HOLDING UP YOUR END.

—W. S. S.—

Today marks the close of the War Savings drive which is to add two billions of dollars to the war funds of the nation from the war savings of the people. This means $100 per family for the year. It is based on a population basis, whereas the Liberty Loans are based on a property, or bank deposit basis.

Every family has a duty in the War Savings drive. There can be no excuse. Every family has the means of subsistence. In the days gone by, no nation has been so wasteful, so extravagant, so prodigal of every resource as has America. Luxury, extravagance and waste held us up to a standard of living far above any other nation on earth. But the time is here when we must curb that extra high standard that we may share with our less fortunate neighbors in their extremity.

Uncle Sam calls upon all of his children to curb their appetites to the amount of $100 per year per family and the average must be maintained. If one family fails, another must do more. It is not an American idea that any but the most unfortunate should fail to carry their just load. The Liberty Bond drives were based on wealth as represented by bank deposits and there the burden of assisting the government in proportion to worldly possessions was placed on those who had accumulated. Here the duty is to save and there will be few families who may not find opportunity to curb needless expenditures to the amount of two dollars per week for the year.

This drive is to encourage people to save and invest that saving in Uncle Sam's securities, the best and surest treasurer in the world.

No one can deny the value of habits of thrift; no one can gain-say that a reserve for an emergency is wisdom on the part of every family or individual; and no one doubts that Uncle Sam will care for that reserve better than banks, or life insurance or trust companies or safety vaults or old stockings.

Is there a family so poor in this school district that they cannot save $2 per week? We do not believe there is, if that family contain one able-bodied man or woman.

The quota for this district is large. But it is no larger for our population than the quota of any other school district in the land. Will we hold up our end? To be sure we will. And The Times is willing to predict that there will be few families here who fail to hold up their end in support of Uncle Sam.

THRIFT.

—W. S. S.—

Thrift is a virtue which the sages of all ages have taught, but no age has taught it more forcibly than the present is teaching it. Today it is being taught in the name of patriotism but it is being taught efficiently and it is safe to say that the coming generation will see less want than any age that has been recorded in the history of America. And it is all because people are forming the habit of saving. The man or woman who has a few hundred dollars laid away is never in want. And the person who has once laid away a tidy sum and known the joy of feeling safe in case of emergency will not quickly squander that little nest-egg.

Viewed from the purely selfish angle of the welfare of the individual, this campaign for War Savings is one of the best things that ever happened in America.

Last Saturday afternoon the Gestra children were snapping matches in the shotgun upstairs in their home. They were alone, Mrs. Gestra being in Portland. There happened to be a pile of books and magazines lying there. A lit match fell in these and the paper caught fire. As the fire burned more it attracted much attention. George Holsheimer and O. Sheperd saved many things. Many others helped. Mrs. Gestra had her furniture all ready to move to Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stohler of Buxton had their furniture moved in as they were to occupy the house after Gestra's had moved. So two sets of furniture were burned besides many cans and jars of fruit and vegetables which Mrs. Stohler had "put up." The surrounding buildings were saved. Gestra's are now in Portland while Stohler's are living in Rutt's store building. O. Sheperd called and notified Mr. Neill by long distance telephone.

Miss Dora Schlottman and Willie Schlottman of Portland visited their home Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Keehn spent the week end with her parents. A young coon who just knew his biz,

Tried to kiss an acquaintance of his.

Said she, "Dat can't be

'Less you's stronger than me,
But honey, I reckon you is."

The total sales of War Savings and Thrift Stamps for the Portland postoffice were $200,773.77 for the month of May, making the grand total for this office from December 1 to May 31 $1,030,345.59.

Mrs. Allan Pugh visited Miss O'Loughlin last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thurston are sacrificing much of their time to make W. S. S. week a success.

UNCLE HI SAYS

Although I am troubled lately with a crick in my bones I certainly will endeavor, as everyone should, to attend the patriotic meeting Friday night, June 28, at the Barnes school house at 8 p. m.

These are busy times now. Nearly everyone is making hay.

"Who painted Brown's house?"

"I think he said it was done by Fitz and Starts."

Kaiser Wilhelm, here he lies!
He started out toward the skies
But went below against his will
And, as in life is living still.

J. B. Buck of Aloha, who has suffered much with his eyes the past year, has spent the past two months in the woods near Black Rock and is gradually improving. He was in town Wednesday, being home for a short vacation on account of a sprained ankle. He says that there is a veritable settlement of Beaverton, Aloha and Cooper Mountain boys in the woods where he is working. He will be home until after the 4th of July, but will then return to camp.

Mole Pelts Sold Well.

—W. S. S.—

County Agent Jamison's report of the mole pelt pool shows that the 1760 pelts sold through his office brought $521 to the boys and girls of this county, besides the additional $176 for the bounty which the county gives for ridding the fields of these pests.

The furs were sold to H. Liebes & Co. of Portland and the price received, an average of almost 30 cents per pelt, is exceptionally good as some of the other counties sold for as low as 22 cents. This proves that Washington has an exceptionally good County Agent and that mole pelts, like everything else, attain perfection here.

Another pool will be held soon for those who failed to get in on this one, or who have made additional catches since then.
