

BEAVERTON COWS RANK HIGH IN THE JUNE TESTS

R. B. Denny's Herd Makes Fine Showing, Ranking Third in The County for Month.

Figures taken from the report of C. H. Bryant, official tester for the Washington County Cow Testing Association show that the herd of 20 cows owned by R. B. Denney of Beaverton is entitled to no small amount of the laurels for the month of June. Mr. Denny's herd did not rank highest, either in milk production nor in butterfat, but it is the only herd of considerable size that made a creditable showing for the month. Mr. Denney's herd of 20 cows averaged 783 pounds of milk and 41.4 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds which made excellent records were: A. E. Wescott of Banks, four cows averaging 1118lb of milk and 60.3lb of butterfat; Robb Bros., eight cows averaging 793lb of milk and 45.1lb of butterfat.

Three hundred eighty three cows were tested and the average for the cows in the association was 711lb of milk and 33.4lb of butterfat. The highest producing cow was Princess, owned by A. E. Wescott, with a record for the month of 1333lb of milk and 72lb of fat. The highest producing grade cow was a grade Jersey owned by L. R. Campbell which produced 1155lb of milk and 63.5lb of fat.

Will Behrman, A. B. Flint, R. B. Denney, Ferd Groner, J. J. Van Kleek, Frank Connell, Bruce Schulmerich, Thos. Williams, Henry Behrman, Robb Bros., A. E. Wescott, L. R. Campbell, and W. N. Hawthorn are the owners of herds in which there are cows producing over 50 pounds of fat. About one-fourth of the cows in the association produced over 40 pounds of fat.

Threshermen Will Meet Today.

A meeting of the threshermen of the county has been called by the president, William Hansen, for 8:00 o'clock this (Friday) evening at the courthouse in Hillsboro. Rates to be charged for threshing the different kinds of grain this season will be determined, plans for the most efficient harvesting of the crops will be discussed and the advisability of assigning each machine to a certain district will be considered. Plans for putting every machine in first class repair before the season starts is another important part of the conference. The Food Administration is co-operating and the County Food Administrator is urging every thresherman to attend the meeting.

Corporal Elmer Stipe, who is in charge of seven men in the Benson Polytechnic School at Portland and who gave up a profitable garage and plumbing business here to help keep Uncle Sam's pipes in repair, was out home Saturday afternoon and Sunday, returning to his training Monday morning. Elmer says he likes army life immensely, but that if anyone is looking for a soft snap in the service, they have a rude awakening coming to them.

State of Oregon, County of Washington: SS. I, Doy Gray, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. DOY GRAY, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8 day of July, 1918. F. W. CADY, Notary Public. My commission expires June 22, 1920. Correct—Attest: F. W. LIVERMORE, B. K. DENNEY, Directors. 28.

Mrs. Ida M. Carroll, formerly a compositor in the state printing office at Sacramento, but now holding a situation on the Oregonian, and who owns a home out on Route 2, was a visitor in this vicinity over Sunday and made The Times a pleasant call Monday while on her way back to work.

Mrs. F. M. Hobart returned home Wednesday of last week from an extended visit with her friends and relatives in Gaston, Cornelius and Hillsboro. She found that her garden had been well cared for during her absence by the loyal girls of the Beaverton Honor Guard.

The Misses Mary, Jennie and Margaret Fitzpatrick and Goldie Vincent attended the early part of the celebration at Hillsboro, and then went to Portland for the later part of the Fourth. They report an excellent dance at Council Crest where they met many Beaverton people, both present and former residents, as well as several boys in the service well known here.

Uncle Sam wants to know about our readers. He is asking us to tell him. We cannot tell him the things we do not know; so we are going to ask all those readers who have been receiving this paper and who have not actually subscribed to the present publisher, to send us one of the blanks on this page so that we may answer Uncle Sam's questions truthfully.

If you paid for this paper to a former publisher, tell us the date to which your receipt shows you have paid; then send us one dollar for a year's subscription and we will extend your time to one year beyond the time to which you paid the former publisher; or if not convenient to send the dollar now, sign the other blank and send it to us. We will not be able to send the paper after next week to those who do not pay in advance or give us assurance that they will pay. During the past seven or eight months the paper has been sent to all names on the subscription list when we took over the paper. We did this because we wanted every man who had at any time paid for The Times to get what he had paid for, regardless of profit to us. We believe we have done our part; we think that we have been fair to all who ever paid for the paper and we feel that those who have received the paper should now pay us for it or signify their intention of doing so. We have been here long enough to convince the most skeptical that we mean business and are no fly-by-night affair, seeking to attach a few dollars by means of paid-in-advance subscriptions. We have put a plant in here that speaks much for the permanence of the publication and we want to assure you here and now that if you pay a dollar for The Times, you will get your dollar's worth and that if anything should interfere with the completion of our part of the contract, you will get back the unearned portion of your dollar.

So to those few who have not already verified their subscription to me, I want to say that you can send me your dollar for a year's subscription with full confidence that you will get that year's subscription and that if anything interferes with my part of the contract, you will be paid back the unearned portion of your dollar.

Or, if You Haven't the Dollar handy, Use this Blank. Your Credit is Good.

I haven't a dollar handy, but I will pay for The Beaverton Times before the year is out.
