that the sales of wheat flour have been reduced to slightly over 25 per cent of last years consumption.

Oregon can surely claim to be doing its patriotic share in feeding the starving among our Allies and supplying the wants of the boys "over there."

An unexpectedly large number of families are turning flour over to the government in response to the recent call. We hope to accumulate this flour during the present week for shipment to Portland where the Milling Division will prepare it for immediate export by one of the Portland built ships.

All dealers in the county are authorized to receive from loyal people who desire to turn it over to the government, any flour which is in good condition, paying therefore the retail price paid by the purchaser, the dealers drawing upon the State Food Administrator for the amount so paid.

Yours truly,
CHAS. E. WELLS,
County Administrator.

BOY SCOUT NEWS.

The Scouts had their hike. Four boys and the Assistant Scoutmaster went. The next morning they were joined by several more of the boys.

One of the boys who went out overnight took only enough food for one meal and expected it to last for two. When he got home he felt starved.

As there are said to be coyotes out there, and as it is rumored that there is a wolf, they put a guard around camp. The watches were divided so that two boys kept watch from bed time to midnight, and then two more from midnight till morning. But they practiced scouting during the time they stayed.

that is just now," said County Food Administrator Wells, yesterday. "It is such citizenry as this that makes it possible for this country to face a situation such as was shown by the Food Survey May 1 without despair. That survey showed a visible supply of 23 million bushels of wheat as against 58 million bushels on May 1, 1917, (not including flour stocks). Think of it. Under ordinary conditions that would spell panic, with the consumer paying $25, $35, perhaps $50 per barrel for flour. But what happened? Except that we had to eat some bread that didn't look natural, and eat more spruds and 'garden sass' nothing serious developed so far as we can see. But something happened to old General Consumption (of wheat); he dropped to about 25 per cent of his size in May, 1917, and as a result the export of food stuff 'rambled right along.' This is a result that ought to make eating hay agreeable to the real loyal American. The American people can do any old thing if they think it is needed."
